Luncheon Features Seasonal Motif

Using a July Fourth theme, Mrs. Lynn Cooper, Jr., Mrs. Frank Jones, Mrs. George Cornelison and Mrs. Merlyn Veren entertained with a luncheon at the Cooper home on Thursday.

Red, white and blue flowers were effectively arranged with other tokens to carry out the Independence Day idea. In the living room blue hydrangea and red roses were combined on a white drum with eagles. In the dining room a vase of fire-cracker design held red and white gladioli with blue Queen Anne's lace and rockets.

Luncheon was served at small tables laid throughout the receiving rooms. These were appointed with carnations and miniature flags.

Out-of-town guests included Mrs. Callie Gault, of North Augusta, and Mrs. Ernest Reeves, Jr., of Laurens.

MRS. LONG —Yorkborough Portrait

MISS PATTERSON, MR. LONG WED AT DAVIDSON STREET BAPTIST CHURCH

Miss Miriam Loraine Patterson became the bride of James Shannon Long Saturday at 7:00 p. m. in the Davidson Street Baptist Church.

Rev. Clyde Peterson heard the vows. Ferrell Long, brother of the groom, and Miss Martha Joan Reeder, Vocalist, were accompanied by Mrs. Allen Young, organist.

Mrs. Long is the daughter of Mrs. Jesse Bevard Patterson of this city. The groom's parents are Mr. and Mrs. James Lester Long of Joanna.

The groom chose his father as best man. Ushers were Wallace Patterson, brother of the bride, and L. M. Long, brother of the groom.

Miss Iris Hughes served as the bride's maid of honor. Miss Carolyn Long, sister of the groom, and Miss Patsy Campbell were bridesmaids. Designed with petal sleeves, their daytime-length dresses were aqua nylon sheer over taffeta. The midriff was embroidered lace with aqua ribbon, and their circular veils were held by matching bandeau of velveteen. Miss Hughes carried a cascade of asters ranging from deep to light pink. The other attendants carried cascades of light pink asters.

The bride, wearing the dress designed and made by her sister-in-law, was given in marriage by her father. The sleeveless empire dress made of Chantilly lace over satin, featured a sweetheart front neckline and a flared skirt. Soft pleats at center sections of the back formed the satin chapel train. A painted stand-up collar and long pointed sleeves accented the lace jacket.

Her fingertip veil was held by a pillbox hat of satin covered with pearls, and she carried an orchid on a white Bible. After greeting the guests, she changed to a multi-color dress of chiffon over taffeta with matching accessories for her wedding trip.

The couple are both graduates of Clinton High School. Mr. Long has completed his first year at Presbyterian College and is employed at Joanna. They will be at home in Joanna after July 9.

Eichelberger and Mrs. D. O. Rhame entertained a few friends in the immediate neighborhood for an informal tea on Tuesday afternoon.

A large white compote filled with roses shading from pink to red and a bouquet of daisies and hydrangeas made lovely piano and table arrangements in the living room. In the den mixed colorful summer flowers were used.

Guests were invited into the dining room where refreshments of sandwiches, cookies, assorted dainties and punch were served in buffet style. Pink roses in an antique bowl centered the tea table which was overlaid with a handmade cloth.

Following the ceremony, Mrs. Bill Blalock, of Holly Hill, oldest daughter of Mrs. Gambrell, entertained with an informal reception.

An arrangement of white gladioli and white chrysanthemums adorned the mantel. Lighted tapers were used in three tiered candelabra with the wedding cake to appoint the refreshment table from which punch and dainties were served.
