

Thornwell Loses To Calhoun Falls, 32-7

For their third game of the season, Thornwell will go to Hickory Tavern Friday night.

Thornwell Orphanage lost to Calhoun Falls in football Friday night, 32-7. The visitors proved too strong. However, Howard Higginbotham, Thornwell right half, was one of the brightest stars of the game.

He scored Thornwell's only touchdown when he took a pass from Bobby Jones and raced 74 yards to the goal line. Higginbotham carried the ball 14 times and ran up 154 yards.

Ross of Calhoun Falls was another sparkling figure. He made touchdown runs of 25 and 40 yards and played well on defense.

Calhoun Falls 12 7 0 13-32
Thornwell 0 7 0 0-7

Scoring: Calhoun Falls — touch-downs: Sorrow, Smith, Ross 2, Hozey. Extra points—Smith 2, runs: Thornwell — touch-down: Higginbotham. Extra point: Cookson, run.

Mrs. Sadler To Represent Theatre

Four plays are to be presented and those interested may obtain season tickets from Mrs. Sadler.

The first production, which is "Okla-homa," is scheduled for the first week in October.

WLBG to Operate FM Radio Station

The Federal Communications Commission has granted the application of Laurens-Clinton Broadcasting, Inc. to operate an FM radio station, it was announced from Washington this week.

The company, with offices in Clinton and Laurens operates as Station WLBG.

Mrs. G. B. Fuller

Laurens—Mrs. Lula Cannon Fuller, 76 of Rt. 2, Laurens, died early Thursday afternoon in a local hospital following a year of declining health and an illness of two weeks.

She was the wife of Green B. Fuller who died in 1949. A native of Laurens County, she was the daughter of the late W. T. and Clara Osborne Cannon. She was a member of Lucas Avenue Baptist Church.

Surviving are three sons, Kelly, Henry and G. B. Fuller, Jr., all of Laurens; seven daughters, Mrs. Lewis Mundy, Mrs. R. O. Putnam, Mrs. Buford Banks of Winnsboro, Mrs. A. B. Lintley of Greenwood, and Mrs. Edward Brownlee of Greenville; two brothers, A. M. (Gus), and John Cannon, both of Clinton; one sister, Mrs. Daisy Sprouse of Laurens; 28 grandchildren, and 28 great-grandchildren.

Funeral services were conducted Saturday at 5:00 p. m. at Lucas Avenue Baptist Church by the Rev. Alvin O'Shields. Burial was in Rose Hill Cemetery.

Folk Music Favorites

Coming to the Midway

Lester Platt and Earl Scruggs and their Foggy Mountain Boys are scheduled for a personal appearance engagement at the Midway Theatre Thursday night, Sept. 22.

Long famous as an act that makes more personal appearances each year than any country music stars, the Platt and Scruggs group has recently catapulted to a national fame.

With Scruggs on the banjo and Platt on the guitar, the four Foggy Mountain Boys are exponents of the fiddle, mandolin, bass and guitar.

The group travels in a specially fitted motor coach and makes more than 200 appearances each year, in addition to radio and television shows.

FARMS... AND FOLKS

WINTER GRAZING

We can have good winter grazing here by seeding it early and fertilizing it well, according to our extension agronomist, Hugh Woodlee. Drought often keeps us from getting it on in time. Here is another place a little irrigation comes in mighty well.

This good winter grazing will not only carry cattle through but a 3-year experiment completed at Clemson shows it will fatten steers cheaper than you can do it with grain feeding in dry lot. And these forage fattened steers graded out just as well as the grain fed ones. One steer was used per acre on this winter grazing. Others were turned on it, too, or hay cut when it built up a surplus growth. In this work crimson clover and rye grass were used, 20 pounds of the former and 40 pounds of the latter per acre as early in September as conditions would permit.

CUTTING TIMBER

County Agent Lynn of Fairfield reports: "A very successful saw timber demonstration was held. The purpose of the demonstration was to prove that one 12-inch tree equals two 10-inch trees at the saw mill."

With Scruggs on the banjo and Platt on the guitar, the four Foggy Mountain Boys are exponents of the fiddle, mandolin, bass and guitar.

The group travels in a specially fitted motor coach and makes more than 200 appearances each year, in addition to radio and television shows.

HOG CHOLERA

With low priced hogs, many growers have neglected treating them against cholera. Based on this fact, Clemson's Dr. Carter warned us of the danger of an epidemic. County Agent Alford tells me it almost reached that stage in Colleton last spring. His office coordinated the work of three local veterinarians that treated about 4,500 head.

WATCH FOR SCREW WORMS

You know it appears that science has eradicated the dreaded screw worm from the southeast. But the full cooperation of every farmer is still needed. If any pocket of them is left, it should be showing up now, as it would have had the whole summer to build up. The county agents have reported a number of suspicious cases. But they all turned out to be the old common blow fly.

If you see any suspicious cases of maggot infested wounds between now and frost, be sure to report them to your county agent so specimens can be sent off for positive identification.

BILL BUGS

Bill bugs took a heavy toll on many neglected cornfields this season in Clarendon, according to County Agent Grainger. But, he states, "Control measures did a good job where properly used."

If you have lands infested with this pest on which you plan to put corn next year, it will pay to talk with your county agent about latest control measures before planting next spring.

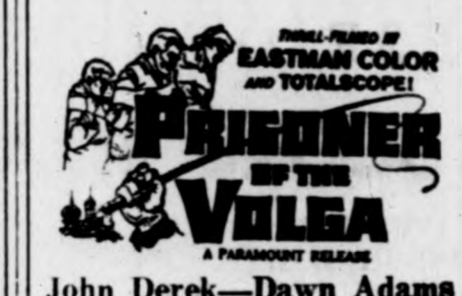

BOYS ARE THAT WAY

A cousin my age from Columbia usually visited us in the Stone Hills in the summer. He always had money that looked big to me, a quarter or more at the time. Ours was an occasional penny, and now and then a whole nickel. That was big money to us. We'd split it several ways buying things, crackers, candy, and the like. For a penny would buy right much stuff then. This cousin always generously shared his bounty with me, so naturally I thought he was OK.

of the hill there below the house at the blacksmith shop. But they didn't carry much stuff we wanted, so we'd take the path to White Rock through Cousin Paul's pasture, about two miles away, at least once a day. The main leisure there was canned Vienna sausage and large sweet crackers. That combination was a dream to us, and I still like it. He was a bit finicky and gave me most of it. I never faltered. We'd get a bottle of Iron Brew to wash it down with. That was something like Coca-Cola before it came.

We played along the pathway home. Through Cousin Paul's pasture our heartbeats always quickened. For a bad bull was thought to roam there and we were warned not to go through there. But we always tried to keep an easy climbing tree in reach.

Soon we came to the rail fence, climbed over, and were out of danger. Then we entered a wooded gorge where a cool spring beckoned. In the languid days of summer, that was a beauty spot for sure. The damp sandy path there was fringed with tender grass and wild flowers, and tiny yellow butterflies flitted over the damp sand. Back a little piece great ferns shot from the verdure, and frogs jumped into the stream as we approached. No sun got in there, for the tall trees closed in overhead and we would linger there in the cool. We'd lay on our stomachs and drink from the spring or use the gourd usually hung on a stake. Soon the day was far spent and we'd play on our way back home.

Change In Farm Housing Regulations

Under a recent change in the eligibility requirements for Farm Housing loans, a farmer who owns a farm that will annually produce for sale or home use at least $400 worth of commodities may, if he meets other eligibility requirements, be able to obtain a Farm Housing loan.

Previously, according to Henry Mitchell, Farmers Home Administration County Supervisor for Laurens County, an applicant had to own a farm that would produce a substantial amount of the operator's income.

Farm Housing loans are made by the Farmers Home Administration and are used to construct and repair needed farm houses and farm service buildings.

Other eligibility requirements for Farm Housing loans remain unchanged. These requirements are that the applicant lacks the resources needed to obtain credit elsewhere, be a citizen of the United States, and have sufficient income from farm and other sources to pay farm operating and family living expenses and meet payments, when due, on his debts.

Applications for this type of credit may be made at the County Office of the Farmers Home Administration located in Room 206, second floor, Federal Savings and Loan Building in Laurens.

CARD OF THANKS

I wish to thank our friends and relatives for their letters, flowers, cards, prayers, the meals served and many deeds of kindness during the illness and at the death of our mother and grandmother, Mrs. Bessie C. Whitmore.

County Personnel To Attend TB Meet In Charleston

Attending the Southern Tuberculosis Conference in Charleston Sept. 14-16, will be officials and volunteer workers of the Laurens County Tuberculosis Association and personnel of the Laurens County Health Department, according to J. Allen Thompson, Jr., president of the association.

The Southern Tuberculosis Conference is an annual regional meeting, under auspices of the National Tuberculosis Association, for the purpose of evaluating the current tuberculosis problem and studying methods for control of this disease.

Separate programs are arranged for physicians, nurses, administrators, and volunteer workers.

The Laurens County Health Department will be represented by Dr. Von A. Long, director, and Mrs. Annie G. Waldrep and Mrs. Martha Lawson, public health nurses.

Attending from the Laurens County Tuberculosis Association will be Mr. and Mrs. W. K. Waits of Joanna, and Mrs. J. C. Bolt of Gray Court, volunteer workers; Mrs. M. M. Teague, the executive secretary; and Mrs. Lucien Bobo of Gray Court, Dr. Alva A. Knight and Dr. M. M. Teague of Laurens, directors.

Region 3, Jaycee Meeting Tonight

The Clinton Junior Chamber of Commerce, for the first time since it was organized, will host a quarterly meeting for all chapters in Region III, this evening, Thursday at 1 o'clock, in the American Legion Hut.

Over one hundred representatives from the twelve chapters comprising this group are expected to attend, as well as state officers and national directors.

Arrangements for the meeting are under the direction of Sam Seawright, local Vice President, and Don Cassels, Regional Vice President from Johnston, will preside as master of ceremonies.

Some of the state officers to be present are National Directors: Frank Hirt, Sumter; Nick Theodore, Greenville; James Smith, Aiken; and uniforms chairman, H. D. Bubb, Cranford of Union.

R. Cooper White, Jr., will show slides of Miss South Carolina.
