He Recalls Saloon Era

BY DR. HERBERT SPAUGH

and left it up to the law. It didn't work. Crime and bootlegging followed.

Then we modified the law in 1933. First beer, then liquor, by local option, state liquor stores. Now the cry is for liquor by the drink, which means bars again. But to make things worse this time, we have women consumers of alcohol which we did not have in 1917 and 1918. And we have the automobile as a murder weapon.

I've just looked through my recent violence file. Here's a case where a man was sentenced for obscene phone calls. His lawyer offered as excuse, "These telephone calls stem from liquor on the weekends." Here's another one from Philadelphia: "Five men were arrested early yesterday and charged with raping a 37-year-old housewife in the Jungle Tavern. Included among those charged with rape was the owner of the taproom.

"The woman told police she walked into the taproom at 12:30 a.m. Before she could sit down, three men grabbed her, tore off her clothes, threw her down on a pool table. She said all five men raped her. After two hours, they let her go," she said. She was examined at Philadelphia General Hospital and released." A rather casual report.

If you will take the trouble to examine police records, you will find that over half of the automobile accidents involving death and injury involve the use of alcohol. Look what it is doing to the streets and highways which are littered with empty bottles and beer cans. Yet we want more and easier liquor. I've never been able to understand the reasoning of intelligent men, many of them my friends, who feel that liquor by the drink will help solve our alcohol problem. They never knew the saloon era.

The big trouble is that as the use of beverage alcohol has become so socially acceptable and is served at the majority of social functions, then these people drive automobiles home.

Alcoholics Anonymous has established the fact that problem drinkers and alcoholics develop from social drinkers.
