Clinton High News

BY CLAIRE DUNCAN

With a great amount of rushing and hard work, another busy week at Clinton High School has become history.

During the homeroom periods this past week, the freshmen have been in the process of making nominations for representatives to the Student Council and, also, for freshman class officers. The final elections will be held the first week in October.

Also, in this same period the seniors have been electing senior superlatives. The following ten superlatives will be elected: Best Personality, Friendliest, Best-

All Around, Best Student, Most Likely to Succeed, Best-Looking, Most Talented, Most Popular, Most Dependable, and Most Athletic. However, the results will be kept secretly until the "Clintonian" is issued this spring.

Singing "St. Jame's Air" and "Give Thanks," 12 members of the chorus will provide the music for the graduation of the practical nurses at the high school this Sunday. This year's chorus has an estimate of 50 members.

Members of the Future Homemakers of America are now selling candy. The girls are hoping to make a good profit from their sales.

Tomorrow night the mighty Red Devils will journey to Lower Richland High School. Many students will be following them to Columbia hopefully to cheer them to victory. Good luck Big Red!

It is scheduled for 10 a.m. in Belk Auditorium, and the public is invited. Seats will be available in the balcony of the auditorium.

In addition to his speech on a topic of current interest, Senator Thurmond has indicated he will present the college with a special scholarship fund endowed by a charitable trust he serves as chief adviser.

South Carolina's senior senator from Aiken has been a close friend of PC for a number of years and has spoken on the campus often. He was awarded an honorary doctor of laws by Presbyterian College in 1960.

WORTH TALKING ABOUT

The function of government is not to mollify the consumer. All that properly can be asked of the state is that it protect us from dangerous products, from outright fraud, and from deliberate deception. At that point, the pull and haul of a free society ought to be allowed free play. —James Jackson Kilpatrick
