

The Wateree Messenger

Published Every Tuesday by CHAS. W. BIRCHMORE, Prop.

Entered as Second Class Matter at the Postoffice at Camden, S. C.

Subscription $1.50 A Year in Advance

Tuesday, August 30, 1932.

THE TAIL OF A SHIRT

It seems to us as almost everybody must be pretty nearly out of clothes by this time. We don't see how the necessity for new clothes can be met without having some effect upon general business conditions.

We don't think American women are going to dress out of fashion very long, and while it was easy enough to cut down the long skirts and cut off the long sleeves, it is not going to be easy to make over a short-skirted, sleeveless dress into one with full sleeves and a long skirt.

We don't remember the name of the political economist who pointed out many years ago, that if he could be Emperor of China and issue a decree that every Chinaman's shirt tails would be three inches longer, it would double the business of the Manchester cotton mills.

Whoever he was, he expressed a great economic truth.

BACK TO NATURE

It seems that one of the beneficial results of this long period of depression and industrial unemployment has been, to force upon large numbers of people, who had never realized it before, that there is no safety or security for most folks if they get too far away from the soil and the sea.

We were reminded of this by reading that the State of New York has decided to grant fishing licenses free to the unemployed, so that they may at least have the chance of catching part of their food from the rivers and lakes, bays and ponds of the state.

Then we read about the various places all over the country where thousands of unemployed are being encouraged to pan out gold from the soil. There is gold almost everywhere in the United States.

Hundreds of communities gave help and encouragement during the past summer to the unemployed who were willing and able to work small garden patches and so help to feed themselves and their families.

All such projects are, of course merely temporary expedients, but out of them it is reasonable to expect that a great many Americans, who have been so brought up that they did not know how to take care of themselves unless they were attached to a pay roll, will have learned that it is possible for a man to make a living without much equipment beyond his two hands, if he will stick close enough to nature's sources of wealth and seize them for himself instead of buying them through a chain of middlemen.

IN LITTLE OLD NEW YORK CARL H. GETZ

Seventy-two per cent of New York families live in rented apartments.

Some women in New York are using mustache wax upon their eyelashes for that starry-eyed look.

The New York Post Office distributes daily fifteen million pieces of ordinary mail.

The U. S. School of Music, which has its headquarters in lower Fifth Avenue, has about 65,000 students enrolled, all studying music by mail.

There are about a thousand practicing farmers in New York City.

You can buy violins made out of aluminum in New York.

Sixty thousand residents in New York are more than 75 years of age.

There are apartments in New York

BRUCE BARTON

writes of "THE MASTER EXECUTIVE"

Supplying a week-to-week inspiration for the heavy-burdened who will find every human trial paralleled in the experiences of "The Man Nobody Knows."

A MAN COMES OUT

The days of Jesus' doubt are set down as forty in number. It is easy to imagine that lonely struggle. He had left a good trade among people who knew him and trusted him—and for what? To become a wandering preacher, talking to folks who never heard of him? And what was he to talk about? How, with his lack of experience, should he find words for his message? Where should he begin? Who would listen? Would they listen? Hadn't he perhaps made a mistake?

Satan, says the narrative, tempted him saying: "You are hungry; here are stones. Make them into bread." The temptation of material success. It was entirely unnecessary for him to be hungry ever. He had a good trade; he knew well enough that his organizing ability was better than Joseph's. He could build up a far more successful business and acquire comfort and wealth. Why not?

Satan comes in again, according to the narrative, taking him up into a high mountain and showing him the kingdoms of the world. "All these can be yours, if you will only compromise." He could go to Jerusalem and enter the priesthood; that was a sure road to distinction. He could do good in that way, and have the satisfaction of success as well.

Or he might enter the public service, and seek political leadership. There was plenty of discontent to be capitalized, and he knew the farmer and the laborer; he was one of them; they would listen to him.

For forty days and nights the incessant fight went on, but once settled, it was settled forever. In the calm of that wilderness there came the majestic conviction which is the very soul of leadership—the faith that his spirit was linked with the Eternal, that God had sent him into the world to do a work which no one else could do, which—f he neglected it—would never be done.

Magnify this temptation scene as greatly as you will; say that God spoke more clearly to Jesus than to any who has ever lived. It is true. But to every man of vision the clear Voice speaks; there is no great leadership where there is not a mystic. Nothing splendid has ever been achieved except by those who dare believe that something inside themselves was superior to circumstances. To choose the sure thing is man's lot to the soul.

If this was not the meaning of the forty days in the wilderness, if Jesus did not have a real temptation when he might have ended in his going back to the bench at Nazareth, then the forty days' struggle has no real significance to us. But the temptation was real, and he conquered.

The youth who had been a summer stay in the wilderness, a man came out. Not the full-fledged master who, within the shadow of the cross could cry, "I have overcome the world." He had still much growth to make, much progress in vision and self-confidence. But the beginning were there. Men who looked upon him from that hour felt the authority of one who has put his spiritual house in order, and knows clearly what he is about.

Next Week: The Voice of Authority.

in which the walls are covered with linoleum.

The New York Fire Department answers an average of thirty-six false alarms daily.

A shop in New York is selling motorcycles equipped with radio sets.

Three hundred and ninety-one American Indians live in New City.

New Yorkers call the Hudson River the North River, although every one knows it lies directly west; and the body of water lying between New York and Brooklyn is called the East River, although it is not a river at all, but an arm of the sea.

A New York policeman makes an average of one arrest every two weeks.

New York didn't have running water in its houses until 1842.

St. Paul's Chapel, famous, historic church in New York, was built originally to face the river. Today the rear of the church faces Broadway.

Back in 1917 a writer in describing New York said: "Four new business firms start up every 42 minutes."

that his spirit was linked with the are owned in New York.

Well-Favored Man To be a well-favored man is the gift of fortune, but to write and read comes by nature.—Shakespeare.

Fall Fashions—1932 vs. Gay 90's

FASHION news reports from style centers pertaining to the new autumn mode say that the cigarette silhouette is to rule in new fall frocks for the modern miss, with the full sleeve created to accentuate the cigarette silhouette.

As this study in styles indicates, a full sleeve is just as full of shirred textile under one name as another. The Victorian vamp of the gay 90's was proud of her leg o' mutton sleeves and this autumn Miss America of 1932 will simply doze on the dolman sleeve. The dolman sleeve is in fact a healthy juvenile ball-sleeve well on its way to full-blown maturity.

Of course, forty years ago the leg o' mutton sleeve was rage, cigarettes would never have been mentioned in connection with styles. The belles of that era did not smoke since the raw tobacco used in making old fashioned cigarettes did not have the mildness which the modern cigarette gives to the modern smoker. But the descriptive term seems applied quite naturally to the modern straight and youthful silhouette which is inspiring the fall mode.

The dolman sleeve in its design permits the style creators to narrow the bodice lines by crowding the shirred sleeve-top in toward the center of both front and back, thus giving the effect of an eight-inch waistline. The straight line essential in the cigarette silhouette.

And Here's Hoping for a Better Year — By Albert T. Reid

I APPRECIATE THE WAY YOU'VE BACK-ED ME UP IN THIS EMERGENCY

LEGAL NOTICES

SUMMONS FOR RELIEF

State of South Carolina, County of Kershaw.

IN COURT OF COMMON PLEAS

Federal Land Bank of Columbia, S. C., Plaintiff, vs.

Fannie Shirley, individually and Fannie Shirley as guardian ad litem for the minor defendants, Purvis Shirley, H. B. Shirley, Payton Shirley and Talley Shirley, Jessie Belle Thorne, Balfour Shirley, Willie Shirley, S. D. Hammond, Emma J. Hammond, Augustus Wright Co., Gilmer Dry Goods Co., Leonard Hammond, Roberts & Hoge Shoe Co., Plough Chemical Co., Caradine Harvest Hat Co., F. A. Weil, Edwin M. Frank and Hugo Frank doing business as Frank Co., H. L. Schlosburg, Richard McC. Figg, Jr., trustee in bankruptcy of Pringle Bros., and R. E. Stevenson, Receiver of the Loan & Savings Bank, defendants.

TO THE DEFENDANTS: Jessie Belle Thorne, Willie Shirley, Augustus Wright Company, Gilmer Dry Goods Co., Roberts & Hoge Shoe Co., Plough Chemical Company, Caradine Harvest Hat Co., and F. A. Weil, Edwin M. Frank and Hugo Frank, doing business as Frank Co.

You are hereby summoned and required to answer the Amended Complaint in this action which has this day been duly filed in the office of the Clerk of Court for Kershaw County and to serve a copy of the answer to the said complaint on the subscribers at their office in the City of Camden, S. C., within twenty (20) days after service thereof, exclusive of the day of such service and if you fail to answer the complaint within the time aforesaid, the plaintiff in this action will apply to the Court for the relief demanded in the complaint.

KIRKLAND & deLOACH, Attorneys for Plaintiff Aug. 16, 1932.

NOTICE OF MASTER'S SALE

By virtue of a decree of the Court of Common Pleas for the County of Kershaw, South Carolina, heretofore issued in the case of H. L. Schlosburg, Plaintiff-vs-Mendel L. Smith, et al. Defendants, I will sell on Sale-day 3 September, 1932, same being the 5th day of said month, during the usual hours of sale, before the Court House, Door at Camden, County of Kershaw, South Carolina, to the highest bidder, the following described premises to wit:

"All that lot, piece or parcel of land, situate, lying and being in the City of Camden, County of Kershaw, State of South Carolina, lying at the northeast corner at the intersection of Broad and Chestnut Streets, having a frontage of one hundred seven-tenths (117) feet to the south on Chestnut St. and a frontage of three hundred, eighty-five (385) feet to the west on Broad Street, and a depth of one hundred, fifty-one and nine-tenths (151.9) feet on the north side of said lot adjoining premises formerly of Stockton and a depth of three hundred, eighty-three and seven-tenths (383.7) feet on the east side of said property adjoining premises formerly of Sowell, now of Moseley. Said lot is bounded on the north by premises formerly of Stockton, on the east by premises formerly of Sowell, now of Moseley; on the south by Chestnut Street and on the west by Broad Street of the City of Camden."

Terms of Sale. One-third cash, the balance payable in two equal annual installments, with interest thereon from date of sale at the rate of seven percent per annum, the purchaser having the privilege of paying all cash. W. L. DePASS, JR., Master for Kershaw County, S. C.

NOTICE OF SALE

Notice is hereby given that under and by virtue of the Decree of the Court of Common Pleas for Kershaw County, State of South Carolina, dated the 2nd day of April, 1932, in the case of R. B. Elliott against Catherine E. Hyatt, I will sell to the highest bidder or bidder before the Court House door in the Town of Camden, State of South Carolina during the legal hours of sale, the following described personal property:

"All that piece, parcel or tract of land, situate, lying and being in the State of South Carolina, County of Kershaw, and in Buffalo Township, containing two hundred ninety (290) acres, more or less, bounded North by lands of the estate of Nancy West, on the East by estate lands of Bradley, on the South by estate lands of Nancy West and on the West by lands of L. J. Jordan, lands now or formerly of M. C. West, et al. Said tract of land being the same conveyed to Catherine Hyatt by John Ingram by deed dated January 3rd, 1924, recorded in the office of the Clerk of the Court for Kershaw County in Book "B. M.", page 2.

Terms of sale. The successful bidder at the time his bid is accepted shall be required to make a deposit of cash or certified check with the Master in the amount of One Hundred Fifty ($150.00) Dollars.

W. L. DePASS, JR., Master for Kershaw County.

Regular communication of this lodge is held on the first Tuesday in each month at 8 p. m. Visiting Brethren are welcomed. W. R. CLYBURN, E. ROSS, Worshipful Master, Secretary.

BUD 'n' BUB

By Ed KRESSY

THE ROCKET-PLANE IS READY BOYS—LET'S GET OFF TO SOME MORE INTERESTING PARTS OF THE WORLD AND I'LL TELL YOU OF BELIEFS & CUSTOMS OF THE PLACES WE VISIT TODAY.

HERE IN AFRICA IT IS CUSTOMARY TO STICK BRANCHES OF TREES IN THE GROUND WITH BROKEN POTTERY ATTACHED. THE BELIEF IS THAT THIS WILL KEEP THE MOST DETERMINED THIEF FROM CROSSING THE THRESHOLD...

IN SOMOIA, THIEVES CAN BE SCARED AWAY BY FIGURES OF LIZARDS, SHARKS, ETC. WOVEN FROM COCONUT SHELVES.

THE HINDUS BELIEVE THAT IT IS A GOOD OMEN IF WHEN STARTING OUT ON BUSINESS A CROW FLY FROM LEFT TO RIGHT, BUT A BAD OMEN IF THE CROW FLIES FROM RIGHT TO LEFT.

HERE IN GERMANY YOU WILL STILL FIND A CUSTOM OF PLACING MONEY IN A HOLE, DUG AT THE FOOT OF A FRUIT TREE BY THE PEASANTS. IT BEING THEIR BELIEF THAT PRAYERS AND THESE GIFTS WILL BRING ABUNDANT CROPS FROM TREES SO FAVORED.

WURDY BUD 'n' BUB SUPPER IS READY