Cotton Market

—REPORTED BY— SPRINGS, HEATH & CO. The following are to-day's cotton quotations for the Camden market:

POINTS PICKED UP.

This is most delightful weather. Only four days more before the election. Old papers for sale at this office at 20 cents per hundred.

Sumter is laying pipes for a system of water works, which is to cost $60,000.

About one hundred tickets have been sold this week at the Camden depot to parties going to Galis Week in Charleston.

The South Carolina Conference of the M. E. Church, South, will convene in Charleston on Wednesday, November 23d.

An editor ever in Missouri having heard that drowning man remembers every event of their lives, advises his subscribers to bathe in deep water.

A fire, from unknown cause, started on the depot platform Tuesday and partially destroyed six boxes of cotton. It was discovered in time to prevent further damage.

The Columbia Daily Register is soon to be increased to an eight page paper. In addition to the daily and weekly, an evening paper will be published.

The law against shooting birds expired on the first of November, and will not be in force again until the 1st day of March, next, for doves and the first day of April for other birds.

The books of the Comptroller General show that the total assessed value of real estate and personal property in the State is $166,810,950 against $169,262,669 for the year before.

One hundred and twenty moon shiners in the Atlanta jail have sent a petition to the president to be pardoned in time to vote this month. All promise to vote for Harrison if released.

Miss Mary Yeargin, of this State, is studying law up North. She is the first of her sex from Carolina to adopt that profession. She will be likely to receive many offers of partnership when she returns to her home.

The South Carolina Railway will not be sold on the 15th of November as Judge Simonton decreed. The first mortgage bondholders wish to buy up all old liens and have the sale order them, and to accommodate them, the United States Court will postpone the sale until next April.

The State Fair Association will have a great pyrotechnic display during the Fair, representing "The Fall of Paris." It will be something like the great display during the Atlanta Exposition, when there was a similar display representing "King Solomon's Temple." It will be a great sight and will attract many visitors.

A negro convict at work on the Sims' place, near Columbia, escaped last week by a neat trick. He went up to the colored guard and asked for a chew of tobacco and while the guard was getting it, the convict seized his Winchester and made off to the woods with it. He hid himself in the woods and the guards were afraid to enter to search for him.

McCabe & Young's Minstrels. A capital night performance, Tuesday night, Nov. 4th, at the Opera House, by McCabe & Young's Operatic Minstrels, consisting of 30 artists and the celebrated Hyer Sisters in their musical specialties. Tuesday being election day, arrangements have been made to receive bulletins from the national contest and read them from the stage. This in itself is enough of an attraction to repay for the price of a ticket, besides the performance which is guaranteed to be first-class in every particular. Don't miss it.

Meeting of Trustees.

A meeting of the school trustees of Kershaw county was held in the school commissioner's office last Saturday, being well attended. The object was to endeavor to get the schools on a cash basis. The best plan brought forward was the levying of the two mill special tax. We will discuss at another time the advantages of so doing.

The Doll Baby.

The party holding ticket No. 163, will please come forward and take the doll baby. Should the above number be lost the next nearest number will come in next. Should there be a tie the parties must draw straws. The doll will be reserved for ten days as the holder of the lucky number may live some distance in the country. Taylor & Co.

Mrs. Hannah Brown, wife of A. Pomeroy Brown Esq., of Heath Springs, and a sister of Mr. John C. Cunningham of our city, died on Saturday, 29th of October, of typhoid fever. Deceased was a daughter of the late Wm Canning Esq., of Liberty Hill, and leaves many relatives there as well as a large circle of friends to mourn her untimely loss.

Real Estate Transfers.

During the month of October, 1892, the following transfers of real estate were recorded in the office of auditor for Kershaw county: J. V. Welsh to L. M. Hall; 202 acres in No. 5, $465.

A Thief Cleverly Caught.

On the night of the 22nd inst., Daniel Cole, a negro in the employ of Dr. C. P. Osteen, of Hagood, ran off with about fifty or sixty dollars worth of his employer's clothing and a sum of money which he had collected from the colored patients of the doctor. A description of Cole was sent to the police authorities of all the towns of this and neighboring counties with a request to arrest if found. Marshall J. J. Team, of Bishopville, took the matter in hand and in a few days located Cole, who had hired to a gentleman near Bishopville. He was arrested and identified and is now in jail awaiting trial. Mr. Team displayed considerable detective skill in this affair and deserves the compliments he receives.—Sunter Watchman & Southron.

E. B. SLIGH IN TROUBLE.

E. B. Sligh, republican candidate for congress from this district, will figure in the sessions court for this county next week. The grand jury of Chester county has found three indictments against him. One for carrying concealed weapons, another for grand larceny and the third for falsely obtaining a signature to a note. The cases were to have been tried in Chester last week, but upon motion of Sligh's counsel, Judge Norton granted a change of venue to York, fixing next Tuesday as the day of trial.

In the concealed weapon case, Mr. T. B. Stringfellow, a furniture dealer, is the prosecutor.

In the grand larceny case, the prosecutor is the administrator of the Sander's estate. He charges Sligh with having appropriated certain law books and other property belonging to his former law partner, the late W. A. Sanders.

In the third case charging Sligh with fraudulently obtaining a signature to a note—Major John W. Wilkes, is the prosecutor. Major Wilkes, we understand, represents that he agreed to become second endorser on Sligh's note at the Chester bank, on condition that Mr. E. C. Stahn would become first endorser. Major Wilkes signed the note, leaving a blank space above for Mr. Stahn's signature. It has since developed, however, that Mr. Stahn's signature is second instead of first on the note and the Chester bank, which discounted the paper, has sued Major Wilkes for the money—$500. Major Wilkes, in turn, is prosecuting Sligh for fraud.

Sligh's attorneys are W. A. Barber and C. A. Douglas. The grounds of their motion for a change of venue for the prisoner was "unreasonable prejudice," alleged to exist against the defendant in Chester.—Yorkville Enquirer.

Our Collector.

It being impossible for us to look after our collections daily, we have authorized Mr. John A. Shearn to act for us. Please, therefore, make settlement with him. He will receive for all money paid him. If you do not find your account in his hands, please call at our office and we will receive and receipt for all you can pay. We do not wish to offend anyone by dunning them for what is due us; but "business is business," and the newspaper business, like all other enterprises, requires money to run it.

"The Longest Pole Takes the Per-simmon."

Now comes Baum Bros., of the Great Mammoth Store, and explain in plain, simple words, what they can do. As journalists, it is our duty to the public to keep them alive to what is the truth. We never enter that great establishment without being amazed at the hum, bustle and business push we always find there. It is truly a city-like business establishment, carried on in a city-like style. The establishment surely is the pride of the up country. They are entitled to a large business, for by honest dealing with the public they have gained the people's confidence and their success. To this we must say Amen. To advise you as a journalist (we must advise truly) if you want square and fair dealings, for cash or credit, our experience is at the Hustlers. The big Mammoth Store is the place to go. They are successful and they ought to be. They employ eleven clerks the whole year around, and they buy for cash and give their customers the benefit. They do not discriminate, they treat all alike, Monday and every other day. Think of it! They offer a Boys' Suit for 65c., a Ladies' Gossamer for 25c., Bleached Cloth at 3c. per yard, Linen Carpet 11c. per yard, and they tell you in their usual truthful, honest and plain words, they fear not Camden competition and care not. They are trying to compete with other markets, Charleston and New York, and we are satisfied that they will do what they say and success is the best answer. Do not swap off Baum Bros. for any of the big houses that offer you bargains and you do not know anything about them.
