ile Senator Irby was engaged eversation with several friends in om at the National Hotel, a ment Conservative of South lina came and proposed if Senarby would withdraw his opposito the Conservatives for Marshal Collector of Revenue, then the ervatives would withdraw their esition to General Earle.

enator Irby replied that he had pported a fair and honest proposiin some time ago looking to the dis-bution of the patronage, but they d almost sullenly and indignantly eclined. "I ask no favors, and shall rant none. I will fight it out on his line, if it takes all the summer. could not accept any such proposiion without being disloyal to the Tillmanites, who, by every rule of fairness and justice are entitled to three-fifths of the patronage. If this is denied the responsibility must rest where it belongs."

Your correspondent has reason to believe that the other side have found out that Earle will win and therefore could very well afford to withdraw their opposition to General Earle.

Senator Irby further said he would not ask the appointment of any one as a reward of trickery to the other side. He certainly would not consent to the appointment of one that he thought betraved his side.

We are having lively times in suggest in this connection that the Tillmanite Congressmen return here garding the situation have been misand take a hand in this fight. Senator Irby is making a brave fight, but he has to combat with Butler, Hemphill, Hampton, Johnstone, and a lot of smaller politicians. - Aiken Times.

CONDITION OF BUSINESS.

FEATURES OF THE PAST WEEK IN TRADE CIRCLES.

A General Improvement Noted, Although Some Uncertainty Still Exists as to the Immediate Monetary Future.

NEW YORK, March 31-R. G. Dun & Co.'s Weekly Review of Trade will say: The fact of largest influence in the record of the past week has been the increased distribution of goods which appears with better weather at nearly all points. The strengthening effect is already felt in some wholesale trades, and even in some manufactures, building materials and in steel, and paints and glass are helped, as well as many forms of textile and leather products. Collections already improve at many points, though still generally rather behind, and especially at Philadelphia and other eastern points.

The stringency often seen about April 1st does not appear here, while for other money markets, the close pressure some weeks ago has led to adequate preparation. But while imports greatly exceed exports, it is not safe to calculate that outgoes of gold will not again disturb confidence. Hence the break in important speculations has its hopeful side.

Instead of rising, after the close of the Lancashire strike, cotton fell threeeights, which may accelerate exports. though stocks of American cotton in Europe are still a third larger than usual at this season.

Exports in four weeks at New York have been $5,115,000 less than last year, indicating total for the month not far from $76,000,000, while the increase in imports at New York names belong to our alone has been about $11,000,000 in-the Hon J. H. Earle, dicating a total for the path of more minee for Governor of than $97,000,000. This great excess on against Governor in imports, following the excess of 1890. His attitude $36,000,000 in January and February, on since that time has is the basis of doubt about the im-Conservative in the mediate monetary future.

The situation in the great industries is distinctly improving, regardless of of speculative uncertainties. Legitimate business shows no unsoundness. caution having largely prevailed, and for the season. Failures in the first quarter of the year, 3,202 in number, were fewer than in either of the past three years, and though the amount liabilities is still quite low, less than servative journal, says: $14.800.

Iron and steel business is a shade firmer, with improved demand for barplates and structural forms; and though rails do not sell, Bessemer iron is firm and steel stronger.

Nearly all Southern points report some improvement, and at Nashville no disturbance results, the banks being fortified. At Galveston a large increase in cotton is noted, but timidity of capital and smaller loans than usual. At New Orleans lumber, material for building, etc., are strong and active and other trade fair, with money in ample supply.

The business failures the last week number for the United States 166; and for Canada 28; total 194. Bradstreet's Observations.

NEW YORK, March 31.-Brad. street's to-morrow will say: Cooler weather generally has improved the prospect for spring trade, but without increase in distribution. Throughout the Eastern New England States trade is quieter, due to reflection of late interruptions to business North and South. In the Central Western States a fair movement of merchandise is reported, and although the prospects are improved, Northwest business continues retarded there. In the South it remains quiet, with fair demand for drygoods, hardware and plantation supplies at Memphis, and satisfactory trade at Houston and good demand for lumber at Galveston. Business is slow at Charleston, where rice merchants are steadily reducing stocks. Manufacturers at Atlanta report trade satisfactory, but retail dealers say they are behind in sales. owing to scarcity of ready money at where business is quiet. The close of the month brings a falling off in volume in goods distributed from New Orleans, where cotton and rice are depressed, while sugar is active and buoyant. The prospect is still for a larger cotton acreage, but a reduced rice acreage is the interior. Rosin is firm, but turpentine is relatively slow at Savannah,

The recent excitement at Nashville due to the embarrassment of the banks there has subsided, and country banks are depositing at Nashville again, where every arrangement is made to Washington. It might be well to provide for the financial needs of merchants. Some reports telegraphed releading. Trade there is quiet and collections fair.

THE GATE CITY BANK.

WASHINGTON, March 31.-Capt. Henry W. Jackson, of Atlanta, special United States Attorney in connection with the Redwine defalcation in the Gate City Bank, whose presence in Washington at this time has excited a good deal of interest has this to say on the subject:

"It is an error to suppose that my presence in Washington has anything o do with the Gate City Bank affairs. have three cases before the United States Supreme Court, and as it is a body that waits for no man, I was forced to be here. Knowing that Attorney General Olney had ordered a temporary cessation of the investigation of the bank's affairs, the people of Atlanta connected my departure with that fact. I would have come anyhow, and my coming would have stopped the investigation anyhow. have seen the Attorney General, but am not at liberty to state what passed between us. The information will have to come from the Department of Justice. I will state, however, that it is his intention to probe the affair to the bottom. There will be serious developments, of course. It is ro secret in Atlanta that I have prepared severpapers for presentation to the grand ary. I leave for New York to-night, and will spend Saturday and part of Sunday at Cambridge. I have a son at Harvard. I will be in Washington on Monday, and I hope to leave on Wednesday next. I presume that the investigation will be resumed as soon after my arrival in Atlanta as possi-

Butler's Game.

Senator Butler's course does not seem to be gaining him many friends. the volume is the largest ever known In fact, some of his warmest supporters seem to be falling away from him, since he took up Cal Caughman and Ben Perry. The Winnsboro News and of liabilities was larger, the average of Herald, which has always been a Con-

"Senator Butler is doing himself great injustice. It is stated in the newspapers that he endorsed Perry before he was fully informed of his conduct in this State and before he had full knowledge of the truth of the charge. It was the Senator's duty to inquire. Now it is stated that he endorsed Judge Townsend thinking that he was endorsing Attorney General Townsend. Really we can't excuse such ignorance on the part of our senior Senator as to his home people. The truth is, the Senator had better consult his constituents a little more. We don't like some of the company about him even if such company is necessary to beat Tillman. The Senator may lose more friends than he will make by alliances with Caughman and Perry. We didn't like the letter that the Senator wrote last year, in which he appeared exceedingly anxious to know exactly where the majority was. The Conservatives of this State like a man to stand firmly by a principle."

This is a significant utterance. The Conservative papers are not over much pleased to see Butler affiliating with Perry and Caughman.

It appears that Butler is simply taking Perry and Caughman away from Tillman, and that as soon as he has done that he will fling them aside as a small boy throws away an orange skin after he has extracted the juice.

THE INDUSTRIAL SOUTH.

First Quarter of 1893. CHATTANOOGA, March 31.-Th quarterly statement of Southern inage, and, while he was educated as a dustries, prepared by the Tradesman of Chattanooga, shows that the first quarter of 1893, the new industries established exceed those of the first quarter of 1892 by 193. While for the first quarter of this year only eight development companies have been incorporated, during the same period of last year twenty-seven were formed. The quarter just ended also shows seventy six cotton and woolen mills established, fifty-nine flour and grist mills twenty-nine canning factories, forty oil mills, and the building of thirty wo water works plants.

> That the extensive timber interests of the South are not only attracting the attention, but capital, is shown by the fact that one hundred and ninetyfive new wood-working plants have been established during the last quarter, as against one hundred and twenty-two in 1892, and one hundred and forty-one in the first quarter of 1891. Tennessee heads the list with thirtytwo new industries in this line to her credit, Georgia and North Carolina are close rivals, with twenty-four and twenty-three respectively. All the Southern States, however, are well represented in this development, Mississippi, with seven, being the smallest

> Seventy-six textile industries were established in the quarter, as against 28 in the first quarter of 1892 and 45 in the same period of 1891; the very general character of this development is shown by the fact that only three States, Arkansas, Kentucky and West Virginia, are not represented in this total. Alabama leads the list with 22. North Carolina 16, Georgia 13, South Carolina 8, Virginia 5, Mississippi 4 and Texas and Tennessee 3 each, and Florida and Louisiana 1 each. This quarter shows 58 flour and grist mills established, as against 29 for the same quarter of 1892.

The increasing demand for cotton seed oil and its products, together with the advance in price which has recently taken place, accounts for the large number of new oil mills organized during the quarter; a total of 40 is shown, as against 10 in 1892 and 8 in same quarter in 1891, over half the total number being located in Texas and the remainder scattered throughout the other cotton growing States.

Twelve brick and tile plants are reported, 22 cotton presses, 21 electric light plants, 22 foundries and machine shops, 7 ice factories, 32 water works lants, with 93 other miscela neous industries.

BLACK CLOUDS OF DEATH CHOLERA MAKES ITS APPEARANCE AGAIN IN EUROPE.

All Reports Show that the Dreaded Disea is Now Rampant in Many Parts of the Czar's Great Empire-The Disease Creeping Over the Frontiers.

LONDON, April 1.—The Laster vaation has begun in the shadow of ar approaching cholera epidemic. In Russia the authorities have been forced to acknowledge the presence of the disease in several cities and previnces, which according to all former official reports have been unafflicted since December 15. German and Austrian physicians returning from tours of the provinces in question, however, state that there has not been a day since last June when there was the slightest evidence that cholers was suppresed in any government south of St Petersburg. In fourteen Governments of Southern, Southeastern, Eastern and Northeastern Russia the deaths have been numbered by the score every week for the last six months. These Governments include within their boundaries most of the black earth region, lands which are known as the granary of Russia, hence to the horrors of the epidemic has been added the appalling prospect of a return of the famine, with typhus and other fevers in its wake.

An examination of the manner in which Europe has been lulled into a feeling of comparative security by talse official reports is found in the reent conditions in the Government of entitled to a clean bill of health. self renewing them. Three Buda Pesth physicians who have just returned from that Government, which they visited in a semiofficial capacity, report that the number of deaths from cholera in January was between 300 and 400, and in system of deception in health reports become suddenly apparent. In eight Galician villages, near the Russian frontier, the cholera has already shown itself, and in four more suspicious cases of choleraic diseases have been isolated.

All twelve villages have been fre quented during the winter by Russian peasants, who cross the border to work in the Galician forests. The strictness of the watch on the border had been relaxed in view of untrustworthy assurances of the Russian authorities, and therefore these men from the infected districts found little difficulty in their migration, which never would have been permitted had the fact of a continued spread of the disease been known to the health office in Vienna. The latest advices from East Prussia indicate that the Germans were deceived by false accusations of Russia and had abated the administrative severity of regulations prescribed by Berlin sanitary officials. Two villages near Thorn are believed to be infected. In Thorn two suspicious cases have been isolated. Bulgaria also is in danger, for two cases of cholera were discovered in Rutschuk on Wednes-

Physicians in Vienna and Berlin are already prophesying that within four weeks all Central Europe will be obliged to revive the active campaign of last summer against the epidemic.

In their tour the cyclers crossed the Chinese Empire, from east to west, a distance of 3,200 miles, and are the only white men who have accomplished this-feat since Marco Polo in the thirteenth century.

The representatives of the St. Louis eveling clubs met the tourists outside the city and escorted them to the club-house, where they were given an enthusiastic reception.
