We had decided to open a Dry Goods business in Camden between March1st and 15th and thus have our stock ready for Spring trade, but in the mean while, had the opportunity of buying Mr. J. Norton Hunter's entire stock of general merchandise in Pendleton, S. C., at about 50c on the dollar. We bought it, and have it now in Camden ready for your inspection, not claiming it to be a complete or entirely new stock, but do claim, and justly, it contains a great many desirable goods as Mr. Hunter's buyer had shown good taste in most of his selections. This stock contains Dry Goods, Shoes, Corsets, Hoslery, Hats, Lamps, Notions, Coffee, Can Goods and many other seasonable and useful lines; these goods will be sold at prices no competition can match, in fact to be entirely frank with you, having bought these goods at such a TREMENDOUS ancrifice if WE CAN'T GET OUR PRICE for them WE WILL TAKE YOURS. They must go! they shall go! Our Buyer, Mr. A. P. Brown, will leave for the North very soon to purchase a complete stock and we want these goods out before the others come in, so you will find it to your interest to inspect this stock at once, and you will find a great many things just as good as any merchant can buy and less than any can sell.
