

A DESIRE FOR PEACE.

Gen. Smolenski Has Vindicated the Reputation of the Greek Army.

WAR TO EXTERMINATION.

The Greeks Beaten Back--Protection to Poles Promised--Blockade Established--Troops Recalled.

London, May 8.—(By Cable.)—The Athens correspondent of the Times says: "The news of the retreat from Pharsalos was at first received with consternation, but the public has already accepted the situation, and now regard the retreat from Domokos as a strategic movement. It is generally felt that General Smolenski has vindicated the reputation of the Greek army, and wiped out the disgrace of Marti and Larissa. The national honor is unshaken. But while all this is so, the old bellicose enthusiasm of the Athenians has vanished completely. On all sides the desire for peace is expressed, and should the government invoke the intervention of the powers, it would probably be supported by public opinion. The military feeling is visibly diminishing. The demonstrations due to a change of cabinet, and to the flight from Larissa, which were somewhat superficial, have not been repeated. The gallantry of the Princess at Pharsalos has also had a good effect.

The main body of Gen. Smolenski's force arrived this (Friday) morning at 11 o'clock, at Almyros. All the inhabitants of Domokos have fled to Lamia. London, May 7.—(By Cable.)—A dispatch to the Times from Volosino, dated noon yesterday, says: "The Turkish forces have reached the outskirts of Volos. That town has already fallen, it is rumored, although not confirmed. A portion of the Greek forces has retreated by the coast road to Almyros, from which point it will probably be conveyed by sea to Lamia, and regain the rest of the army at Domokos."

Athens, May 7.—(By Cable.)—It is said positively that if the powers insist on the withdrawal of the Greek troops from Crete as a condition of mediation, Greece will reply that she prefers war to extermination.

Pharsalos, May 7.—(By Cable.)—An engagement began early to-day near Volosino and lasted for several hours. The Greeks were finally driven back. They have retreated upon Volos, sharply pursued by the Turks.

Volo, May 7.—(By Cable.)—The consuls have decided to ask the foreign warships to land detachments, and have promised to protect the town.

Furis, May 7.—(By Cable.)—A dispatch from Larissa received here by an Ottoman official, says that Edhem Pasha, with his staff, started for Volosino this morning.

Constantinople, May 7.—(By Cable.)—Orders have been telegraphed to Edhem Pasha to push on to Domokos immediately.

Athens, May 7.—(By Cable.)—The Greek government has notified the powers that the Greek fleet has established an effective blockade of the coast of Epirus.

Athens, May 7.—(By Cable.)—The government has directed the recall of twenty-five officers and two companies of Sapper from Crete.

SOUTHERN BAPTISTS MEET.

537 Delegates Present at the Convention--Judge Harralson Re-elected President.

At Wilmington, N. C., the Southern Baptist Convention convened at 10 o'clock Friday morning, the 7th, in the First Baptist Church. Hon. Jonathan Harralson, president, presiding; secretaries, Dr. O. F. Gregory and Dr. Lansing Burms. The enrollment by States showed an attendance of 537 delegates. Bro. H. M. Moore, Secy., delivered the address of welcome and the response was made by Rev. Watts, of Georgia.

The morning session was taken up by reports of committees and the following officers were elected for the coming year: President, Hon. Jonathan Harralson; secretaries, Dr. O. F. Gregory, Dr. Lansing Burms.

In connection with the convention the Woman's Mission Union and Southern Baptist College Conference auxiliary are holding sessions in the First Presbyterian and Grace churches respectively.

The Famine in India.

Rev. Dr. Talnage has just returned to Washington from a tour of the West in behalf of the famine sufferers in India and reported his progress to Secretary Long, saying that he had been thoroughly successful and wished to arrange for sending the goods as early as possible. The Secretary informed the doctor that the department would be ready just as soon as the cargoes were.

Father of "Greenbacks" Dead.

Eldridge Gerry Spalding died in Buffalo, N. Y., aged 88 years. In 1869 he, as chairman of the sub-committee of the ways and means committee of the House of Representatives, introduced the greenback or legal tender act, and the national currency bank bill, both of which he drafted himself. Together they made it, it has been said, the best financial system ever adopted by a government during a national emergency.

Longstreet Succeeds Hampton.

A Washington dispatch says it is stated that the President will appoint Gen. James B. Longstreet Railroad Commissioner to succeed Gen. Wade Hampton, whose term has expired.

Approved by the President.

The President has approved the joint resolution appropriating $50,000 for the expenses of the Universal Postal Union, now in session in Washington.

Off for Europe.

Senator Wolcott sailed for England on Saturday with ex-Vice President Stevenson and Mr. Paine, commissioned to go abroad in the interest of international bimetalism. They will go first to Paris and then to London and to Berlin. The length of their stay will in the nature of things depend on circumstances.

One of the Dunham sisters, in Barren & Bally's Circus, fell from a trapeze at Washington, D. C., and narrowly escaped death.

NEWS ITEMS.

Southern Peach Planters.

It is rumored in Atlanta, Ga., that Capt. Evan P. Howell, who was for many years the leading spirit of the Atlanta Constitution, and who was recently exiled out of that paper, is about to establish a free silver organ on a large scale.

The first seven days of the Centennial exposition showed an attendance of 17,500.

Joe Spring, a prominent business man of Midville, Ga., is murdered and robbed by unknown persons.

Elijah Morton, colored, will be hanged at McRae, Ga., on May 21 for the murder of three persons.

About 150 employees of Sundry Lumber company, at Doudron, Va., have gone on strike for higher wages.

The miners' strike in Eastern Tennessee and Southern Kentucky has grown, and 3,500 men are involved.

Robert W. Hunter, of Virginia, assistant attorney in the interior department, has resigned.

Capt. Wm. Strong, aged 72 years, was shot and instantly killed near his home in Breathitt county, Kentucky, by unknown persons.

The Southern Baptist convention after a three days' session in Wilmington, N. C., adjourned to meet in Norfolk, Va., Friday before the first Sunday in May, 1895.

There is no money with which to close the Atlanta exposition, and the leaves and farmers refuse to feed their idle hands. The merchants decline to carry them and the chairman of the relief committee reports that 7,000 persons are in danger of starvation.

The National Bank of Gaffney, S. C., has been authorized to begin business, with a capital of $50,000.

J. H. Westbury was shot at Isabella, Ga., by E. A. Nisbet, a real estate agent. Cause, an unpaid store account. Nisbet is in jail and it is thought Westbury's wounds may prove fatal.

James J. Willis, of Florida, the deputy auditor of the State Department has been removed. It is stated that during the past year Mr. Willis has been absent from his desk 234 days with pay.

The Florida joint legislative committee have found State Treasurer Collins' shortage to be $9,387. Collins is missing. The committee charges that J. N. Stockton, a candidate for the United States Senate, owes the State $15,000, for which no security is held.

N. W. Nelson, president of the Metropolitan Bank, of Richmond, Va., was found dead in his bath room. The gas was turned out. He had been ill for some time, and it is supposed death resulted from heart failure. He was 70 years of age.

All About the North.

Dentist Joseph S. Goodmanson, of Pomer, Neb., has been sentenced for life for murdering his wife by poison.

The Bakers' International Union, at Cleveland, O., has resolved to make a stand for an eight hour day.

A man in the Michigan penitentiary has been hanged for killing a fellow convict; he confessed to having committed several other murders.

Rev. James Romine, a Baptist preacher, of Jennings, O. T., was tarred and feathered for cruelly treating his wife.

E. Kellogg, Bench, a retired capitalist, committed suicide in his bath room in Chicago, Ill., by shooting himself in the mouth.

The South and West Grain and Trade Congress at Kansas City, Mo., has changed its name to the Southwestern Commercial Congress, and will meet next February in Tampa, Fla.

Governor Black, of New York, has signed the greater New York charter, and Brooklyn and Long Island City is no longer named on the map. The territory of greater New York embraces 257 square miles and the population is 3,400,000.

At Brooklyn, N. Y., a fatal fire caused the loss of four lives.

A call has been issued for a convention of Free Press Republicans of Ohio in Cincinnati, June 1, to elect delegates to the national free silver convention, June 25th.

Joe Patschen has been sold for $15,000. The purchaser was J. W. Marks, of Chicago.

It is reported in New York that Mrs. Josiah M. Fiske has given Barnard College $100,000 for the purpose of erecting a building to the memory of her husband. It will be known as the Fiske Hall.

It is possible that Miss Clara Barton may go to Greece in the service of the Red Cross Society. Mr. Demetrius Vasto, the Secretary of the American fund in aid of the Greek Red Cross, recently summoned Miss Barton for a conference in New York in regard to her possible journey.

Washington.

The United States Supreme Court at Washington denied the petition for a rehearing in the Trans-Missouri Freight Association case.

The U. S. Senate in executive session, has confirmed the nomination of Thomas R. Furnell to be United States district judge for the eastern district of North Carolina.

The Navy Department has ordered the steamer Maibeleid from Key West, Fla., to Puerto Cortez, Honduras, to protect American interests there.

Miscellaneous.

Rome, Italy, recently experienced a violent earthquake.

It is reported in London, England, that seventeen miners have lost their lives in an explosion on the Isle of Man in the Shaftelend mine.

On the 16th the Brussels exposition was formally opened in the presence of the ministers, the diplomatic corps and the civil and military authorities. Immense crowds of people were present. The inaugural cantata were executed by a choir of 1,500 voices.

The International Association of Machinists will erect a $2,500 monument over the late E. W. Taftot, originator of the Association.

A dispatch to The London Morning Post from Constantinople says it is possible that Turkey will demand a war indemnity of over £6,000,000.

Bishop A. Grant and a number of other colored men are talking of an Afro-American fair and inter-racial exposition, to be held in Texas next year.

Governor Holcomb has acted favorably on the application of Dr. H. L. Clifton, Surgeon General of the Nebraska National Guard, granting him in definite leave of absence to go to Thes-saly and enlist in the Greek army.

INFORMATION FOR COUNTIES.

A Rule By the Attorney General for Lending the Sinking Fund.

NEW VEGETABLES GOING NORTH

Beaufort's Storm Taxes--Destructive Fires--The Newspaper Men's Trip to Nashville.

The sinking fund commission has adopted the following rule, based on an opinion of the attorney-general for lending the sinking fund to the several counties: "That county treasurers and county supervisors must make declaration that no part of the county taxes for the year 1897 are pledged for payment of any other debt and that sinking fund commission will require a certificate and declaration from county treasurers and county supervisors of each county borrowing the sinking fund to the following effect: 'That county treasurer and county supervisor declare and certify that no part of the county taxes for the year 1897 are pledged for the payment of any other debt and that the sinking fund commission be given a first lien on all of said county taxes for the year 1897, and in the event that the whole amount of said indebtedness shall not be paid in full on or before the 1st day of January, 1898, as required by law, then a required and preferred lien to secure any unpaid balance is given on all taxes collected for county purposes for successive years until the same is paid.'"

The sinking fund commission has just issued to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information is only of value to those counties which did not only lend to the extent of one-third of the county taxes, but must have a prior and preferred lien upon the whole of said taxes. It has already been stated that a county can borrow for less than one year. This information