The Chronicle has purchased the power press and printing outfit of The Camden Journal and now has the combined outfits of both papers, making it one of the best equipped offices in the State.

In a week or two The Chronicle will commence a voting contest for the most popular lawyer of the Camden bar.

Tommy Lyles, colored, was hanged in Newberry last week for criminally assaulting a young white woman last March. This is the second hanging for rape recorded in this State.

A ship for Alaska, the land of gold, will leave Charleston on Feb. 15th. Each passenger will be allowed to carry one thousand pounds of freight, and the ticket will cost five hundred dollars.

The State Sunday School convention which has been in session in Camden this week has been an exceedingly pleasant one. The presence of the earnest christian workers has been inspiring and their sojourn with us will long be remembered as a most pleasant one.

John Gary Evans is again an aspirant for Senatorial honors. We hope that the people will give him justice at the ballot box. Mr. Evans, as the people know is amply qualified to carry out the duties of United States Senator, and we do not think the people will regret it if they send him to Washington.—Chesterfield Advertiser.

For the information of those voting in the coming primary election for United States Senator it may be stated that no registration certificate will be required as a qualification for voting. The only place in the State where registration certificates must be presented before a person can vote is in Charleston. The only requirement for voting in any other box in the State is that the voter's name must be on a Democratic club roll for at least five days before the holding of the election. In order to get that name there the voter must have been a resident of the precinct in which he votes at least sixty days prior to the election and must take the pledge to abide the result of the primary election.

Mr. Schrock Takes The Messenger to Task.

Editor Chronicle:—Your local contemporary has this week a number of original squibs and extracts from exchanges boosting McLaurin for Senator.

Permit me to reproduce a few of them with my comments. They are as follows:

"There is but little doubt but that McLaurin is the cleanest and ablest man in the senatorial race."

Bosh! In a race of this character no question arises as to who is the cleanest man. One man may be a greater hypocrit than another, but what concerns our voters mostly is,—who has stood most closely to Southern Democracy and deserved most of our people? All of the candidates are clean and able enough.

"Let every voter support the man of his choice next Tuesday. If he wants a "stud colt" or "muscovy drake" statesman, Evans or Irby will fill the bill, or if a cleaner and better man is wanted, then take McLaurin your choice."

A stud colt if fairly developed and well-bred is one of the most magnificent of animals and is far and away ahead of a perhaps better groomed scrub. A scrub (Democrat) may do very well for a quarter race, but for a mile stretch give me the thoroughbred.

"They say McLaurin is a Republican. I voted as he did and went a step further, but they don't say I'm a Republican.—B. R. Tillman."

Ben Tillman says many things which if it wasn't Ben Tillman who says them would cause that gentleman many sleepless hours when he seeks re-election, but—it's Ben Tillman, and the people trust him on general principles. McLaurin however, is of different mold. He is a follower, not a leader and you can't tie the actions or motives of the two men together. Personally, I condemn the actions of both on the tariff, but that is neither here nor there.

"The jokes of Irby and Evans at Camden and Chesterfield were actually so smutty and irrelevant to the issues on which they are campaigning, that we can hardly see how they expect self-respecting South Carolinians to support them for the United States senate."

This is pure hyper-sensitiveness. Ofcourse the language referred to was not entirely proper for feminine ears, but as there were no ladies present I can't see that Messrs. Evans or Irby are deserving of such severe censure because of pointing a moral through the agency of a rather broad joke.

Such nonsense as the above extract has done more to perpetuate the reign of hypocrisy and mediocrity in this country than anything else.

"There is one thing in the senatorial campaign that is greatly to Mr. McLaurin's credit. He is not undertaking to be elected on the demerits and short comings and bad records of his opponents. He has not and is not abusing anybody."

"Indeed! What about McLaurins slams at Irby's non-voting record in the Senate which he dilated upon on several stumps? That was all he could tackle him on however, and Irby having proved that the majority of his absentee votes were on motions to adjourn, Mc. had even to abandon that.

"Fair play is a jewel," is a trite old maxim that Carolinians believe in. The Irby-Evans combine against McLaurin is too thinly veiled to fool the people; they are carrying their fight to such extremes that it amounts to persecution."

Yes, fair play is certainly a jewel, and the lie that Irby and Evans are in a combine against McLaurin was most effectively disproved by Mr. Irby at Darlington where he literally flayed Evans alive, and at the same time (and since) treated McLaurin with distinguished and kindly consideration.

In conclusion let me say that I believe in real Democracy, and because a few harmless if somewhat off-color jokes are gotten off during the progress of a spirited political campaign before a crowd of men, it doesn't follow that the perpetrators are disqualified as gentlemen, or as undeserving of the votes of self respecting or even pious man.

It is a simple matter for hypocrites and time servers and other persons from honest but mistaken motives to damn a good man's reputation, but it is much harder for the same classes to restore that which they have blasted. I think therefore that such articles as the above from subscribers and readers in criticism of editors are opportunes as they may be effective in stopping the flood of misrepresentation which threatens to overwhelm more than one prominent figure now in public life in South Carolina.

Respectfully,
W. A. Schrock.

Educational Column.

The matter for this column is furnished by County Superintendent of Education D. L. Copeland, and all communications intended for this department should be addressed to him at Camden, S. C.

The teachers of Kershaw County certainly owe a lasting debt of gratitude to Profs. Hand, Colcock and Miss Chapman for their able and instructive lecture before the teachers institute. We feel assured that all who attended think themselves amply repaid for the time given to the institute, and will go forward in their work with new zeal and energy. Do not lag behind in the march of progress, but keep abreast the times and success will crown your efforts for good.

* * *

We have ordered a supply of School Registers, Lists of School Books and copies of the School Law for distribution. Call and get a copy of the law and familiarize yourself with it, that you may be able to carry it out in the management of your school.

* * *

Did you attend the teacher's institute? If you did you remember those fine lectures of Prof. Hand on "School Management" and should try to put his theories into practice in your schools. As he said: The teacher whose influence extends no farther than the four walls of his school room, had better shut up the school and hunt another job. You cannot expect to rise in your profession unless you give satisfaction in your present situation, as no one cares to employ a failure in anything. Men are judged by what they are, and not by what they profess to be.

* * *

The teachers' institute cost comparitively nothing as the Trustees of the Peabody fund paid the salaries of the instructions, and we only had to pay their board.

Pisgah.

The weather has been unfavorable for the past week and many farmers have lost a greater portion of their fodder which was pulled down.

Corn and potatoes are good in this section.

Cotton is opening and many stores are going up around here. We think if we have good luck we will have the capital of the new county here—that is if they let us decide where it shall be located. We will build the railroad by this place as soon as we can borrow the money.

Mr. W. E. Allen is building him a house at Pisgah and will keep bachelor's hall if he cannot help it.

Oswego.

Dear Chronicle:—As I have not seen anything from this place in some time I will gather a few dots.

Crops in this section have knocked off growing, I do not think there will be more than half a crop made with the exception of grass. If the people are not too lazy to gather it, we will have plenty to feed on.

We learn that the Mormons have been waited on in Kershaw County. We hope we won't have that trouble here for we read the Bible, not tracts.

Mr. J. M. Terry is now ready to tear out the fleecy staple.

Mr. J. K. Hinson and Misses Rosabel Hinson and Mattie Davis were visiting in this community a few days ago. We hope to see them again soon.

If this don't find its way to the wast basket I will come again.

An Ordinance

To Provide For The Better Government of the City of Camden, S. C.

Be it ordained by the Mayor and Aldermen of the City of Camden, S. C., in Council Assembled, and by the authority of the same:

ARTICLE I.

To Regulate the Riding of Bicycles in the City of Camden

SEC. I. That the riding of bicycles is hereby prohibited on the sidewalks of Broad street between DeKalb and York streets and on the South side of Rutledge street between Broad street and the Post Office.

SEC. II. Coasting with bicycles is hereby prohibited on the sidewalks of Broad street between DeKalb street and a point extending North a distance of 500 feet.

SEC. III. All riders of bicycles are hereby required to make an alarm, by sounding bicycle alarm bell, within a distance of twenty feet (20) of each corner, before turning or passing the same, and to pass or turn all street corners at slow speed.

SEC. IV. No person shall be permitted to ride a bicycle on any of the public streets, side-walks or public squares of the City of Camden, after sunset, without displaying a light.

SEC. V. All riders of bicycles are hereby required to make an alarm by sounding a bicycle alarm bell, at least a distance of twenty (20) feet when approaching a pedestrian either from front or rear, before passing and to pass all pedestrians at a slow rate of speed, such rider or riders to take the outside of the side walks.

SEC. VI. All rapid or reckless riding or racing with bicycles upon the streets, side walks or squares of the city of Camden is hereby prohibited.

SEC. VII. Any person or persons violating any of the foregoing sections of Article I of this Ordinance, upon conviction thereof shall be fined in a sum not exceeding Ten (10) Dollars, or be imprisoned in the City Guard House or County Jail for a term not exceeding Twenty (20) days, with or without hard labor on the streets of the City of Camden, in the discretion of the Mayor.

ARTICLE II.

Offences Against the Public Peace and Morality.

SEC. I. No person shall use profane or obscene language, or shall act in a noisy, riotous or disorderly manner, or utter menaces and threats, or carry and display fire-arms or other deadly weapons to the annoyance and terror of the people or engage in any affray disturbance or fight, or otherwise commit a breach of the peace with in the corporate limits of the city of Camden.

SEC. II. No person shall wilfully expose their person or be guilty of any other indecent conduct, upon the public streets or public places of the City, or in any place within the corporate limits, to the annoyance and disturbance of the citizens.

SEC. III. No person shall be allowed to be intoxicated on the public streets or in any public place within the corporate limits of the city of Camden.

SEC. IV. No person shall be allowed to violate the Sabbath by violent or boisterous conduct, playing at games or otherwise. Nor shall any person wilfully and maliciously disturb or interrupt any meeting, society, assembly or congregation convened for the purpose of religious worship, or enter such meeting in a state of intoxication, or use spirituous liquors or blaspheme at or near the place of meeting.

SEC. V. It shall be unlawful for any person, by threats, force or otherwise, to resist any police officer of the city of Camden in making an arrest or when otherwise in the discharge of his duty, or incite, aid and abet others in such resistance.

SEC. VI. It shall be unlawful for any person to become the keeper or inmate of a bawdy house or house of ill-fame within the corporate limits of the city of Camden.

SEC. VII. It shall be unlawful for any person to carry a pistol dirk, dagger slung shot, metal knuckles razor or other deadly weapon usually used for the infliction of personal injury, concealed about his person, within the corporate limits of the city of Camden. Nothing herein contained shall be construed to apply to persons carrying concealed weapons upon their own premises.

SEC. VIII. Any person or persons violating any of the foregoing sections of Article II. of this Ordinance shall for each and every offense, upon conviction thereof be fined in a sum not exceeding Fifty (50) dollars or imprisonment in the city guard house or county jail for a term not exceeding thirty (30) days, with or without hard labor on the public streets of the city of Camden in the discretion of the Mayor. And any person convicted of violating section VII. of Article II. of this Ordinance shall in addition to the punishment herein prescribed forfeit the weapon so carried concealed to the city of Camden.

ARTICLE III.

Miscellaneous Offences.

SEC. I. It shall be unlawful for any person to use any intoxicating drinks within the Opera House or its approaches at any time, or engage in smoking therein during any public performance or entertainment or while the audience is gathering or dispersing.

SEC. II. No person shall tie any horse, cow, calf or other animal to any shade tree upon the streets or squares of the city of Camden or allow such animals to graze upon same.

SEC. III. It shall be unlawful for any person to have in his possession, or offer for sale any tainted or unwholesome meats or other products, within the Market, or offer the same for sale anywhere within the corporate limits of the city of Camden.

SEC. IV. No person shall be allowed to ride, or drive any vehicle out of any alley, or lane crossing a public pavement, at a greater rate of speed than a walk.

SEC. V. All owners of lots or yards facing or bordering on any of the public pavements of the city of Camden wherein the natural drainage is through any gateway or under any fence, thereby injuring the said pavement, shall immediately upon notice cause the same to be remedied, by securing such pavement from injury.

SEC. VI. Any person who shall be convicted of violating any of the sections of Article III of this Ordinance shall be fined in a sum not exceeding Fifty (50) dollars or imprisonment in the city guard house or county jail for a term not exceeding thirty (30) days with or without hard labor on the public streets of the city of Camden, in the discretion of the Mayor.

ARTICLE IV.

SEC. I. It shall be unlawful for any person to wilfully abuse or cruelly treat, overwork overdrive, torture, torment, or cruelly drive or work, when unfit for labor any horse, mule or draught animal or beast of burden. Any person convicted of violating this section shall be fined in a sum not exceeding Fifteen (15) Dollars or imprisoned in the City guard house or County jail for a term not exceeding Fifteen (15) days with or without hard labor on the public streets of the city of Camden in the discretion of the Mayor.

SEC. II. That all ordinances of the city of Camden now in force, wherein there is prescribed a penalty for the violation thereof; the Mayor shall have the authority to impose in his discretion, a fine or imprisonment in the alternative, not to exceed the limits prescribed for the violation of the said ordinances, and such imprisonment may be accompanied with the additional requirement of hard labor on the public streets of the city of Camden.

SEC. III. That all ordinances, or parts of ordinances inconsistent with the provisions of this ordinance be, and the same are hereby, repealed.

SEC. IV. This ordinance shall take effect immediately upon its ratification by the City Council.

Ratified in Council assembled this second day of August 1897.
