For Candy to administer.

Chief of Police Bent. Hause one day this week arrested a man for working a mule with a huge scur on his body. This is a step in the right direction for the new regard cruelty to animals cannot be too rigidly enforced.

Unintentionally omitted.

In the list of those who attended the Dewey celebration in New York last week the name of Treasurer W. R. Hough was unintentionally omitted. Mr. Hough went and like the rest of the boys who attended had a huge time.

Board Meetings.

The County Board of Commissioners met on Monday last.

The County Board of Control will meet to day to elect a Dispensary Clerk for the coming year. Capt Bell, we understand, has no opposition, and it is expected that Mr. Long will be reelected Clerk.

Measure Party.

We would call especial attention to the invitation in another column issued by the Clinton Presbyterians to the Measure Party to attend "Measure Party" at the manse on Friday evening next, Oct. 13th, at 8 o'clock. All who can possibly do should attend—money could not be spent to a better purpose.

Death of Mr. Thomas E. Watts.

Mr. Thomas E. Watts, of Lynwood, brother of Ex-chancellor Stoner J. M. Watts, died on Monday last, the 2nd inst., of fever. He had been sick only two weeks. Mr. Watts was a most worthy young man and his many friends in all sections of the county will mourn his death with deep regret. His funeral took place on Tuesday at Bethel M. E. Church.

Mr. P. T. Villepique.

Mr. P. T. Villepique, the highly popular proprietor of the "Gilt Edge Store," is out in an advertisement in "The Chronicle" to-day which cannot fail to interest you. Growing from year to year, for the past sixteen thousand season, exceeding all previous records, the business now assumes prodigious proportions, and he is now prepared to offer you bargains which cannot be exceeded anywhere in our city. Read the new ad.

Mr. A. D. Kennedy.

It is with especial pleasure that we present to our readers to day the advertisement of that excellent, big-hearted gentleman, Mr. A. D. Kennedy. No one can read his advertisement and not be impressed with the honesty and sincerity of the writer of it, and we assure all that it will be to their advantage to call on Mr. Kennedy for any of the numerous articles he has for sale in his well appointed stores. Don't do yourself the injustice of not trading with Mr. Kennedy.

Kaolin Bed.

A bed of high grade kaolin has been discovered on Capt. J. C. Rollings' place in West Waterloo. The kaolin was known for some time to exist there, but its fine quality has only recently been found out. A few days ago Capt. Rollings had it tested and it was found to be suitable not only for making first class brick, but cups and saucers and other earthenware. The Seaboard Air Line will pass within about two miles of this bed and owing to its proximity to the railroad it is expected that at an early day the bed will be worked to great advantage.

Death of Mr. W. L. Arthur.

Last Friday morning at 11 o'clock, just one hour after "The Chronicle" had gone to press, a telegram was received in Camden announcing the death of Mr. W. L. Arthur which occurred at an early hour that morning in Nashville, Tenn. Mr. Arthur was well known to almost every one in our community, having spent the most of his life here. His remains reached Camden on Saturday night. The funeral services were held on Sunday morning at the Episcopal Church and the burial took place at the Camden cemetery, the following inscription being on pall-bearers: Capt. W. M. Shannon, Senator J. T. Hey, Messrs. B. M. Pearce, C. J. Scanlon, Jr., T. J. Kirkland and H. G. Garrison, Dr. John W. Corbett and Col. E. Miller Boykin.

No More Four Cent Cotton.

We are glad to see the farmers of the South diversifying their crops. This is a marked step toward improving their condition. So long as we continue to raise cotton, the greater the burden of debt we pile on our shoulders. Plant corn, peas, potatoes, sow wheat and raise your own bread, turn your attention to raising hogs, cattle and sheep; stop buying meat and in a short time our country will flourish as a rose.

Paint your buildings, farm wagons, carts and all farming implements. You can buy ready mixed paint and a good quality too, of the Southern Paint Co., Pinckneyville, N.C. Write them for colors and prices. It is a Southern enterprise and do not belong to any trust, hence they will give you the lowest prices now on the market.

Fecher's Cavalry.

Admission to the Charlotte Commercial College for girls is $100 per month, this sum includes tuition, room, board, and the cost of books and necessary expenses.

Death of Mr. George Player.

Mr. G. E. Player, the son of Mr. George Player, who is well known throughout Clinton and throughout Rockingham County, died in Concord on Sunday, the 1st of September. Mr. Player, whose father was born within ten years of the birth of the Revolution.

A man by the name of Mr. W. S. Kuykendall, born recently to my wife and me, Mr. Kuykendall, just 37 years old, when we saw him six months ago, when he owned it ever since. Strange to say this living man was not a very old man.

Gone to Melville.

Mr. T. M. Bradbury, who for several years has been employed as messenger boy for the Western Union Telegraph office, left on Monday last to obtain a position as operator in the Western Union office at Melville, N. Y. Mr. Bradbury is one of our best young men and it is with a reluctance that we see him leave, but wish him nothing but success.

Obstetrician Negroes.

On Saturday last a negro driving one of the wagons employed on the new railroad ran into Mr. C. Steddy's wagon breaking it up badly. Mr. Steddy very properly had the man arrested. A few days later another of these drivers ran into the buggy of Joe Sawyer, caused, I suppose, by miscalculating the left hind wheel.

Attention.

The Presbyterian Ladies Aid Society issues the following invitation: "Measure Party" is given to all young and young, to bring and spend some time there for each other's benefit. And a certain amount extra in your hand. This money you bring will help us through in fitting our church with a carpet new, Pews, music, songs, and pleasure. Are for all who come to our party of measure. Refreshments are free to both young and old. But no ice cream or cake will be sold.

At the House, O. L. 13th, 1899, at 8 p.m.

More About The Coming Railroad.

The following from Chester to the Columbia State appeared in that paper last Friday from which it appears to have almost a certainty that we are to have still another railroad. "Some days ago mention was made in your local columns of the proposed scheme of making the Columbia and Northwestern railroad connecting between Chester and Lenoir, a broad gauge and a through line from Bristol, Tenn., to Camden, S.C. Your correspondent has confirmation of this scheme from a most reliable source, but is not permitted at present to give any names. It is however, certain that wealth and brains are behind this enterprise and a strong syndicate of northern capitalists has already been organized, which will remain independent of either the Seaboard or the Southern railroads. The gaps between Polkton and Cranberry and Cranberry and Bristol will all be filled up with a standard gauge road bed. The widening of the narrow gauge beds will be commenced at the Tennessee end and proceed down to Hickory, N. C., then the work will very easily be completed to Chester, and a broad gauge will be graded on to Camden in order to get a seacoast connection, it is now estimated that the entire work will be completed by January 1, 1901. This will be a most important railroad to South Carolina, and the benefits Chester will receive from it will be incalculable."

Yours for business,
J. A. SMITH.
