M'KINLEY'S SPEECH

Talks to His Fellow Citizens Down in Dixie Land.

CORDIALLY RECEIVED EVERYWHERE

The Guard of Honor at Memph's Consisted of Confederate Soldiers in Faded Gray Uniforms.

Memphis, Tenn., Special-The pres-Idential train passed through the heart of Dixie, and at 1:30 o'clock Tuesday afternoon reached Memphis, on the banks of the Mississippl. This was the first resting place of the tour,

At Memphis, the party received a wenderfully impressive" welcome. A committee, headed by Senator Car mack met the train at Corinth and es Sected the party to this city. A natonal saluto of 21 guns signalled the Governor McMillan and others met the party. A military parade, with a com- attention. pany of grizzled Confederate veterans in their old uniforms, acted as guard of honor, escorted the party in carrfages through the principal streets city was elaborately decorated with flags and bunting. Not a residence or President," etc.

The cheering through which the procession passed was tremendous at as to make it a flower show. Over 10,-000 people were packed into the square when the President was introducal by Mayor Williams. In response to the cheers which greeted him the Presispeech of his trip.

His theme was the resistless power of a great united people and was elivered in his best vein. When he referred in closing to the noble record of the Tennessee volunteers in the Spanish and Philippine wars, Governor Me- sitions in front and reviewing the vetfull is as follows:

"I reciprocate the sentiment of good will and fraternity expressed by your honorable mayor and shown in this cordial acception on the part of the people of Tennessee. I do not misinterpret this demonstration. I accept it in its true spirit. It is representative of that unversal good feeling happily subsisting among the people of United States and which is not bounded by political or georgraphical lines. and exists because of our love for the Union. It is not perfunctory or super ficial, but deep and heartfelt. It is the hearty, honest setiment of honest people loving their country and proud of its institutions and determined that both shall be maintained. It is powerfully influencing our national life and development and completing that unification so essential to national security and so indispensable to the realization of our national strength and influence. What a emighty, resistless power of good is a united nation of free men. It makes for peace and prestige, for progress and liberty. It conserves the rights of the people and strengthens the pillars of the government and is a fulfillment of that more perfect union for which our revolutionary fathers strove and for which the constitution was made. No citizen of the republic rejoices more than do at this happy state and none wil do more within his sphere to contin ue to strengthen It. Our past has gone into history. No brighter one adorns the annals of mankind. Our task is for the future. We leave the old century behind us, holding on to its achieve ments and cherishing its memorie and turn with hope to the new with its opportunities and abligations. These we must meet, men of the South, men of the North, with high purpose and resolution. Without in ternal troubles to district us, or jealousies to disturb our judgment, will solve the problems which confront us untrammelled by the past and wisely and courageously pursue a policy of right and justice in all things making the future under God ever more glorious than the past.

I am glad to meet the people of Memphis and of the State of Tennessee. Their history is associated with the greatest struggle and sacrifices of T country and their va'or has been consplcuous on every battlefield of the republic. The Commonwealth has los none of the zeal and partiotism which gave to it in the earlier days the name of the Volunteer State. It shows it is still worthy of that proud designation for even now its enlistments in the new army according to population exceed those of any other State in the Union. (Applause.) Her record in the Spanish war was a distinguished one. I shall never forget that during the anxious days of 1899, it was the Ten-nersee roldiers in the Philippines, who with unfeltering patrictism, led all others in re-enlistments for the new regiments then forming.
