Going to Lucknow.

Mr. S. N. Sowell who has been merchandising in Camden for the past two years has decided to move to Lucknow. During Mr. Sowell's stay in Camden he made many lasting friends and customers who regret exceedingly to see him leave. While here he proved himself to be one of our best business men. He bought goods carefully and sold them at a close margin and his customers always left his store fully satisfied. Our community will miss him and we wish him abundant success at Lucknow.

Dr. Ramsey To Leave Charleston.

Announcement is made that Dr. D. M. Ramsey, of the Citadel Square Baptist Church, has been called to the First Baptist Church, Washington, D. C. This is the church of which Dr. C. A. Stakely was pastor before going to Montgomery, Ala. We presume that Dr. Ramsey will accept. It seems that the First church of Washington is partial to the pastors of the Citadel Square church as Dr. Stakely was called by it while pastor of Citadel square—S. C. Baptist.

Lafayette Hall.

This historic old building is receiving the finishing touches of the painters, etc., to be used as a hotel. The house will be run by Mr. and Mrs. Scott Brown who at one time had charge of the Cherokee Inn at Blacksburg and also the Falls House at Gastonia. They are expected in Camden in a day or two, a good deal of the furniture already having arrived at the depot. The house has been thoroughly renovated and considerably enlarged, and now presents a charming appearance. One place of especial interest, and one where the visitor is apt to linger longest, is the room in which Gen. Lafayette slept. This room is painted a colonial yellow, and is very cozy and comfortable. The house will be open for the operation in the

THE FUTURE OF THE OLD THREE C'S.

(Charleston Post.)

"Col. A. Tripp, of Blacksburg, S. C. has been spending a few days in the city with a party of ladies and gentlemen from Blacksburg, accompanied by friends from Pittsburg. They came down in the private car of Col. Tripp, who is superintendent of the South Carolina and Georgia Extension Railroad. This road known in the days of its first projection as Three C's, has by act of the Legislature, passed into the hands of the Southern Railway. The vim and spirit of Col. Tripp has kept the road from falling to pieces, and it is said that it will cost the Southern 100,000 to make the road bed safe or passable in some places.

"The road was projected from Charleston to Cincinnati and thence to Chicago, but the work was abandoned after the line from Camden to Marion, N. C., was built. Marion is just twenty miles from Asheville, and in a most picturesque part of the mountains, so when through trains are run over the South Carolina and Georgia Extension there will be a new summer resort for Charleston people to explore.

The Southern will take charge of the old road on the first day of April and will immediately commence to rehabilitate it. The road bed will be strengthened and the ties replaced in part. Through trains from Marion to Columbia will at once be put on, reaching the latter city via Camden, Kingville and the South Carolina Road.

The road just acquired by the Southern is dotted with many fine towns, and it may mean that, with a little effort, Charleston can better reach out into the up-country by means of the new traffic arrangements. The towns along this line are Shelby, Henrietta, McCreenville, and Rutherfordton, N. C., and Blacksburg, Yorkville, Rock Hill, Lancaster, Heath Springs, Kershaw and Camden, S. C. There are cotton factories, one or more at nearly every town named."

Veterans' Day In Camden.

Notwithstanding the inclement weather, the day was a glowing success.

Last Saturday was an ugly day, but nothing daunted, the Daughters of the Confederacy went forward with their preparations for entertaining the Veterans at the Opera House. Mr. W. D. Trantham, Chairman of the committee on enrollment for Kershaw County, had at their request, invited all old soldiers to meet with the Daughters. By 11 o'clock tables were spread in the lobby of the Opera House, and as each Veteran came up he was met by a hand some macon or a beautiful girl who pinned on the lapel of his coat a bunch of violets—a small matter in deed, but one that seemed to touch the old fellows' hearts as in days gone by. Assembling in the Opera House the meeting was opened with a most appropriate prayer by Rev. W. W. Mills, D. D. Upon motion of Dr. A. A. Moore, Mr. Trantham was invited to preside over the meeting. In taking the Chair he stated that the Veterans were called together upon the invitation of the Daughters of the Confederacy who wished to get correct rolls of those living in our midst as well as of the dead who went from Kershaw County, that they may bestow upon them or their representatives Crosses of Honor, and send such records to the Confederate Museum at Richmond. This, Mr. Trantham said, is an important work. Our noble women, all says foremost in every good cause wish to confer their badge of nobility upon every deserving old soldier who still lives, and upon the representatives of those who are dead. This is great distinction, more prized by old soldiers—coming as it does from the women of our Southland who never faltered while there was a hungry soldier to feed or a sick one to nurse—than the Cross of the Legion of Honor, or even the Golden Fleece. Some may say this will require great labor, but it is a pious duty that should be performed. A few years ago the task could have been more easily accomplished than now. A few hence, it will be more difficult. It will not be long when there will be no living witness to tell of the greatest struggle of modern times. The obligation to complete these rolls devolves upon us. It is due to the brave men who gave their lives to the Confederacy. These, whether amid the gloom and suffering of the prison, in the hopelessness of the hospital, or the short, sharp agony of the field, were cheered, comforted and soothed by the thought that at home they would not be forgotten. Then Mrs. C. J. Shannon, Jr., President of John D. Kennedy, Chapter, Daughters of the Confederacy, explained very clearly, and in an easy and graceful manner, the work in which the Daughters are engaged and earnestly solicited the co-operation and assistance of the Veterans.

The Chair then announced that the meeting would be at once but remain in order, and requested the Veterans to come forward and enroll with Messrs. H. C. Salmond, James R. DeLoach, John B. Arrants and others who occupied the tables in front; and that the Daughters would provide lunch for every one at his pleasure.

At this point, Col. E. B. Gantey, Commander of Camp Richard Kirkland, came in, and at the request of Mr. Trantham, took the Chair and presided over the meeting until adjournment. It being the time to elect officers of the Camp, Lieut. commander James L. Halle was elected Commander; 2d Lieut. Commander E. F. Sill was made 1st Lieut. Commander; Messrs. Joel Hough and N. A. Bethune 2nd and 3rd Lieuts. Commander respectively; H. C. Salmond Adjutant, and the other officers re-elected to wit: Jas. I. Villedige, Quartermaster; J. C. Hollings, Commissary; Dr. A. A. Moore, Surgeon; Rev. W. W. Mills, D. D., Chaplain; W. F. Russell, Officer of the day; Thomas Whitaker, 1st Color Serg.; J. E. Alexander, 2nd Color Serg.; John Home, Videtta.

A resolution was adopted providing for a committee of three or more from each township to co-operate with Mr. W. D. Trantham, chairman of committee on enrollment, the same to be appointed by the Chair at his pleasure.

A resolution thanking the Daughters for their great kindness to the Veterans, and for the active zeal displayed by them in their work of preserving the records, and of honoring the living and the dead, was unanimously adopted. The thanks of the Veterans were also tendered the retiring Commander and the retiring Acting Adjutant for the faithful, efficient and earnest manner in which they have performed their duties.

Quite a number of Veterans were proposed and elected members of the camp, and some fifty three or more were enrolled for the Daughters' Crosses of Honor.

Mrs. C. J. Shannon, Jr., read a letter from the State organization inviting Richard Kirkland Camp to meet with them on Daughters Day at the Charleston Exposition, on April 12th. Accepted with thanks.

Mr. J. H. Hough suggested the propriety of erecting a monument to Gen. Kershaw. Said he would be one of one hundred to contribute $5.00 to a fund for this purpose. Mrs. S. Read Stony, a willing Daughter from Columbia, said she would contribute a like sum, and Mrs. Shannon stated that John D. Kennedy, Chapter would co-operate in the work.

Col. E. B. Gantey and Capt. J. J. Bell were chosen delegates to the State reunion, and Capt. L. L. Clyburn and Capt. J. C. Rollings to the Reunion at Dallas, Texas. There being no further business, the meeting, after "Dixie," "Ramp Blue Flag," etc., on the piano by Mrs. Roland Goodale, adjourned with cheers by the "Boys."

State reunion, and Capt. L. L. Clyburn and Capt. J. C. Rollings to the Reunion at Dallas, Texas.

There being no further business, the meeting, after "Dixie," "Ramp Blue Flag," etc., on the piano by Mrs. Roland Goodale, adjourned with cheers by the "Boys."

All were abundantly provided for by the Daughters at the lunch tables, and the old soldiers went away cheering and hurrahing for our noble women. One old soldier with the marks of Sharpsburg, Chickamauga and the Wilderness upon him was proud to say, "If Lee's army had had such a commissary, it would have whipped out here and gone to Boston." Saturday's meeting was a success, and too much cannot be said in praise of Mrs. C. J. Shannon, Jr., the leader, and the matrons and pretty girls who contributed so generously and cordially of their time, their labor and their presence to make it so, and Prof. L. T. Mills, who deserves the thanks of all for assisting so kindly and so efficiently in the work of enrollment. He is indeed a "worthy son of a worthy sire" who is himself a worthy veteran. It was a day that will be long and pleasantly remembered by all who were there.

Trying His Chances in Politics.

W. Hampton Cobb, Esq., a rising attorney at the Columbia bar, who was for several years a regular and entertaining correspondent to The Camden Chronicle, has announced his candidacy for the office of Judge of Probate for Richland County. From what we can learn of Mr. Cobb, his success as a teacher for many years in the public schools of his native county, one year of which time he served as secretary to the Richland county teachers' association, a body composed of some of the brightest teachers, as well as college professors in the State; his painstaking qualities as a law clerk in the office of Hon. John P. Thomas, Jr., who stands high in this State as a lawyer, as a legislator, as a statesman and as a gentleman, we have hope for him success in his new field.
