Some More Good Work.

The city has recently done some good work at the intersection of Lu fayette avenue and Broad street The eidewalk had become badiy washed by water from the avenue Terra cotta piping has been put down through which the water will now pass; and the street leveled off. Our city fathers certainly believe in good street work. And they are right.

The last brick culvert is being put in on Campbelle street. This com pletes the list. Every plank bridge in town has been removed and who will deny the wisdom of it? Our s reets are now in good shape.
