Office Changed.
Mr. W. R. DeLoache has moved his office from the drug store of Zemp & DePass to that of Dr. F. Leslie Zemp, and the No. of his phone is 30—two rings. Mr. DeLoache will fill promptly all orders for wood, coal and drayage. When in need of any of the above ring him up.

To Raise the Track.
It is said that the track at the Seaboard passenger depot will at an early day be raised so as to make it level there. As it now is the up grade is so sharp at that point that considerable difficulty is experienced in starting trains going north. It frequently occurs that heavy trains have to be backed some distance down the road in order to get a start.

Fire.
On Tuesday morning last about 6:30 fire was discovered in the office of the Cotton Oil Mill near the Southern depot. The fire department responded promptly but the fire had gained so much headway, the building was practically destroyed. Fortunately the office is 50 or 75 yards from the mill and only the office was damaged. The origin of the fire is thought to be accidental.

Barn and Four Mules Burned.
The barn and stables of Mr. H. H. Ryde, of Spring Hill were burned about 1 o'clock last night. Four mules, a lot of farming implements and a large supply of hay and fodder were burned in the building. The buildings and contents were insured for $400. The origin of the fire has not been ascertained. The total loss is estimated to approximate $2,000.

Death of Mr. Clifton Jones.
The following notice of the death of Mr. Clifton Jones, who is a son of Mrs. Clifton, of our town, is copied in the Atlanta Journal of 11th inst.

Clifton Jones, of Columbus, an agent of the Southern railroad at that point, died at 8 o'clock yesterday night in Grady hospital, at about 42 years of age, and resident of Columbus. He was a decided popular retired man and had been a member of the Georgia railroad for many years.

He was greatly mourned by the friends he left behind him.

The encampment is an ideal place. It is on a decided elevation, with a fine view of trees, and the distance are seen the mountains. There is a supply of the best of water.

The camp will give the visitors great pleasure. Tomorrow morning men of the city will be present at the opening of the Atlanta Journal.

Social Dots.

The John D. Kennedy Chapter of the U. D. C. will continue their charming social functions during summer so as to keep alive the enthusiasm of its members for the work ahead of them in December. The next meeting will be at the residence of Mrs. W. D. Trantham, who is one of the most interested members and is the active Gleaner of the Chapter.

The young folks of Camden are much interested in tennis, and the court on Rectory Square is a scene of gaiety every pleasant afternoon.

The picnic gotten up at Providence by the Sumter society young men complimentary to our Camden people was one of the most delightful affairs of the season. There is a new hotel for tourist, a dandy pavilion, a bubbling spring of icy cold water and the place is being rapidly built up by the neighboring townspeople as a summer resort and is being largely advertised.

It is said to be always cool and delightful and an ideal health giving atmosphere. The following young men of Camden were invited by the Sumter "boys" to act as a committee of entertainment: Messrs. J. H. Burns, A. L. Burnet, C. C. Whitaker, H. L. DePass and G. H. Lenoir. A happy, tired crowd returned at 9 o'clock at night.

The Colonial Tea given by the ladies of the Baptist church was a most beautiful success. The costumes were gotten up with elaborate care and were very complete, accurate and becoming. The pretty girls in powdered hair, paint and patches were sparklingly lovely. Mrs. McKenzie, a guest of Mrs. Henry Haleall, won the beautiful cake given for the most perfect costume. She presided over a beautiful Colonial tea table as Lady Washington.

An afternoon drive around Camden and the surrounding suburbs proves that the interest in our beautiful town does not flag with the exodus of the northern winter tourists. As the stores all close at six o'clock, thereby giving all the young men in town an opportunity for rest and recreation, there are innumerable driving, riding and walking parties out every afternoon. The ice cream parlors are doing a thriving business. Social visiting is extensive and improvements are going on everywhere. Streets nicely cleaned, gardens gay with flowers and buildings progressing on every side. A number of houses have been repainted and improved, while many new ones are in process of construction.

Citadel Cadets.

The Citadel Cadets passed through Camden on Tuesday last en route to Rock Hill for the summer encampment. The special train conveying the cadets passed Camden at 1:15 p.m.

Speaking of their arrival at Rock Hill a special from there last Tuesday says:

The Citadel cadets reached Rock Hill this afternoon a little after 4 o'clock. They were met at the depot by a crowd of citizens and the Catfish Rifles, who escorted the soldier boys to the camping ground.

The two companies executed several very pretty movements preparatory to the march to the grounds. In less than an hour the boys had stacked arms and ranks were broken. Then Mayor J. J. Hull, in behalf of the city, made a very happy little speech of welcome. He did credit to himself and to his city and the cadets enjoyed his remarks.

He introduced W. M. Dunlap, Reg. chairman of the entertainment committee, who assured the soldier students that the Commercial club, who extended the invitation, gave the heartiest welcome possible to them.

Col. Coward, on behalf of the boys, responded to those words of welcome. But the boys were not kept long by these talks, for they were very brief.

An elegant dinner had been prepared by the ladies of the city and a number of young ladies were waiting to serve the cadets. The boys showed the proper appreciation of this feature. There was an abundance of the most tempting food and in a short while the boys were made to feel at home.

The camp will give the visitors great pleasure. Tomorrow morning men of the city will be present at the opening of the Atlanta Journal.
