SANITARY PLUMBING.

Plumbing is a science. I make a special study of all its branches and look after your interest. Take care that your Master Plumber is an efficient Engineer and understands his business thoroughly. That is where the secret of your work, become my client and you shall be the owner of a first-class sanitary system. You would be surprised to see the old work that I am tearing out every day, because it was done poorly by the experienced men. See me, See me, See me.

Respectfully, JOHN F. JENKINS.

Local News.

Cotton. Cotton is quoted this morning at 9 5/8.

For Rent. My "Cool Spring" place for rent. Possession given 1st of November. Thos J. Kirkland.

Position Wanted. An industrious, trained and experienced young man wants a position as clerk. Now has position in adjoining town but desires change. Will begin on small salary. For information apply at Chronicle office.

Lost. Two (horse) mules strayed from my place on Friday night, Oct 7th. One was an Iron Gray with a roan nose, and the other a sorrel. Anyone giving any information or returning them will be paid with liberal reward. Rev. J. W. Davis, Ionia, S. C.

L. Schenk & Co's. New Advertisement. Of course you see the handsome and attractive new advertisement of Messrs. L. Schenk & Co. One of the best places to make your Fall and Winter purchases is at the Opera House Store. The stock of goods there is large, and fresh from front to rear. They invite you to come and avail yourself of some of the best bargains ever offered. Don't fail to do so.

Letter to Mr. D. Wolfe. Dear Sir: There are two sorts of furniture. You know both; for you sell 'em both. One sort looks better than the other, and the other is better than it looks. There isn't any other.

The same, two sorts of paint, no more, and we make 'em both—we make tons of stuff that isn't worth the freight. Belongs to the business. You have to.

But this is aside. We put intention with our name on, the very best paint there is in the world; Devco lead and zinc. It takes fewer gallons than mixed paints, and it wears twice as long as lead-and-oil. Mr. G. O. Brown, Columbia, S. C., related his house with Devco lead and zinc. The palmer on section, was constantly sent to the house, and it wasn't enough. There were no gallons left, when the job was done.

Yours truly, F. W. Devco & Co., New York.

A Coming Marriage. The many friends of the groom-to-be will be surprised to know that Mr. Claude D. Briscoe, of Bristol, is to wed Miss Laura Boykin, of Lugoff, S. C. The marriage will be a quiet home affair and will occur at the home of the bride's parents on Wednesday evening, October 19th. After spending their honeymoon in Charleston, they will be at home in Bristol.

Mr. Briscoe is a son of Rev. J. P. Briscoe and is one of the city's most promising young business men. He is book keeper for the Morton, Lewis, Wiley Lumber Co. He will leave next Sunday for South Carolina.—Bristol Courier.

At The Opera House. Managers Weeks & Zemp initiated their management of the Camden Opera House Wednesday night with Lovett's Boston Stars, and if this is a sample of the season's attractions we predict great success for them and a satisfied public. The Opera House has just been renovated and presents an entirely new appearance on the inside. We are informed by the above gentlemen that they have some excellent attractions booked for the coming season and all that is necessary to have the best shows stop over at Camden is for the people to patronize the good ones they have booked. The attendance on Wednesday night was very gratifying. It shows that Camden people appreciate good music and a good laugh. Mr. Reynolds, the humorist, made some of the most sedate split their sides with laughter. Miss Harvey's recitations were truly appreciated by lovers of art. Miss Lathard, the violinist, was accorded several times and Miss Lynot, the soprano, has a very rich voice and came in for a big share of applause. The whole aggregation can be truly called stars. We will welcome them back again.

Don't fail to see Miss Rowen and have a stylish suit made at Hirsch Bros. & Co's.

Death of Baron Egmont O. von Tresckow. Baron Egmont O. von Tresckow died at his home in Kirkwood at one o'clock on Thursday morning, Oct. 13th, 1904. He had with his wife and son made Camden his home for the past ten years and had an unusually large circle of friends in his adopted home. He was a most courteous, refined gentleman and will be greatly missed in our community. A Prussian by birth he entered the Army Cadet Corps at an early age, went to a military college where he received a commission as a young officer but on account of ill health resigned and came to New York where he entered into insurance and selling business with some of his European friends. There he met and married Miss Jennie Eldredge, of Binghamton, New York, but returned to Austria when their son, Egmont Charles, was six years of age, making their home for thirteen years at Meran. Finding that his health again needed the change to America he came back to New York to look around for a congenial home and selected Camden where he and his family have been since then a charming acquisition to our town. The Baron was born just sixty-five years ago at his family estate "Dulzitz" in Prussia, and although devoted to Camden and her interest he always retained a loyal fealty to his native home and country.

His funeral services will be held on Saturday and his body will be laid to rest in the beautiful old Oak cemetery here.

He and his family have identified themselves to a charming degree with Camden and her environment, not only endearing themselves to the people but adding material improvements to the place. To the Baron's wife and son the entire community extend heartfelt sympathy in their bereavement.

Don't Want Aaron Williams Hanged.

A petition is being circulated for commutation of the sentence of Aaron Williams to life imprisonment on the penitentiary.

PERSONAL.

Mr. Paul Springman is spending a few days in Camden this week.

Mr. A. E. Ellis formerly with the Camden Lumber Co. has accepted a position at the Seaboard freight depot.

Dr. Simon Baruch, of New York, came down this week to see his old friend Mr. M. Baum. The Doctor is delighted to find Mr. Baum getting on so nicely and hopes to have him out in about three weeks.

No Bids On DeKaib Mills.

Special to the State. Charleston, Oct. 13.—Master D. B. Gilliland returned to Charleston this morning, having gone to Camden to sell the DeKaib cotton mills yesterday, but there was not one bidder and his trip out of the city was fruitless. He will report the matter to the United States district court and the sale of the property will doubtless be ordered for the third time.

Killing at Lucknow.

Special to the State. Bishopville, Oct. 9.—Last night about 9 o'clock a riot occurred at Lucknow, a town about eight miles north of Bishopville, between Harvey Lang, a white man, and several negroes, and as a result Mr. Lang and one negro man named Ezekill Auld died this morning about daylight, there being but a short time difference between their deaths. An inquest was held today over the dead bodies and the jury found that Ezekill Auld came to death by a gunshot wound from the hands of Harvey Lang and that Harvey Lang was killed by Ezekill with a heavy stick.

Social Dots.

Mrs. D. A. Boykin one of the "Young Matrons" varied the club program last Wednesday by having her entertainment at night and inviting all the gentlemen of the social set, so of course it was an unusually attractive and delightful affair. Very elaborate preparations had been made in carrying out in every detail a "Cotton Season Party."

The house was beautifully decorated with the flowy staple. The scorecards were little cotton sheets filled with the fleece and as each score was made a seed added, and the fun was charming at the end of the evening weighing up the contents, Mr. C. O. Moore winning a fine pair of cotton hose, Mrs. J. T. Hay getting a pretty hon bon dish with the seal of the cotton State of South Carolina stamped in it, and Mr. David Williams and Miss Leila Boykin were given the boobies—two large cotton red bandana Kerchiefs. The refreshments were delicious ices, cakes and punch, and all had a merry time.

Miss Margaret Johnson entertained the Acorn Club on Wednesday with her sister, Mrs. M. R. Singleton, as guest of honor. Six hundred encore was played and Miss Henrietta Brailsford won the beautiful picture frame given as first prize. A delicious salad course with olives, tomatoes with sandwiches, crackers, etc., was greatly enjoyed as well as the luscious ice cold fruit punch.

Miss Beth Reid, of Georgetown, is a guest this week at Miss Maida Deas' home in Kirkwood. The Acorn Club will be entertained in her honor this afternoon at Mr. and Mrs. Allen Deas' residence.

Miss Bessie Halls, of Florida, is the guest of Miss Emma Haile at her home on Laurens street.

Mrs. T. Bruce Davis has returned from Jacksonville, Fla., where she accompanied Mr. and Mrs. George DeSaussure to their home there.

Mrs. E. B. Cantey, of Camden, is still with her daughter, Mrs. DeSaussure in Jacksonville.

Miss Emma Shannon returned on Wednesday from a visit of several weeks to New York and Washington. Mr. and Mrs. P. H. Nelson were joined here by their mother, Mrs. P. H. Nelson, Sr., who returned with them to Columbia.

Miss Sarah Boykin is visiting Miss Cora Garrison and Miss Deas Boykin is with her aunt, Mrs. E. M. Boykin, at Sarsfield.
