To Meet Their New Pastor

An entertainment was held at the residence of Mr. R. A. McDowell last night for the members of the Baptist church to meet their new pastor, Rev. J. D. Moore. Quite a large number were present and a pleasant evening was spent.

Historic Camden

Don't fail to provide yourself at once with one of these valuable histories of our camp. The authors, Messrs. Thomas J. Kirkland and Robert E. Kennedy have spent much time and taken great care in the preparation of this book and no home in the community should be without one. Although the book has 424 pages and is well bound the price is only $5.00. It is easily one of the most valuable books that could be added to your library.

Death of Mrs. S. L. Hughes

It was with profound sorrow that the intelligence was received in Camden last Saturday of the death of Mrs. S. L. Hughes who for many years had resided in Camden but who recently had gone to Robins to reside. Her remains were brought to Camden and interred in the cemetery at this place. The funeral services were conducted by Rev. W. B. Gordon and the following gentlemen acted as pall bearers: Messrs. H. G. Garrison, A. D. Kennedy, J. T. Hay, W. D. Thompson, C. J. Shanahan, J. F. and Dr. A. A. Moore.

Donation to The Camden Library.

A box of more than thirty beautifully bound books has just been received at the library. They came from the sisters of Mr. Isaac, a talented young lawyer of New York city, who has recently died. He spent a greater part of winter before last in Camden, and was much pleased with the library—often spoke of it and of the charming cordiality of the librarian. After his death his sisters selected these books from his handsome private library and sent them to Camden. Mr. Isaac was a nephew of Mrs. M. Baum—a young man of great promise, and brilliant prospects. His untimely death is regretted by all who knew him.

Why buy a cat in a sack—at our exhibit next week we will show you a majestic mink operation. Burns & Barrett.

Death of Dr. S. J. Hinson.

Special to The State.—Dr. S. J. Hinson died at this place today at 11 o'clock a. m., after several weeks' confinement to his room. He was the son of the late G. C. Hinson and in the 40th year of his age. He graduated at the Charleston Medical College in 1891 and located at this place where he soon built up a large and profitable practice. In 1890 he was married to Mrs. Lily Bruce, daughter of the late A. E. Bruce. During the 10 months of his ill health he was ever cheerful and attended to his duties until the grip of death was on him. Dr. Hinson leaves a widow and one son, also several brothers, among whom are Mr. D. E. Hinson of Camden and Dr. F. C. Hinson. The funeral services will be held at 10 o'clock tomorrow at the residence, and will be conducted by his pastor, the Rev. S. N. Watson. The interment will take place at the old Salem cemetery, with Knights of Pythias honor.

Cornel Stone laid.

Notwithstanding the weather was hot there was a large crowd present and the ceremonies were very interesting.

Notwithstanding the inclemency of the weather an audience of about two thousand people witnessed the laying of the corner stone of the new Court House.

The exercises, which were conducted under the auspices of the Masons, were opened with prayer by the Grand Chaplain, Rev. John Kershaw of Charleston.

The tin box containing relics was then placed in the receptacle in the stone and the stones lowered. Grand Master Bellinger with square and level then tested the stone and pronounced it "a good foundation."

The address of the Grand Master was then delivered after which a collection was taken up among the Masons for the benefit of workmen engaged on the building who might be in need.

After his address had been completed Mr. Bellinger stated that he forgot to mention the fact that when the Court House is being erected in the spot upon which stood the residence in which Lafayette was entertained in 1825 when he was here to lay the corner stone of DeKalb's Morris' court, and that the silver trowel used is the same one used by Lafayette, and the trowel was made by a resident of Camden—Mr. A. Young whose grandson now resides in Camden—Mr. W. M. Young.

The benediction was then pronounced by Rev. John Kershaw.

The following is a list of the relics placed in the corner stone:

Copy of "Historic Camden" by Messrs. T. J. Kirkland and R. M. Kennedy which was contributed by the City Council.

Resolutions copied from the minutes of the Board of County Commissioners including subparagraph of Mr. J. W. Butler, and certified by them over their signatures.

Copy of the Warren Messenger of Dec. 20, 1904, containing an account of Lafayette's visit from its construction in 1821 to its destruction by fire in May, 1904, by E. C. von Eschow.

Copy of the Camden Chronicle, dated April 28, 1905, containing the published notice of the County Commissioners authorizing the laying of the corner stone on May 3, 1905, under the auspices of the Masonic Lodge and inviting the attendance of the public.

Copy of the People of April 27, 1905, containing editorials on "Push Camden" and "A Picturesque Camp."

Cards of T. C. Thompson & Son, of Birmingham, Ala., builders of the new Court House, and Edwards & Walter, architects of Columbia.

Autograph signatures of business men of Camden, signifying their favorable response to the request of Council that the stones be stored at 4:45 p. m. in honor of the occasion.

A Confederate memory bill of $500 dated Feb. 17, 1861, with the portrait of Stonewall Jackson and the motto: "Deo Vindice," deposited by Dr. F. Leslie Zump.

A most interesting object was the trowel used by Mr. Bellinger in laying the corner stone, a partial history of which has been given above. It is small but is made of solid silver. It has an ivory handle and the entire thing is a marvel of skill. The front side of it contains the following inscription:

Made for Brother Lafayette
to lay the corner stone of DeKalb
Memorial
1825

The reverse side contains nothing but the name in very small letters, "A. Young."

This trowel was at one time the property of the Camden Masonic Lodge but in some way passed into the possession of the Grand Lodge of the State.

Attached to its handle are numerous pieces of ribbon which indicate some of the many times and places it has been used in laying the corner stones of important public buildings.

Come and see the great cooking wonder at our store all next week see advertisement in this paper.
