CAMDEN, S. C., NOV. 17, 1905

Who Said "Sewerage?"

We are anxious to know if the sewerage question has been placed "on the shelf" for good. Certainly all things point that way, unfortunately. Our greatest need is a sewerage plant and the sooner the question is negotiated and the plant installed, the sooner will Camden get what she should have had many months ago. It is a question that should be acted on AT ONCE. We beg of you to TALK SEWERAGE.

To Improve Our Parks.

The city is improving Monumental Square and making of it a very attractive park. Now inasmuch as the town is doing its part, cannot the ladies form a society for the purpose of further beautifying these parks? Many things do not appeal to males, would appeal very strongly to the ladies. It is they who know just where a fern or a rose bush or jessamine would show off to best advantage and receive the warmest rays of the sun, hence we turn this over to the "gentle sex" and admit our entire ignorance on the subject. We trust that this suggestion will meet with the approval of the ladies and they will give this matter their careful consideration.

Cotton Is Worth Fifteen Cents Says President Jordan

Atlanta, Ga., Nov. 13.—President Harris Jordan of the Southern Cotton Association, in an interview this morning, says:
"The open declaration of Sec. Wilson of the department of agriculture that the recent condition report of 688 is accurate and trustworthy and which shows that the year's crop will be in the neighborhood of only 10,000,000 bales, should knock out all high estimates and put everybody down on the working basis of a short crop. Sec. Wilson's estimate confirms the report made by this association some time ago, predicting a crop of about 10,000,000 bales. As this report is confirmed by accurate information from the two more reliable sources, it is unquestionable that the remainder of the crop now in the hands of the planters should not be marketed for less than 15 cents a pound. I shall at once issue a proclamation advising this course."

The Kenyon Hazing Horror

In South Carolina at least, hazing is practiced only to a slight extent. It is not to be supposed that "Fresh" will ever escape his inevitable "introduction to college life," but luckily this "introduction" is more of a good natured joke than of cruel torture that we read about at times befalling new men at various institutions throughout the country. Hazing is not such an evil as imagined if practiced in a mild form, but when physical suffering is a part of the "program" the punishment is too severe for the perpetrators of this act.

We do not know if young Pierce was bound to the railroad track, we hate to believe that such was the case. It is almost incomprehensible that college boys in order to gain an end would resort to such an infamous deed. It is incomprehensible, because any sane person would know that to tie a man to railroad tracks would jeopardize that man's life. Is it possible that Pierce's hazers were madmen? Such would seem to be so if they actually bound him to these tracks. But men bent on such deeds are usually mad, not really insane, but frenzied, delirious, violent—in other words dangerous. We trust that all hidden things will be brought to light during the present investigation. An example should be made. If the parties accused are guilty, they should be dealt with to the fullest extent of the law.
