Lynch Mob at Bishapville.

Last night Bisbopville was in a turmoil of expitement. A band of armed men rode into the town with now being offered them at less than the announced purpose of lynching a

The sheriff had gotten word of the attempt and prepared for it. As the mob game up he and several deputies opened fire and the mob responded, but evidently feeling that they were not equal to an attack on a fortified place they withdrew. As a matter of fact, it is said, that the sheriff and in the business world and lay the his posse fired over the heads of the foundation for independence and mob, but that was sufficent, as the fortune should write for full partie | sequel showed. The town naturulars to E. L. Martin. Prest, Macon, ally was much aroused in the immediate vicinity of the Jail. Other eitizens not knowing what was going on rang church bells so as to bring out all the male inhabitants. There was the intergest excitement, but no bloodehed.
