A Marked Improvement.
The new front of the Opera House Store is nearing completion, and is indeed "A thing of beauty" quite transforming the appearance of the building. It is now exceedingly attractive, and all the more inviting to the exceptional values in the various lines of merchandise as offered by L. Schenk & Co.

Mr. McKenzie Declines.
Mr. Editor:—I noticed in your esteemed paper a suggestion from my friends to enter the race for Sup't. of Education. I very much appreciate the confidence reposed in me yet after due consideration find it impossible to make the race this time and hope my friends will excuse me.
Respectfully,
I. J. McKenzie,
Camden, S. C., R. F. D. No. 1.

An Inquiry From Georgia.
Baxley, Georgia, June 28, 1906.
Mr. Editor:—Please allow me space in your paper to make known to my sister and brother that I am alive yet. I have not heard from them since 1888. I am the son of Mr. Joe Burgess, and was raised in Kershaw county, S. C. but have been living in Appling county, Ga. for 21 years.
A. J. Burgess,
Box 86, Baxley, Ga.

Union Meeting.
The union meeting of the Kershaw Baptist Association will convene with the Mt. Olivet Baptist church Saturday before the 5th Sunday in this month. The meeting will embrace two days, Saturday and Sunday.

Saturday.
Morning Session.
10:30—Devotional by R. E. Peterson.

11—Query. Is the Sunday School a work of the church? Is the church responsible for its progress?

12:30—Dinner on the yard.

Afternoon Session.

1:30—Can we more wisely appropriate our home mission money just at present, than to answer with it, the needy cry for help in our own association?

2:30—An exposition of Romans 6, 1st to 15th; by Rev. Mr. Mitchell of Camden.

Miscellaneous business.

Sunday.
Morning Session.

10—Prayer and praise.

10:40—Commencement on Sunday School lessons by R. E. Peterson.

12:15—Framing by Rev. Mr. [Name].

We have left the program open that every one is at liberty to propose his speech. We hope to have interesting, inspiring and edifying speeches.

Let us try to make this the best of these our gatherings.

W. B. [Name], Sec'y.

Deaths.
The many friends of Mrs. Ellis Craft will regret to learn of her death which occurred at her home near Antioch, on Wednesday last.
Mr. George Jackson died at his home in West Water on Wednesday last. Mr. Jackson was 75 years of age and was a very estimable gentleman.

Death of Mrs. Latham.
The community learned with much sorrow, Tuesday morning, of the death of Mrs. Carrie B. Latham. For many months Mrs. Latham had been in wretched health, having contracted the fatal disease from her husband, so it is supposed, and whom she nursed most faithfully during his sickness. Mrs. Latham was only about 27 years of age and leaves behind two little children. To these and all relatives and friends, the community unites with us in heartfelt sympathy.
The funeral services took place at the Camden Baptist church, on Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock, the following gentlemen acting as pallbearers: Messrs G. C. Bruce, L. L. Block, R. T. Goodale, J. C. Nicholson, T. B. Bruce and Rivers Alexander.

IT WAS DONE IN THE FIFTH

Camden. Captured The Last by a Narrow Margin—It was Three Straights From Manning.

Wednesday's game was a good clean exhibition of base-ball and the fans went wild in the fifth when we tied the score and made two to the good.

In the first inning Manning scored once. After that it was 0's until the fifth when Mabry on second was brought home by Laval's two-bagger, Hogue got to second and Morrow's hit saved the day, bringing to the home plate both Laval and Hogue. Manning made one run in the 7th, after that neither team scored. It was fast and furious ball and the attendance was good.

On Monday last the plucky Manning team put up the snappiest and cleanest game of the season on Camden's diamond. It was a genuine treat and no team in the league could have played better ball. Camden won by luck, Gunter taking long chances sprinted home from third while the ball was held in left field. The fans bubbled over with various kinds of intoxicating joy and Manager "Guy" was hailed lion of the hour. The score was 1 to 0 in the 10th.

What is the use of brawls on the field? Can't ball be played without this everlasting kicking and fighting? It rots the game of interest, and the people that pay their money for good smooth ball will become disappointed and disgusted if scrapping be allowed. The game Tuesday was marred by an almost unpardonable display of passion on the part of some of our men and prize-ring tactics. Such scenes are to be deplored and should not be tolerated. The score stood 7 to 0 in Camden's "behalf!"

The game yesterday resulted in a score of 7 to 1 in favor of Orangeburg.

Echoes From Fan-Land.
'Buck' Flowers, Camden's old pitcher, was in the box Tuesday, and was given quite a welcome.

Lavender and Davenport have donned the Darlington green, in exchange for "Buck."
The season is half over and we are still the LEADERS—now for the pennant.

What was the matter with the "amateurs" in Cheraw? That score was "ferce."
To-day's game is our's—we can scent it in the air.

A Letter From Colorado.
The many friends of Mrs. S. E. Goodale, who left here recently to make her home in far away Colorado, will be glad to learn that she arrived there safely, and will read with much pleasure the following letter from her.

333 Wilson Ave.,
Florence, Colorado, July 10, 1906.
Mr. W. L. McDowell,
Dear Sir:—
Will you please send The Chronicle to my address. I want to greet its familiar and appreciated columns in my new home up among the majestic Rockies.

Words cannot express or pen write the grandeur of the Rocky mountains as mountain after mountain is piled up capped by Pike's Peak, covered with snow. One stands in speechless awe and wonder of the magnitude of the great Creator who is the maker and ruler of all these wonders. Nevertheless the works of man among these same mountains are also wonderful. As the locomotive with its long train of coaches filled with pulsing humanity climbs to the top of Pike's Peak, one cannot help but wonder how all this has come about. It is impossible to describe the sensation one experiences in being so high up among the mountains. It effects some so much that they cannot stay in such a high altitude on account of their hearts. Others feel a certain dizzy sensation like sea sickness which passes off in a short while as soon as one is acclimated to the climate which is cool and pleasant. Nearly all the time at night it is so cold that blankets are very comfortable with windows and doors closed.

The people in the valleys, or rather among the foothills, live in small houses and tents; the rocks hang over the small encampments like they might drop at any time and crush them out of sight—and yet they live on. While this meager living is true of the small communities among the foothills, the people in the cities are up to all modern improvements—beautiful homes, waterworks, (the water flowing from the melted snow of the mountains.) Oh, it is exquisite! Steam, electricity, gas—all combined to make labor light and add to the pleasure and comfort of the people.

One refinery here turns out solid gold bricks, just to think of a solid gold brick weighing sixty pounds. One man went secretly to the refinery and carried a gold brick away in his buggy. This is the only way they can be transported. Now far from here is the largest gold mine in the world. I hope to visit it. If I do I will give you the benefit of my observations. I have not seen a great deal as yet of this wonderful country. More news.
