Lucknow Dots.
Mr. Editor:—We have had quite an abundance of rain for the past two months. Crops are improving. Corn is fine, and potatoes excellent. The pea crop will be much better than last year. Gardens are better than they have been. Grapes are now ripe. The farmers all made good oat crops and this helped them much in the feed line. They have planted the oat patches in corn and it looks very promising. Cotton is not doing so well—there has been too much rain for it. The sons of Mr. and Mrs. John Mann, two old acquaintances and friends of yours, have bought two lots in Lucknow. These worthy young gentlemen have never waited for something to turn up but have always turned something up. There are two ways to get rid of the cabbage and collard bugs that are ruining the gardens. One is to take Chinaberry leaves and whip the plants in the morning while the dew is on them, knocking the bugs. They will not seize upon them and your garden is safe. Sherman has had good luck here this season. The merchants are doing a business. We have water everywhere and everything looks bright in and around Lucknow. Flourishing Sunday. Mr. F. B. Field scolding. Hardest rain last that has visited. Misses Emma and Edith.

FOR RENT OR FOR SALE.

Family Reunion.
There will be a family reunion at the residence of Mr. C. E. Davis, on Thursday, Aug. 15th, the occasion being the 85th anniversary of the birthday of Mr. E. W. Davis. The public is cordially invited to attend and bring well filled baskets.

Notice.
Camden Chronicle:—Please permit me to extend a most cordial invitation to every old friend and fellow citizen to attend our meeting of days to begin on next Sunday, Aug. 11th, 11 A. M., at Friendship Baptist Church, West Water-teree. Fraternally,
T. W. Scruggs.

Obedient Orders.
Gen. Sherman once possessed an Irish servant whose forte was asking questions and trying to find out why and wherefore of everything he was told to do. During a battle, and orderly one day approached the general and told him that his favorite horse, Ross, had been struck by a cannon ball and killed. Calling his Irish servant, the general said, "Go skin Ross."
"Why, sir, is Ross dead?" began the man.
Gen. Sherman rose up in his wrath, saying, "Never mind whether he is dead or not—I told you to go out and skin him."
The man returned about three hours later, and Sherman hailed him with the words, "Where have you been? Does it take you three hours to skin a horse?"
"No," answered Mike, "but it took me about two hours to catch him."

The Last Confederate.
[Published by Request.]
His nation born on an April morn,
And laid on an April eve,
His a wind-tossed banner
For which the wind shall grieve,
Who will it be, and when will it be,
But one will the last Confederate be.
They wait him who has passed until the rolls be complete.
The rolls of Jackson and Lee.
The man will bear him to his last resting place,
And place on his white grave stone,
Here lies the last of a gallant host,
The last Confederate is he.
Rounding half a century,
Yet none knoweth the hour,
When an army arose as the sun,
Upon a host of flowers.
The drummer boy of sad Shiloh,
Will be a boy with Hood,
Or the youth at his fallen sides post,
Who the bearded foe withstood.
Gold is the age of youth,
Silver its debt in death,
Gold at Manassas his silver age,
Death at Appomattox lays.
