Must Register In Order To Vote.

Attorney General Lyon, at the which looks a great deal more like request of Gov. Ansel, has render one sheet of a newspaper than an ed an important opinion on the re- election ticket. It is three columns quirements of the act of 1908 on wide as printed, being almost as on re-enrollment and registration wide as four columns of The News of voters. This act was passed by and is 18 inches long, or just two the general assembly, in accordance thirds the size of a page of The Moulding, Building Material with the provision of the constitu- Naws. tion, requiring new registration every ten years; and special appropriations were made for the boards of registration in order that the books might be hept open a longer time than usual.

Mr. Lyon holds that each and Candid S C., Nov. 19, 1906. every voter who has heretofore registered must re-register and have his name entered on the books in the same manner as if it were entirely new registration. There is a previso that those registered before. 1898 shall be entitled to another registration upon presentation of their tertificates from the clerk of central secution of state that the transfer opposit upon the recon's prior to 1898. On the new should be entered at the names.

The open to is a strict constrution of the law, but Mr. Lyon feels that the set of lows chen; I be carried out to the letter and the registration backs be purged of thous ands of name of those lead or temoved from the siste and that hereafter the nearly of segistration should be required to keep the books close Itis to int was made in Bathwell county some months ago when an effort was made to get up a petition to vate out the dispen-Bary The names of hundreds of Voters were counted in when they were not entitled to registration. Since then Gov. And has made it plain to all bout to that the las should be strictly enforced.

The request for the opinion came up on a query from a citizen of Dillon interested in the estab ment of a new county in the uppe section of Marion county It is therefore of considerable imporelection on the petition presented will be ordered within the next few monthe. -State, 28rd.
