

AT HEYMAN'S

But a few weeks and Christmas will be upon us. It naturally means that Holiday shoppers must get busy.

You are cordially invited to call at THE JEWELRY STORE and inspect the largest and best selected stock of reasonable gift goods ever shown in this city, and incidentally make a selection early and we'll take care of them for you until X'mas eve. Start to-day.

M. H. HEYMAN,
The Jeweler.

Mrs G H Lenoir, president of the John D Kennedy Chapter U D C, and Miss Lela Shaanon, historian, left on Tuesday to attend the State Convention in Abbeville, to which they had been elected delegates from the home chapter.

The many friends of Mr W P Mills will be pleased to learn that he is spending his winter vacation with his mother in Camden. Mr Mills, who it will be remembered, won a Rhodes Scholarship to Oxford, England, speaks most interestingly of his travels and impressions of the Old World.

Miss Julia Lawrence of Darlington spent Thanksgiving with her sister in Camden.

Mr Lexie Gosenheimer has been visiting his parents in Camden.

Mr D E Hinson was called to Lancaster this week on account of the death of his brother, Mr Broadus Hinson, which occurred on Tuesday last.

Gen J W Floyd was in Camden yesterday. Gen Floyd has many warm friends here who are always delighted to see him.

Compositions from The Camden School.

[These compositions are written in the class room, under the eye of the teacher and absolutely without aid.]

"Mother" is what a world of love is in that one word. It is the sweetest word in the language, because it means unity and comfort. Who can take a mother's place? No one; for no matter how kind and good other people are to you, no one will do this for you like a mother will.

A mother would, and very often does, give up everything for her children. Think of the many women who work so hard that their children may have an education. And look at the many men who have become great; many of their mothers were poor. After a mother does everything in her power for a child, I think that the very least thing that he can do is to be very grateful to her and do everything to make her happy and comfortable.

Among a great many instances of a mother's influence are the following: Once there was a great famine in Rome, other people sent provisions to the poor at Rome. A man named Coriolanus said: "Let us not give this to the poor, but let us give up the farms who rule over them. The people were so angry with him, he had to flee. He got an army and was coming to take Rome; all the entreaties were in vain until his mother and some other women came and pleaded with him not to take Rome, he replied: 'Mother you have saved Rome, but lost your son'."
