Bozeman-Boykin.
The social interest of the week has been centered in the marriage of Miss Inez Evelyn Bozeman to Mr. Joseph Sumter Boykin on Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock. Antioch Baptist Church was a scene of fairy like beauty and showed the result of excellent taste and artistic ability in the decoration of ivy and smilax. To the strains of Mendelssohn's wedding march rendered by Miss Jane Craig of Lancaster the ushers came in. The bride entered upon the arm of her sister, Miss Nina Bozeman, of Darlington. They were met at the altar by the bridegroom with his best man, Mr. Julius Hancock of Providence. After the ceremony performed by Rev. T. L. Cole the march was resumed and the wedding party went out. The bride who is a young lady of unusual beauty was charming in her bridal dress of white satin chiffon over taffeta with trimming of batting Irish lace.

After the ceremony the relatives and intimate friends were invited to the home of Mr. Boykin where a reception was given them. In the dining room the colors were green and white. A delicious course was served with tea. In the hall and parlor were displayed the many handsome presents attesting the popularity of the young couple. The bride is the eldest daughter of Mr. T. H. Bozeman of Darlington where she has a large number of friends who hope for her a long and happy life. The distant friends were from Bishopville, Camden and Darlington.

Tourist Hotels

KIRKWOOD HOTEL

Society was well represented at the concert which was given at the Kirkwood Hotel on Wednesday afternoon. Miss May Oats who has a fine contralto voice sang with much sweetness, and Miss Marion Cameron Fielding played the violin with many loud applause from the appreciative audience. The concert was given for the benefit of the Historic fund of the Camden D. A. R. On Tuesday last a tennis tournament was started at the Kirkwood Hotel. The events consisting of gentlemen's singles, ladies' singles and mixed doubles. Several rounds in each event have been played off, and all the finals are to be played off on Saturday next. Wednesday last Mrs. Samuel Green who has been spending the winter in the Salmond House entertained at bridge, a party of friends. Those who won prizes were Miss N. Goodwin of Virginia, Mrs. Robt. L. Lee of New York and Mrs. Earle of New York.

Polo, which is now the talk of the town, is to start on Monday next, and continue through the week. Several Philadelphia players have come down here to get practice and to play on the Prochoters teams, which comes off next Friday. These players have already shipped down six teen fine polo ponies. The arrivals are: L. C. and C. C. Cummings, Miss Cummings, Brooklyn, N. Y.; Dr. Geo. A. Sullivan, Henry Converse, Albany, N. Y.; G. W. Brainerd, Pineaster, V. I.; M. and Mrs. M. Armstrong, Orange, N. J.; C. B. Ryan, Norfolk, Va.; Wm. R. Bass, Jr., Mr. and Mrs. W. S. Soren, Mrs. Wm. Farquhar, Miss G. V. Farnum, New York City; Paul C. Yank, Madison, N. J.

Besides a widow Mr. Gerald leaves surviving him five children—Mr. John D. Gerald of Manning, Mr. Arthur Gerald of Augusta, Ga., Misses Minnie and Mattie Gerald and Mrs. John E. Rhame of Camden. Being of a quiet and unassuming nature Mr. Gerald had many friends, in fact everybody was his friend. It can truthfully be said of him that he did no harm and wished everybody well. He was a good citizen, a devoted husband and a kind and indulgent father. He was confined to his bed for five months but he bore his affliction without a murmur, being perfectly satisfied when surrounded by his loved ones, whose faithfulness and devotion to him was beautiful to witness. Never have we seen greater devotion or faithfulness anywhere. Each member of the family, without a single exception, did all for him that love could devise, some of them exceeding their physical endurance. For weeks before his death his devoted wife and children were constantly at his bedside and not the slightest wish of his was left ungratified. Although he had been sick so long the end came as quietly as a babe falling asleep, indeed so peaceful was his sleep that those nearest him could scarcely detect when life passed out. Mr. Gerald was a member of the Methodist church and his beloved pastor bore testimony that days before his death his trust was strong in a crucified Redeemer.

The funeral took place from the Methodist Church at 3 o'clock on Sunday afternoon. The floral offerings were profuse and beautiful. Seldom has a more exquisite collection been seen. An especially attractive tribute was sent by the firm of Voncamp, Vaughan & Gerald of Augusta, Ga., of which Mr. Arthur Gerald is a member; also one from the clerks of the same establishment. A very pretty design was also sent by the local chapter Daughters of the Confederacy. So large was the collection that when placed upon the mound the grave was almost entirely hidden from view. The music both at the Church and the grave was beautiful and appropriate. The selections at the Church were, "Asleep in Jesus, blessed sleep," and "We'll never say goodbye in Heaven."
