CAMDEN, S. C., OCT. 28, 1910

To Rural School Principals and Teachers.

The United States Department of Agriculture has recently issued two bulletins of universal interest to rural teachers. They have been prepared by Dick J. Crosby and F. W. Howe, Specialists in Agricultural Education and are entitled "School Lessons on Corn" and "School Exercises in Plant Production." These bulletins are based on the sensible assumption that the child is primarily interested in the practical and experimental side of any science and that any general interest in agriculture will be the result of some special agricultural experiment in which he may be engaged.

Three thousand boys in South Carolina this year raised an acre of corn. Many of them will receive the diploma awarded by the State Board of Education for producing seventy-five bushels per acre. We confidently expect five thousand boys to take part in the corn contest next year. The air is full of corn talk. The teacher of South Carolina should have a part in extending this movement and should use this acute special interest as a means of teaching general agriculture.

Through the kindness of the Department of Agriculture and the courtesy of Senator Tillman, Mr. W. K. Tate, State Supervisor of Elementary Rural Schools, has 5,000 of these bulletins for distribution. A supply has been sent by him to each County Superintendent of Education. Any teacher may have copies of these bulletins by writing to Mr. Tate in Columbia.

County Fair Notice.

Notice is given that the time for receiving entries for exhibits of cattle, sheep, goats and hogs has been extended from October 22, to November 1. (See rules governing Exhibits No. 6.)

The Beck & Gregg Hardware Co. through the courtesy of its local agent, Mr. A. D. Kennedy, has offered a spring tooth cultivator as a special prize to the farmer taking the greatest number of blue ribbons on farm products at this County Fair.

Entries of exhibits are coming in rapidly, and the outlook is quite encouraging for a first-class show. We would urge, however, a greater interest in the department of farm products as entries so far in this department are surprisingly few. This is one of the most important features of the fair, and the exhibits are easily gotten up and the prizes liberal. Let every farmer stir himself and get together an exhibit for this department.

H. G. Carriean, Jr.,
Sec. Fair Com.

There will be some three-cornered politics in South Carolina in the next general election to be held on November 8. There will be three parties to go to the polls—Democrats, Republicans and Socialists.

The latest political announcement is to the effect that Charles W. Thompson of Reesville will be a candidate on the Socialist ticket to oppose C. L. Bleas, the nominee of the Democratic party. So far the Republicans have not expressed an intention of putting a governor in the field.

The Socialists will also put out candidates for congress in several districts of the State.—The State.

Says an exchange: "The man who gets mad at what the newspaper says about him should return thanks three times a day for what the newspaper knew about him and suppressed."

Verse 21, chapter 7, of Ezra, has all the letters of the alphabet except "J." Just brush the dust off your Bible and see if this is not true.

There is no doubt but that a large per cent of the degradation, disgrace, ruin and crime among the young, springs from the habit of night prowling, corner loafing and kindred acts by both sexes in city, town and hamlet all over this broad country. Any person who keeps his or her eyes open knows this. Hundreds of boys and girls are out at night, and we all know that many influences for evil and none for good surround them continually. A curfew restriction may be derided as old fashioned and Paritani-cal, but the fact remains that there is vastly less night prowling in towns that have a curfew ordinance and enforce it.—Ez.

There is a beautiful legend that at creation's dawn an angel came down to earth, seeking something to take back with it to heaven. I returned with a bouquet of flowers, a baby's smile and a mother's love. When it reached the pearly gates of Paradise again the flowers had withered, the baby's smile had vanished, but the mother's love was found to be as pure and eternal as the waters that flowed by the heavenly throne, and all the angels exclaimed: "There is nothing on earth so pure and lasting as a mother's love."

A newspaper is in no sense a child of charity. It earns twice over every dollar it receives, and it is second to no enterprise in contributing to the upbuilding of the community. Its patrons reap far more benefit from its pages than its publishers, and in calling for the support of the community in which it is published, it asks for no more than in all fairness belongs to it. Patronize and help your paper as you would any other enterprise because it helps you, and not as an act of charity.

Be natural. Do not try to impress people with your importance. If you are really important they will find it out. If you are of no account you will not deceive anyone by acting as though great interests rested in your keeping. The day of pomposity is past, we hope never to return. More people than ever before are intelligent and able to judge those with whom they come in contact. This means that they are able to judge you and place a true rather than a false estimate on your abilities.

How much better it is to take the brambles out of the path of your friend than to add thorns to wound his feet.

It is better to be an honest man in one language than a liar in five.—Ex.
