

THE CAMDEN CHRONICLE.

Volume XXI. No. 52.

Camden, S. C., April 14, 1911.

W. L. McDowell, Prop.

Without the best in groceries your cooking cannot be a success. A good working man never attempts to build with deficient tools or bad material. He is too proud of his work. So with the successful cook. Only the finest groceries can bring satisfaction. We sell that kind. Successful cooks are our best patrons.

Deaths.
Mrs. Willey Team died at her home in Ridgeway last Saturday morning. Mrs. Team is the mother of Dr. Team of Ridgeway.
Mr. Dolph Kelly who was struck in the head with a hatchet some time ago, died on Monday afternoon. The young man charged with Mr. Kelly's death is in jail.

Will Be In Camden on Monday.
The real estate man, T. M. Belk, of Lancaster, will be in Camden on Monday, and wishes to talk with any one interested in buying or selling real estate. Call on him at Mr. T. J. Kirkland's office. He is anxious to get hold of some cheap land hill lands that can be sold at one, two and three dollars per acre. Your business solicited.
Respectfully,
T. M. Belk.

Mayor Jennings Has Reconsidered.
Sumter, Apr. 10.—Mayor Jennings in a statement made public today withdrew his resignation, handed to the city clerk on March 29. Mayor Jennings gave as his reason for taking this step the fact that he had been urged by friends to do so and the fact that the committee from the chamber of commerce which waited on him, had showed that it was for the best interest of the city.

Missionary Union.
The first meeting of the Women's Missionary Union Auxiliary of Kershaw County was held in the Camden Baptist Church on April 7 and 8. There was no large delegation but a very enthusiastic and encouraging beginning was enjoyed, and plans made to enlarge and prosecute the woman's work throughout the Association. The address of Rev. M. L. Lawson was enjoyed and appreciated by those present. Thanks are tendered our county papers for their courtesy in extending the notice of the meeting.
Mrs. S. E. Goodale, Supt.

A Pleasant Occasion.
Apr. 10.—Monday.
Place—Methodist Parsonage.
Time—This, Monday Night 8 o'clock.

Will my friends of the male persuasion (named herewith) come to my wigwam by the light of the pale moon to-night—and sit around my campfire, and eat and drink and smoke and talk? Come!

In response to the above invitation sent out by Dr. Browne of the Methodist church, quite a number assembled at the Methodist parsonage last Monday evening and a most enjoyable time was spent. Several ladies were present who served light refreshments. Mr. Robin Zemp, treasurer of the building committee, read a very delightful report which showed the balance owed on the Church was very small. The meeting closed with a very feeling prayer by Dr. Browne.

Baptist Evangelist Coming.

Rev. J. E. McMannaway, one of the Home Board Evangelists is coming to us. He will be with us in this association all day Saturday before the fifth Sunday in April, in our union meeting services at Mt. Olivet Baptist Church four miles from Camden. Brethren send your delegation to Mt. Olivet to the union and to meet Bro. McMannaway. He'll tell us some things of vast importance, something that will do us good, things worth learning about Home Missions. So make your plans now to come to the union. Bro. McMannaway wants to see you there, he wants to shake your hand, he wants to talk to you, he wants to do you good.

So come at any sacrifice. Look for program in next issue of this paper.
Humbly yours in service,
W. S. Walters, Com.

PERSONAL
Mr. Sutton Johnson, of Virginia, visited his sister, Mrs. C. U. Vaughan this week.

Mr. M. C. West has been appointed a delegate to the good roads convention which meets in Birmingham, Ala., some time in May.

Theatre-going, Card Playing and the Ball Room.

Rev. M. L. Lawson is preaching on Sunday nights a series of sermons upon the evils of the above mentioned popular amusements which are indulged in more or less by church members. Theatre-going was his subject last Sunday night. The other two will be taken up next Sunday night and the Sunday night following.

Card of Thanks.
We desire to return our warmest thanks to the citizens of this community for kindness and sympathy extended to us during the protracted illness and death of our little child. While our home now has a vacant chair, yet as we reflect upon the many deeds of sympathy and love, it gives a silver lining to the dark cloud left by death. From many came flowers and tokens of love which were appreciated more than we have words to express. May the Lord bless you all and spare you such sorrow is our sincere wish.
Very truly,
E. J. Lewis and Family.

Colored Society Wedding.

Colored society was all astir on Tuesday evening, April 11th, when Miss Annie Rebecca McLain was united in marriage to Mr. Amos Reynolds Collins at Trinity Methodist Episcopal Church, thus forging a link between two of the oldest and most prominent colored families in Camden.

At 5:30 the assembling of the cars and carriages announced the proximity of the hour when the happy pair was to approach Hymen's altar. At 5:55 Mrs. Angie Wright-Thompson, accompanied by Mrs. Geo. W. McLain, Jr., who also played the wedding march, effectively rendered the beautiful solo, "The Ideal of My Dreams."

At 6:00 the solemn strains of Mendelssohn's "Wedding March" filled the auditorium of Trinity Church, and the audience sat in rapt and expectant silence as Messrs. D. N. Collins and Jas. McLain, ushers, piloted the groomsmen and bridesmaids to their respective places at the altar.

The bride, exquisitely gowned in white embroidered chiffon over white messaline, was led to the altar by her father, Mr. Geo. W. McLain, Sr. She was met by the groom on the arm of his best man, Mr. M. D. Collins.

All of the bridesmaids, the dame and maid of honor were most tastefully attired in white suitline, while the groom, his best man and groomsmen wore the conventional Prince Alberts.

Pink and white, the color scheme was beautifully carried out in the gowns and bouquets of the bridal party.

The bridesmaids, Misses Jessie Dinkins, Julia Micky and Josie Collins and dame of honor, Mrs. J. E. Withers attired in white suitline trimmed with messaline and lace, carried bouquets of lilies of the valley and ferns. Miss Minnie Lula McLain, maid of honor, wore pink messaline veiled in lavender marquisette and carried a bouquet of pink roses and carnations. Reba McLain and Jennie Douglass, brides of the bride, prettily dressed in pink and white, carried in the ring and cushion, the bride carried white roses and carnations.

The altar was beautifully decorated with banks of ferns, amaranth and pink roses which served to add hope and freshness to the already happy occasion. There gracefully arose above the heads of the principals an arch of pink roses behind which stood the Reverend Doctor R. A. Cottingham, pastor of Trinity Church, who read the simple but impressive marriage service which made the two man and wife.

Among the guests of honor were: Miss Lillian Dyson of Sumter, Mrs. John Cornwell of Columbia, Mr. R. O. Merrick of Durham N. C. and Miss Della and Messrs. C. L. and Cleveland Kirkland of Westville.

A large number of representatives from the best white families of Camden were present to witness the marriage ceremony.
At the home of the bride's father a delightful reception was rendered the happy couple, and which was participated of with good cheer by all. At 7:45 the bride and groom were whisked to the Seaboard depot where they boarded the train for Albany, N. Y., there to spend the honeymoon. The gifts were numerous and handsome.

Thus the number of bachelor maids grew less by one—but only one.
