Published Every Friday

W. L. McDowell, Proprietor
H. D. Niles and E. N. McDowell, Publishers

Entered as second class mail matter at the Postoffice at Camden, South Carolina.

Camden, S. C., June 30, 1911

The Linotype way is the best way.

Sumter is to have a hundred thousand dollar hotel.

Don't cuss the town; cuss the ice man—he's use to it.

The Clemson train will be stationed at the Seaboard freight railway yards during its stay in Camden.

If your competitor talks about you put him on the pay roll. Never mind what he says so long as he talks.

The Post office at Camden has been designated by Uncle Sam as a Postal Savings Bank. Deposits will be accepted after July 29th.

The Clemson College Agricultural train comes next Thursday. Let everyone interested in agricultural pursuits be on hand to hear the lectures.

The passing away of James Lang removes a familiar figure from our midst, also a good citizen who always commanded the respect of his fellow citizens, both white and colored.

We welcome this week newsy communications from Remberts, Blaney and Cantey. Take enough community pride in your section to send us the news—we will appreciate it and the citizens of your community will also appreciate it.

The Chronicle has added several new subscribers to its list since the change from ready-print to all home-print was inaugurated. We want the paper to go into the home of every citizen in the county as it is our intention to improve it with each succeeding issue.

One of the neatest little ads appearing in the columns of The Chronicle is that of the First National Bank of Camden—made all the more attractive because they change it every week and never allow it to get old. Get the habit! Change your ads regularly and thereby enhance the value of your advertising space.

Mrs. Hennie Knight, wife of A. W. Knight, editor of the Bamberg Herald, died last Friday afternoon, after a long period of bad health, aged 38 years. Mrs. Knight was an honor graduate of Winthrop College and a woman of rare culture and refinement, popular in social and literary circles. Besides her husband, she is survived by three children.

There is a growing consciousness of the power of the country press. Taken in the aggregate, the papers in the small cities, towns and villages exert more actual influence than the metropolitan press, or if they do not it is their own fault. It is generally charged that metropolitan dailies are subsidized, and while the charge may have been exaggerated, there is enough truth in it, as every well informed newspaper man knows. It is the duty of the country press to itself and to the people to lead and not to follow.

From every view point the farming class of this county is in better shape now than at any period since the civil war. More people own their own homes and little farms; more are free from the yoke of bondage inflicted by burdensome debts; more are becoming independent each year by making a comfortable living for their families; more are waking up to the necessity of giving their children better educational advantages, and withal, prosperity and contentment seem to prevail throughout the country. Let progress still be our watchword!

Although the Camden Chronicle gives us credit for the inspiration to change the make-up of its excellent paper, by taking advertisements from the front page, we are quite sure that they must have had the idea in view all along. We were agreeably surprised, when we opened The Chronicle last week, to find that the change had been made. The Chronicle is a much better looking and a much more newsy paper than before and, now with its new equipment, it is in a position to take a lead in its field. Having gone to the expense of providing its patrons with such an excellent paper, it deserves an even larger and better patronage than it has enjoyed heretofore.—Laurens Advertiser.

Governor Brown has said nay to the extradition proceedings brought against T. B. Felder, by Governor Bleasdale, and gives as his reasons for not granting same that the charges did not warrant his being brought back to this state. Governor Bleasdale now defies the governor of Georgia by offering a reward for the arrest and delivery of Felder. In commenting on this affair the Atlanta Constitution says: "It is now reported that the next act of this interesting drama may take place before the Legislature of South Carolina on impeachment proceedings, and if one-tenth of the evidence is gathered that the Constitution hears is available, it can be taken for granted that the next session of the South Carolina Legislature will be one of the most interesting in years."

John G. Richards for Governor.

That there is a strong desire throughout the State for Major John G. Richards to be a candidate for Governor next summer, there is not the slightest doubt, and that he will be is very probable. On all sides Mr. Richards is being urged to make the race, and what would be more gratifying to every loyal citizen of Kershaw county to see our gifted and talented Richards in the Governor's chair?

From a recent issue of the Manning Times we clip the following:

"Manning has a citizen who is gifted with prophecy, and when he has visions he lets his friends know so that when the dream happens they are prepared for the event. Our prophet is Mr. D. M. Lesane. Within the recent past he had a vision which told him that the next governor of South Carolina would be John G. Richards. He predicted the election of Governor Bleasdale, and also predicted the election of Clarendon's senator; not only so, when the election of the senator was in doubt Mr. Lesane said that a re-count of certain boxes would show a difference in favor of the man declared nominated. One of the boxes he named was re-counted and it did show a difference of four. Mr. Lesane claimed that there were similar discrepancies in two other boxes sufficient to increase the majority considerably. Whenever "Jee" has 'em, and do they come irrespective of the condition of the moon, he makes his friends sit up and take notice. We shall wait to see the outcome of his latest prophecy with regard to the next governor, and if Richards is the chosen one then our faith in Manning's Seer will be immovable."

5 or 6 doses "666" will cure any case of Chills and Fever. Price 25c

THE STAR THEATRE.

Making Every Effort to Please Its Patrons and Friends.

It has been the earnest endeavor of the Star Theatre to give Camden the best entertainment at the lowest rate of admission that is possible and the management believes that its efforts in this direction have been appreciated. While making money is the object of this enterprise as in most businesses of this kind, yet the presentation of a harmless amusement which may help to enliven the summer months, at as cheap a rate as possible, has been uppermost in the minds of the managers of the Star and they want all who feel that they can encourage the showing of high-class pictures in Camden to come out as often as possible—the regular as well as the "special" nights. The pictures which have been shown lately have been highly endorsed by all who have seen them as well from an educational standpoint as otherwise.

The fourth of the educational series now being presented will be the "Passion Play." Before deciding to have this picture in Camden, not only a thorough investigation as to the sentiment of the community in regard to the presentation of so sacred a subject as this was made, but also the approval of the ministers of the churches of Camden was secured and it is believed that no one may feel that he or she is treading upon sacred feelings in witnessing this picture. The date set for the Passion Play is Thursday and Friday, July 6-7. The admission will be 10c to all.

Death of Mrs. Richards. Mrs. Sarah N. Richards, wife of Rev. J. G. Richards, died at her home at Blenheim on Friday last, June 23, aged about 65 years. The burial took place at Blenheim on Saturday. An attack of measles was the cause of Mrs. Richards' death.

CANTEY NEWS NOTES.

Items of Interest Briefly Told From This Little Burg.

Cantey, S. C., June 28.—The crops in our section have improved a great deal since we have been getting rain. Cotton and corn are both looking very promising but are beginning to need more rain. The gardens were burned up so bad until the seasons did them but little good.

We are very sorry to note that Mr. J. J. Shaylor, of Flint Hill section who has been confined to his bed for eight months died at his home on Sunday morning at 8:30 o'clock. His remains were carried to Flint Hill Baptist Church where the funeral and burial service took place at 12 o'clock on Monday.

While the burial of Mr. Shaylor was in progress news reached us that Mrs. Ida Clifton also had passed away after a long and painful illness.

It is hoped that the condition of Mr. G. M. Turner who has been confined to his bed for some time past is slightly improved. He has been better for the past few days, sitting up a little.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Mrs. Margaret Abercrombie, of Charlotte, N. C., is visiting her aunt, Mrs. C. C. Vaughan.

Mrs. Fleckling, of Charleston, is visiting her sister, Mrs. H. G. Brown, on Lyttleton street.

Mr. Jno. M. Latham left this week for Boston, Mass., to accept work with the Western Union.

Mr. Joseph Sheehy after spending several weeks at Glenn Springs, has gone to Waynesville, N. C. His health is much improved.

The many friends of little Harriet Lipscomb will be pleased to learn that she is up again after quite a protracted spell of typhoid fever.

Meeting Chamber of Commerce.

The regular monthly meeting of the Camden Chamber of Commerce will be held at the Opera House Wednesday, July 5 at 6 P. M.

All members are earnestly requested to be present.
W. R. Eve, Jr., Secretary.

Marriage.

Mr. Arthur Gaskins and Miss Agnes Dabney were married on last Sunday at 11 o'clock at the residence of Mr. H. F. Smith, Rev. J. W. Smith officiating. The groom is a young business man residing at Mulberry and the bride is a daughter of Mr. George Dabney. The Chronicle extends hearty congratulations.

Death of a Former Camden Man.

A special to The State from Orangeburg dated June 26, says: "Philip Rich, a well known citizen, died at his residence yesterday afternoon at about 4 o'clock after a long illness. Mr. Rich was a prominent business man.

The deceased was about 50 years of age, having been born in Augusta, Ga., in 1862. He has lived in this city practically all his life, his father having come to Orangeburg when Mr. Rich was a child. Mr. Rich enjoyed a wide circle of friends in this city and was a member of Elks and Knights of Pythias.

He is survived by his widow, two sons, Lipmann and Gus, and one daughter, Miss Minnie. He leaves one sister, Mrs. Julius Wald, of New York. He was a brother of the late Isadore Rich of this city and Blackville.

Capt. von Tresckow Returns.

Capt. E. C. von Tresckow who was one of twelve officers of the National Guards who were ordered to attend maneuvers at San Antonio, Texas, returned home on Wednesday evening. Although the maneuvers, so far as long marches were concerned, were over, there was much to be learned in the large camps containing over twelve thousand Regulars, and much of interest to be seen in San Antonio. The journey consumed two days each way with a sojourn of fourteen days at the Camp. Altogether the trip which was via Atlanta, Montgomery, New Orleans and Houston was extremely interesting and instructive.

Poisoned on Canned Tomatoes.

Mr. T. A. Collins, of Antioch and his entire family were badly poisoned recently by eating canned tomatoes. Mr. Collins says the can was opened and the tomatoes prepared for dinner but were not used until supper time and he does not know whether the tomatoes were made unwholesome by not being used immediately after being opened or the poison was already in them before being opened. The tomatoes were not home canned.

It has been our experience that the best way to advertise and make trade is by giving values that are exceptional to an extreme degree.

It would be folly indeed to advertise a "Special June Sale" and then not "deliver the goods."

We do not care to disappoint our friends and be wasting money to advertise. Business has been and is good with us. What we want is more trade and to get this we are satisfied to bear a loss. Our loss on these great bargains we will charge to our advertising account and consider it a good investment.
