

Harris Spring Water

Don't dose yourself with drugs. Use this delightful water, made in Nature's laboratory and known for its medicinal properties in the relief and cure of the following diseases:

- GOUT
- RHEUMATISM
- KIDNEY AND BLADDER TROUBLES
- GRAVEL, DYSPEPSIA
- INDIGESTION
- CONSTIPATION
- and ALLIED
- STOMACH TROUBLES.

One of the greatest of all natural mineral waters. For sale by druggists generally. Shipped everywhere.

Harris Springs Water Co.

Harris Springs, S. C.

The Busy Corner Where Everybody Stops

You'd be surprised to know how many people do practically all their trading in the Drug Line at our store. If it's in the Drug Line we have it, and you may rest assured that the quality and price is right.

Take advantage of our phone service. We fill and deliver phone orders promptly and satisfactorily. No extra charge.

Prescriptions accurately compounded. Leave your prescriptions to us and they will be filled promptly and accurately.

A complete line of sick room supplies, such as rubber goods, hot water bottles, ice bags, syringes.

Zemp & DePass

"The Busy Corner Drug Store"

TO OUR CUSTOMERS AND OTHERS:

Why do we not charge? Some ask why we do not deliver and call later for pay? Our reason is, the customer knows just what we charge when goods are sent C. O. D. and it saves extra expense for us. We hope you will look at it from a common sense standpoint and do not think we are afraid to charge good citizens.

Yours to serve,

CAMDEN
Harness & Shoe Repair
A. R. BOBBITT, Mgr.

COLUMBIA LUMBER & MANUFACTURING CO.

MILL WORK
SASH, DOORS, BLINDS
AND LUMBER

PLAIN & HUGER STS. Phone 71
COLUMBIA, S. C.

FAMILY OF SIX BURNED. Mystery Surrounds Horrible Affair In Lexington County.

Peak, S. C., June 29.—The death of John D. Jacobs, his wife and four children, disclosed when their home was discovered in flames early Saturday morning, is a mystery that will never be solved. A day of calm investigation following the discovery of the awful tragedy has shown only that human hands and not a lightning bolt or a chance tongue of flame resulted in the sudden death of six persons as they slept in their home in the rich Dutch Fork section of Lexington county, five miles from Peak.

Only two chimneys and a pile of ashes and debris represent today what was Friday evening the substantial home of a prosperous planter. The charred remains of a family of six were this afternoon buried in a single grave at the family burying ground on the Jacobs plantation. The bodies, horribly burned, show that the skulls of three were crushed. This is regarded, in the light of other developments, as conclusive proof that they were murdered and did not meet death from the flames that burned the house destroyed any evidence of the murder.

A theory at first entertained by many that the family might have been burned to death when the residence they occupied was destroyed is dismissed by the statements of numerous residents of the community, who declare that the storm that passed over this section between 9 and 10 o'clock was over at 10 o'clock. Severe lightning accompanied this storm, but no lightning was seen by neighbors after 10 o'clock. The fire was discovered between 3:30 and 4 o'clock.

Other suppositions are hardly less baffling. John D. Jacobs was a highly respected and prosperous farmer. His dealings with all men had been honorable and none of his closest friends can furnish even a remote motive for this horrible crime. Neither he nor any members of his family were known to have an enemy. Robbery would not have attracted vandals, for there could not have been more than an inconsiderable sum of money in the house. The jewelry known to have been there has been found in the ruins and identified in whole.

The body of Miss Ellen Jacobs was found in the ruins of what had been her room. It rested on the charred remains of her bed. Mrs. Jacobs' body was found in a similar position in her room. The bodies of John D. Jacobs and Orin Jacobs, the youngest of three sons, were together on the springs of their bed. The bodies of Leslie Jacobs, 18, and Hugh Jacobs, 15, could not be distinguished. These were almost consumed and those who viewed the bodies have not been able to say which was separated from the bodies of father and brothers. One was found in the dining room adjoining the room in which the father and two boys were found. Mr. Jacobs and his three sons occupied the room connected with the dining room by a window or door. Parts of four guns and an axe, all believed to have been the property of members of the Jacobs household, were found in the ruins. The wood work all had been burned, only the iron and steel remaining intact. The axe was a new one and had not, it is said, been ground. In the gun was found two shells. One, it is believed, had been fired while the other was discharged by the heat. This belief is based on the discovery that an indentation is found on one shell where it had been struck by the hammer, while the other bore no such imprint.

The funeral service for the family was conducted this afternoon at the former home of Walter Jacobs, a few hundred yards from the home of his late brother. Walter Jacobs several years ago moved to Newberry and since he vacated it this house has not been occupied. The funeral and interment attracted a great crowd from several counties. Probably no funeral in this section has been so largely attended and by persons from such a distance.

The family of six in two coffins was laid in a single grave in the family burying ground on the Jacobs plantation where already three children of the family had been buried.

FAVORITE FICTION.

"You're attached?"
"I'd chop your vacation must have been a hell of a good one, huh?"
"That's the first time I've had a girl in my hands for sixteen years."
"I'm glad I had to see you for these few days. You're a real beauty."
"I'm glad to be in this situation for a few days."
"You've earned your vacation, huh?"
"By George, it was a while! It broke the hook and got away!"

SHE WAS INTERESTED

By JOSIE ROYSE.

"Baby games?" whispered the girl with the high collar, disdainfully, as she glanced at the table of puzzles laid out for the entertainment of the guests. "What bright ideas some people do have! I wouldn't waste my time over them!" Then she settled back in an arm chair.

"No, thank you. I don't believe I'll try tonight," she replied to her hostess, who asked her to choose a puzzle. "I passed the age for those things ten years ago." With that she smiled so superciliously that the hostess flushed, but passed on to the next guest without comment.

"Here," remonstrated the young man with a white carnation in his coat. "I get another choice! This one is a mistake. It never was intended to come apart, and so it isn't fair! Give me that heart thing—it looks easy!"

"You foolish boy!" exclaimed the girl with the high collar. "Getting excited about a puzzle! Why, I could work them all when I was twelve years old!"

"Maybe so," replied the man with the carnation. "I'll take some demonstration to prove it, however. Here take this jigger and see if you can get the inside out, without untying the string!" He handed her a puzzle.

"Thank you!" laughed the girl with the high collar, laying down the puzzle. "I think I'll gain more by just thinking than by doing anything so perfectly useless!"

"Well, then, here's something to sit and think about," exclaimed the girl with the violets. "Just meditate on the fact that they say it's gospel truth that you can get this dingus off this other dingus without breaking the wire—that it just slips off like a ring! I'd deny it, but Sally turned her back on me just a tenth of a second and then

"Just Attend to Your Own Knitting," showed it to me all apart. Another tenth of a second put it all together again! I'm swamped!" She sat down in grim earnest to pore over her individual problem.

"Oh, I've got mine!" cried the girl who had been silently working. "I've got it, and it's just as easy! Watch!" She took apart her puzzle and put it together before the others with the air of a magician.

"Huh! You chose the easiest thing in the lot!" retorted the young man with the carnation. "Here, I'll exchange, and then see who's the smarter!"

"Look here," said the meditative man, coming up from his corner and speaking slowly. "If any of you can give me an inkling how to do this, I'll give a prize myself! They say—he placed skeptical emphasis on the square. I'll give five cents to the person who can—"

"Oh, do your own sums!" advised the young man with the carnation. "We've got our own reputation to live up to, and if I get this one thing solved before morning I shall be everlastingly proud of myself!"

"Let's see it," said the girl with the high collar, laughing. The meditative man handed his puzzle to her and then stood watching.

"I think you must turn this thing around the end," murmured the girl with the high collar, as she worked concentratedly at the puzzle. But nothing came apart.

"Turn it the other way," suggested some one, pausing to watch.

"Now, you just attend to your own knitting!" flashed the girl with the high collar. "I'm going to earn that nickel!"

She worked silently some minutes. "Oh, I can't do this one," she exclaimed. "The idea of asking me to solve a puzzle that a grown man had to give up!" She picked out another from the box. "This one looks easier."

"Ask your baby brother how," sarcastically advised the girl with the violets. "They're so easy, he'll show you!"

But the girl with the high collar was too absorbed to notice the remark.

"My dear," she whispered to her hostess upon leaving, "may I take this one home? I think I've got an idea and I want to try to work it out. How did you ever think up such a clever plan as to have puzzles? I've had the most exciting time. I hate to leave without trying them all!"

The hostess opened her lips and then closed them discreetly, without speaking.—Chicago Daily News

Hogs return quick profits.

Freshen up the poultry run.

The separator is a helpful factor.

Agricultural fairs are of much value.

The first and greatest law of breeding is "like begets like."

A sheep that is in good condition in the fall is half wintered.

Tankage is one of the very best commercial feeds in fattening hogs.

Silage and alfalfa combined make the foundation of the best dairy ration.

Ducks are very fond of dandelions chopped and mixed with ground grain.

Cattle should have access to water at all times when prairie pasture is getting dry.

"Too little phosphorus" is the cause of many of the low yields on corn belt soils.

Have the ropes and straps good and stout when you begin to halter break the colt.

There seems to be a good deal of prejudice against millet, because it exhausts the soil.

Skimp your sheep on good pasture and they will skimp you on mutton. Works both ways.

The value of corn silage to the beef producer is not limited to its use in winter feeding alone.

Keep the laying hens working. To do this feed them at daybreak and just before sundown.

Wait until cool weather has absolutely put the last bit of business before dehorning the cattle.

Instead of using an old wooden watering tank make one of cement that will never decay or leak.

The longer the calf is allowed to suck the cow the harder it will be to make it drink from a bucket.

After a day's work clean the work horses thoroughly, wash their legs from the knees down and rub dry.

Raise horses for big money, cattle for sure money and hogs for quick money, is an old saying, and a good one.

A year ago there was more stock than there was feed. Now there is feed for more stock than can be found.

In building a wire fence for hogs put one barbed wire at the bottom, and the worst rooster in the pasture won't root out.

Don't be afraid to apply air-slaked lime to the cabbages with a blow gun. It will destroy the worms on the head of the cabbage.

Young fruit trees that were planted in the autumn of last year, or in the spring of this year, should be examined carefully.

The garden acre should be the best on the farm. Best prepared, best fertilized and best cared for. Then it will give the best returns.

While the orchard is coming into bearing try vegetable growing as a side line. This makes one of the surest and best sources of income.

Chopped roots, fed along with the grain, will make a valuable addition to the ration, especially if winter grazing or silage is not at hand.

Keeping any machine well oiled and in proper repair not only increases efficiency, but decreases the amount of power required to run the machine.

Do not allow the cows to dry up during the latter part of the summer, as this necessitates keeping them through the winter, giving a smaller flow of milk than they should.

Land plaster has a very small percentage of lime; lump lime has the largest percentage, and hydrated lime next. Marl is usually a little richer in lime than ground lime stone.

For the last six months the hog feeder has but little more than broken even. If we are to judge the future by the past there is a time coming soon when the hog feeder will make good money.

The peanut is becoming more important as a feed for stock, especially in the southern states. The vines with the nuts attached are often cured, and they make a palatable hay for all kinds of farm stock.

The fruit farmer can always find something to do, either in the orchard or around the buildings. This business, like any other, is ruined by too much loafing. Keep the loose ends well in hand for the best results.

The great bulk of the oat crop of the world is produced within the north temperate zone including the countries of Russia, Germany, Norway and Sweden, Canada, and the northern part of the United States. Russia produces more oats than any other country.

Will You Be Working When You Are Old?

Why Not Let Your Savings Make Your Future a Happy One?

THE RESTING TIME OF LIFE.
The wise man is the one who has "saved regularly" during the productive years of his life, put it away in safety and then can sit down and enjoy his latter years.
No Worry About Income or Employment. Begin Today—Old Age is Coming.

The Loan & Savings Bank

The Clemson Agricultural College

Enrollment Over 800—Value of Property Over a Million and a Third—Over 90 Teachers and Officers

DEGREE COURSES: Agriculture (seven courses.) Chemistry; Mechanical and Electrical Engineering; Civil Engineering; Textile Industry; Architectural Engineering.
SHORT COURSES: One year Course in Agriculture; Two-Year Course in Textile Industry; Four Weeks Winter Course in Cotton Grading; Four Weeks Winter Course for Farmers.

COST: Cost per session of nine months, including all fees, heat, light, water, board, laundry and two complete uniforms, $133.45. Tuition, if able to pay, $40 extra. Total cost per session for the one year Agricultural Course, $117.55; Four-Weeks Course, all expenses, $10.
SCHOLARSHIP AND ENTRANCE EXAMINATIONS: The College maintains 167 four year Agricultural and Textile Scholarships and 51 one year Agricultural Scholarships. Value of Scholarship $100 per session and Free tuition. (Students who have attended Clemson College, or any other College or University, are not eligible for the scholarships unless there are no other eligible applicants.)

Scholarship and Entrance Examinations will be held by the County Superintendent of Education on July 11th, at 9 a. m.

NEXT SESSION OPENS SEPTEMBER 10TH, 1913.
Write at once to W. M. RIGGS, President

Clemson College, S. C. for Catalog. Scholarship Blanks, etc. If you delay, you may be crowded out.

The First National Bank OF CAMDEN, S. C.

Haven't you been expecting to start a bank account—been trying to save an amount sufficient to "make a good start?"
Any start is a good start. A dollar is sufficient. If you wait for a large sum before making your start you'll never do it. You doubtless know from your own experience that the money which you can lay your hands on at any moment lasts long. So don't wait for a start but begin now. We earnestly solicit your Banking business.

The First National Bank OF CAMDEN, S. C.

REDUCED PRICES Sunbeam Mazda Lamps

40 Watt, each 35c, 60 Watt, each 45c, 100 Watt, each 80c

Be sure to get Sunbeam Mazda Lamps—the new, rugged kind. Give three times as much light for the same money.

W. Robin Zemp's Drug Store

PHONE 30.—WE DELIVER ONE LAMP OR A DOZEN—PHONE 30