Friday Night Dance.
The younger set, who have been busy at school for the past two weeks, and believing that "all work and no play makes Jack a dull boy," decided to dance again on Friday evening at the hospitable home of Mr. and Mrs. T. J. Kirkland, where they ever receive a hearty welcome, and Miss Elise Kirkland charmingly plays the role of hostess. The rooms when thrown open are well adapted to dancing and the girls and boys of that age look forward with much pleasure to the little informal Friday night affair, that so greatly relieves the monotony of school days. They danced from 8:30 to 11:00, and came home with only happy memories of the evening.

Mrs. Hay as Hostess.
The Wednesday morning bridge club was delightfully entertained this week at the home of Mrs. D. A. Boykin on Fair street, with Mrs. T. Hay as hostess. The rooms were bright and sunny and tastefully decorated with the first blooms of Autumn. The rose predominated—roses everywhere, shedding their beauty and fragrance in every nook and corner.

New Street Opened.
Rippondon Street, the new street leading from the extension of DeKalb on the east, has recently been opened by the city forces and is now being used by the traveling public. This gives farmers and others a nearer route into Camden and especially those having hauls to and from the Southern depot. Heretofore it has been a long way around. The new road enters the public road west of the Hermitage Mill just west of the store of DeLoache & Co., and will prove a much nearer and convenient route.

Moved to Sumter.
Mr. A. R. Bobbitt, who for a couple of years has been conducting a shoe and harness repair shop on DeKalb street has sold his business, and he and his family have moved to Sumter, where they will reside in the future. T. A. Belton has purchased his stock and outfit and moved from the Savage building to the small building next east of Tiller's stable, where he will continue the business.

Skating Rink Opened.
Messrs. Goodale and Birchmore, who ran a skating rink in the Kershaw Guards armory last spring, reopened their amusement place on Thursday night of this week. Their place was very popular until the summer heat made it too warm for this sport. The cool nights of this season are ideal for skating and the young people of Camden will appreciate this opportunity for amusement.

Fall Opening.
An event of wide spread interest was the Autumn opening on last Thursday evening at the attractive millinery establishment of Miss Mattie Gerald. Long, trailing vines, pot plants and tall vases of cut flowers formed a pleasing decoration, and from 8:30 to 11 p. m., the store was packed and crowded with the feminine population of Camden and also a few of the "Lords of Creation" dignified the occasion with their presence, and the occasion they were simply beautiful. The lovers and admirers of the beautiful and artistic could not find adjectives enough to describe them. Hats for everybody, young and old, for the gay butterfly of the fashionable "four hundred" and the demure, little Puritan maiden, whose "beauty unadorned is adorned the most." Miss Gerald and her able assistant, Miss Hubbard were untiring in their efforts to please every one, not to sell only, but to have the hat that was most becoming. And after all that is the secret of success. A satisfied customer generally makes a constant one. The ladies of Camden showed their appreciation of Miss Gerald's efforts by turning out in full to the first evening opening of tall millinery.

Attention U. D. C.
Do not forget the meeting of the John D. Kennedy Chapter on next Monday afternoon, Oct. 6th, at the home of Mrs. Geo. Rhame on Fair st., with Mrs. Rhame, Miss Rhame and Mrs. Coleman as hostesses. The roll will be called promptly at 4:30 and the members are urged to be present, as there is to be business of importance.

Delegates to the state convention which meets in Edgefield, December 2nd, are to be elected. Go and vote for your choice.

Stephenson-Clyburn.
Mr. L. R. Clyburn and Miss Mary H. Stephenson, both of Westville, were married at the Methodist parsonage at Kershaw last Sunday morning at 9:30 o'clock.

After the marriage the young couple came down to the home of Mr. T. B. Clyburn, father of the groom, where a few members of the immediate families were present, and a most delightfully pleasant day was spent. A reporter for the Chronicle was present and a happier day was never spent by him. Under the hospitable roof of Mr. Clyburn it would be impossible for anyone to have anything but a pleasant time, and on this occasion it seemed that the hospitality of this home exceeded all past records. Mr. Clyburn and his excellent wife did everything in their power to make the day pleasant for all, and quite well did they succeed.

An unusual occurrence on this occasion was that the grandfathers of the groom and bride—Capt. L. L. Clyburn and Mr. J. A. McDowell, were present; and another singular fact is that each one of the grand parents is the youngest child of their parents.

The occasion will remain a pleasant memory in the minds of all whose good fortune it was to be present on that happy event, and the young couple start out, in life with the best wishes of a host of friends.

THE SHOW WINDOWS

Have you ever paused to think how fortunate Camden is in having so many first class stores? A town twice the size might well be proud of them; and for one to go to another town to shop is folly, for in nine cases out of ten they are leaving better at home.

Look at the display of coat suits in the show windows of Baruch-Nettles Co., and answer candidly if you think they could be surpassed, or even duplicated at the same price in any nearby town. Also long coats and also beautiful dress goods attractively displayed.

Stop at the Wolfe-Eichel Co., and see the beautiful display of up-to-date things in their windows. Everything fresh and bran new. If you have not seen their beautiful selections, it will pay you to do so. And we know you have been tempted to stand in front of the handsome windows of Hirsch Bros. & Co., and look longingly at the display inside. Under the skillful touch of Mr. W. B. Goodale everything is shown to the very best advantage. And the millinery department upstairs is worth climbing the stairs to see. My such lovely hats! Have you seen them?

The windows of L. Schenk & Co. is another house for the artistic and beautiful, where the taste of the most fastidious may be satisfied and gratified. Schenk always has pretty things.

Now, we have mentioned only four of Camden's up-to-date establishments, but these are not the "only pebbles on the beach"—There are others, and we are going to tell you about them next week. We want to mention some of the windows each week, so that you can take it in, go around and see these attractive places, and you will decide that the home town is the best town.

To Return to Camden.
Mr. John W. Smith, who left Camden about a year ago to enter the garage and auto business, will return to Camden in about two months and will again enter the auto business here. We understand he will erect a garage just north of the store of Mr. A. J. Beattie.

Recorder's Court.
At Monday's session of Recorder's Court a total of $69 in fines were imposed. The charges ranged from riding bicycles without lights to drunk and fighting. The drunks were fined $10 or 20 days in each case, and the bicycle riders $1.

The following is the honor roll: Judge Sutton, drunk, $10 or 20. Sp Dinkins, riding bicycle without light, $1 or 3. Joe Hough, drunk, $10 or 20. Claud Lyon, drunk, $10 or 20. Zelle Rollings, drunk, $10 or 20. Luther Carter, drunk, $10 or 20. W. T. Smith, Jr., drunk, $10 or 20. Jack Brown, fighting, $5 or 10. Carrie Truesdell, fighting, $3 or 6.

County Officers Complimented.
Mr. L. A. Searson, special deputy from the Comptroller General's office, who is doing special auditing work, was in Camden last Wednesday and Thursday for the purpose of auditing the books of the County. Mr. Searson was very complimentary to the County officers. He visited all the offices of the County and expressed himself as being highly pleased with the condition in which he found them all. He found a pleasure to inspect such offices and said that the citizens of Kershaw county should feel very much gratified at having the set of officers they have, all of which is very gratifying to and highly appreciated by the officers.

Taxes for Next Year.
The abstract of duplicate of Kershaw County for the year commencing January 1, 1913, which has just been completed by the County Auditor shows the following:

State $25,950.51
County 21,007.57
Special County 13,592.12
Road Tax 12,357.38
School Constitutional 3 mill Tax 19,771.82
Special and Local School 18,207.53
Poll 4,137.00
Road 6,944.00
Dogs 741.00
Total $122,709.93

Big Land Deal.
The Jordan plantation in West Waterlee, containing nearly two thousand acres, was sold last week through the real estate agency of C. P. DuBose & Co., to Mrs. B. H. Thurman, of Chesterfield county, who we understand, will move to Camden soon to reside, together with her two sons who will conduct the farm.

This is considered one of the finest farms in Kershaw county and has situated thereon tenant houses, grist mill, fine stream of water and innery, the output of which is six or seven hundred bales each season, and a good lot of timber land. The price paid was around $20,000.

SPECIAL NOTICE.
We are pleased to announce to our patrons that we will be able to operate pictures on Saturday, Oct. 4th. A splendid program is selected for this day and also the following week. The show will open at seven o'clock each night and close at 10. We regret not being able to show this week on account of electric current not being on, but promise to give good service in the future.
Douglas & Brown,
Managers Air Dome.

Chamber of Commerce.
The regular monthly meeting of the Camden Chamber of Commerce was held Wednesday afternoon. Nothing of importance resulted by the meeting except for a discussion of the present light situation, and some of the roads leading into Camden. The secretary was requested to direct a communication to the county Supervisor calling his attention to these roads, and requesting that he put them in better condition.

Sugars and Syrups

MUCH of the taste and pleasure in eating good food depends on the sugar and syrups used.

Think of the finished delight given to your morning meal when the syrup used with your cakes is pleasing to your taste—note that deliciousness when you drink well-made coffee with the right kind of sugar in it. Small matters—yes—but it is just those small matters that make life a complete success or a round of annoyances. We have studied the question—we pride ourselves on our attention to details of the kind. Come in and ask us.
