A THANKSGIVING.

That was long ago when I thanked God that all my days went by in carefree ease and mirth: A Pharisee, I thanked him then that I knew not like other men the bitterness of earth.

That was long ago! Today, I say, thank God for this my grief, I say, seeing by this alone, catching in the night, catch far, faint visions of that height No lesser light has shown.

Alas! how I did not guess so arrogant my happiness, How poor my praise and vain! Dear God, today what thanks are meet, Being a chamber to thy feet Up these steep stairs of pain?

PERSONAL MENTION.

Matters of General Interest Secured by Our Reporters.

Mrs. Wm. Anrum and children left yesterday for Charleston, where they will join Lieut. Anrum, who is stationed there.

Dr. H. B. Browne, spent a couple of days in Columbia in the interest of Columbia College.

Hon. G. C. Featherstone and son, Mr. Douglas Featherstone, of Laurens, were visitors in Camden this week as the guests of Mr. R. B. Pitts.

Invitations have been received in the city to the wedding of Miss Kate Brown, of Camden, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Brown, to Mr. Chas. J. Shannon, which will take place Wednesday evening, Nov. 19, at 9 o'clock, at the home of the bride's parents in Camden. A number of Charlestonians will attend the wedding, among them Miss Cella Milligan, Mrs. H. F. Doar, Miss Minnie Bell Doar and Miss Grace Meyers, the two latter to act as bridesmaids. —Charleston Post.

Mrs. Mary C. Lovett Dead.

Mrs. Mary C. Lovett, aged 72, widow of W. Y. Lovett, of Charleston, died this morning in Columbia, at 1:30 o'clock. Mrs. Lovett is survived by two children, Mrs. W. W. Abbott of Columbia, and Mrs. N. I. Goodale, of Camden, and one sister, Mrs. T. S. McCarrel, of Charleston.

The funeral services were held at the residence of W. W. Abbott Saturday afternoon at 3:30 o'clock. The interment taking place in Charleston Sunday afternoon.

Mrs. Lovett has made her home here for the past 13 years. Her sympathy for those in distress or trouble, and her genial good nature, won her a large circle of friends who are bereaved because of her death.—Friday's Columbia Record.

Mr. Bissell Dead.

Mr. E. J. Bissell who had been in declining health for several months died at his home on East DeKalb street last Friday morning. Mr. Bissell was a well known, well-liked citizen and the announcement of his death carried sorrow to all who knew him. For many years he has worked on the different newspapers in Camden and was known as an "old-timer," and was popular with everyone.

Mr. Bissell is survived by his wife, who was Miss Sallie Brunson, and four children; also one sister, Mrs. A. M. Richardson, of Atlanta, Ga.

The funeral services were conducted Saturday from his late residence by Rev. H. B. Browne and the burial was at the Camden cemetery.

An Approaching Marriage.

Of interest to many is the approaching marriage of Miss Kate Brown, only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. G. Brown, to Mr. C. J. Shannon, 3rd. The marriage will be solemnized at the Brown home on Lyttleton street at 9 o'clock Wednesday evening, November 19th. An announcement of this engagement has already been made in these columns. A host of friends of this popular young couple extend congratulations.

REMBERT NEWS AND VIEWS.

A Little Bit of Weather, Farming and Politics.

Rembert, S. C., Nov. 6.—It looks as if we are going to have a severe winter judging from the heavy frost so far. The frost Sunday morning here was the heaviest ever seen as early by the old people. Cotton is gone. The mature cotton will open and the others will not. We are blessed with good corn crops and that is something to be thankful for. A change will have to take place in the manner of doing business. As now practiced, every note is due from Oct. 1 to Dec. 1. This throws the cotton on the market in about ninety days to meet all indebtedness. If the farmers notes could be made payable from Oct. 1 to March 1 the cotton could be gradually sold to meet them and there would not be a crowded market to meet indebtedness. Any man with common sense knows to fill a market over its needs at once will break prices. It is so in any commodity sold. Putting cotton in the warehouse is putting it on the market and the trade knows it to a fine point, consequently the poor farmer is pressed on all sides.

The state fair was a nice one this year. While the exhibits were not as large as in former years, those that were shown were of a high order. Cutting out horse racing and the county fairs have reduced the state fair considerably from former years.

Misses Sadie and Madge Rogers and J. E. DuPre attended the state fair and report a fine time.

Miss Madge Rogers is visiting her sister, Mrs. Stuckey, at Stateburg.

Columbia, like other places, is feeling the stagnation in trade. Very little business is going on.

Those people who believe that Governor Please has no following but the rabble should have attended the meeting at the Jefferson hotel in Columbia last week, and then they would have found out different. The many friends of Mr. George R. Rembert, who is desperately ill in Columbia, deeply regret his sickness. He was born and reared here and is a brilliant young man. He is the youngest son of Dr. E. J. Rembert, and the brother of Prof. Arthur Rembert, of Wofford College, and of Mr. E. E. Rembert, of this place. We all hope for his speedy recovery.

Miss Pearl Hatfield, who has been quite ill is improving.

A number of deaths among the colored. One died last night from paralysis.

Tillman's request to John L. McLaurin to enter the senatorial race to defeat him won't take, for the reason that McLaurin left his party when senator and people have lost confidence in him. Tillman stabbed the Governor in the 99th hour last summer when he said he would keep hands of and numbers of his friends of many years quit him, and justly so. From the way things look now we will have a hot time next year. Please will be elected senator and the governor's race will be close between Hon. R. I. Manning and M. L. Smith. Of course little things may change any voters at the last hour, as it did in the Cleveland-Blaine contest. May the best man win for all the offices, so the grand old state will go onward in good for all.

Lugoff News Notes.

Lugoff, Nov. 6.—Miss Jennie Whitaker spent the week end in Columbia with Mrs. Jno. McCaa where she went to attend the fair.

Messrs. Lucas Ford and Banyon Huckabee spent last Sunday in Kershaw.

Mrs. W. J. Burdell and little son Jack, spent last week in Columbia.

A great many people from here attended the fair in Columbia. Among them were Mr. and Mrs. J. M. Smith, Mr. and Mrs. Jas. Team, Misses Jennie Sanders, Clara Wallace, Jennie Whitaker, Louie Whitaker, Ruby Davis, Georgia Rabon Messrs. Karl Rosboro, Dr. Bennie Team, Clyburn Taylor, Graham Hammond, Gordon Bell, Dr. W. J. Burdell and J. C. Whitaker.

Mrs. L. I. Gulon returned home Saturday after a pleasant stay in Columbia with relatives and friends.

Misses Jennie Whitaker and Mary Rosboro spent Monday in Camden.

Miss Beulah Resonover left last Friday for Greenwood where she has gone to be a trained nurse.

Miss Louie Whitaker spent the week-end in Camden with Miss Margaret Lenoir.

Just arrived, a fine selection of Kern's Chocolates and Bon Bons. These candies are as fine as you ever ate. Try them and be convinced.

Crosby's Ice Cream Parlor.

When you eat Kern's candies you will tell your friend it is the best you ever put in your mouth, for there are none better. G. W. Crosby's Ice Cream Parlor.
