What There's Time For.
 Lots of time for lots of things, it's said that Time has wings, there is always time to find ways of being sweet and kind; there is always time to share affection and goodness everywhere; there is time to send the frowns away, there is a gentle word to say, there is time to be helpful, and time to assist the weak to climb; there is time to give a little flower, there is time for friendship any hour, there is no time to spare for unkindness anywhere.
 —Frank Walcott Hutt.

Meeting of The U. D. C.

With Mrs. John W. Corbett, the D. Kennedy Chapter U. D. C. had its enjoyable meeting on Monday afternoon. The meeting was called to order by the president, Mrs. W. M. Shannon, and the roll called and minutes read by the secretary, Mrs. Robt. Shannon. The committee on marking the graves of all the Confederate soldiers in Camden, that are still unmarked, reported and the committee requested to continue the work of marking with the families and no objection was made to report the graves for marking. The committee for judging the best composition written on "The Battle of Gettysburg" also reported. This committee is composed of Mrs. Mary Anorum Shannon, Mrs. Anna Calhoun Anorum, and Mrs. Leslie Zemp. The composition is open to the county, and the medal for the best essay will be given on Field Day, April 2nd. Mrs. F. Leslie Zemp reported for the committee, and said that the essays were all in, and showed excellent work from every school in the county, that the committee's only regret was that they had only one medal to bestow. The Chapter then adjourned to meet the first Monday in April, at 4:30 p. m., at the home of Mrs. Bratton deLoach, with Mrs. C. C. Anorum and Mrs. C. J. Shannon as hostesses.

Dance at The Hobkirk Inn.

A charming function of the week for the young people was the dance at the Hobkirk Inn on Friday evening. In addition to Camden's fair and gallant visitors, quite a number of the girls and young men, who are "native to the soil," enjoyed the hospitality and home like atmosphere of this popular resort. A band from Columbia furnished the music, and the evening will long be remembered as one of the pleasant social events of the season.

With Miss Alexander.

The Young Woman's Working Society of the Methodist church was delightfully entertained Wednesday afternoon by Miss Minnie Alexander, at her home on Laurens street. Ferns and early spring flowers made the rooms quite attractive. The president, Mrs. C. M. Coleman read the year's report, and gave an excellent account of her stewardship, and as a reward of merit for her splendid work she was re-elected president. Mrs. Brown was chosen as vice president, and Miss Minnie Alexander as secretary and treasurer. An Easter egg hunt was planned by the society, the time and place to be given later. After business the hostess served refreshments.

Mr. Simmons Trantham Visits Camden.

Mr. Thomas Simmons Trantham and Miss Josephine Van Bullock, were married in Ocala, Florida, Feb. 25th, and are now visiting the former's mother, Mrs. W. D. Trantham, of this city. "Sim" is an old Camden boy, who has sought fresh fields, and pastures new, and in Tallahassee, Florida, is climbing to the top round of the ladder in his chosen profession, that of law. His marriage last week to a popular society belle of Ocala, Fla., was an interesting and brilliant social event. He and his charming bride are cordially received in this, his old home town.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Items of Interest Gathered by Our Reporters.

Miss Harriet Shannon is visiting friends in Columbia.
 Mr. Smyrl Halsall spent the last week end with friends in Greenville.
 Mr. Kennedy Blakney, of Halle Gold Mine, was a visitor in Camden this week.

Miss Katherine Wallace has returned from Charleston, where she enjoyed a round of social gaieties.

Mr. H. T. Johnson, of Shamrock, was in Camden Tuesday. He stayed over for the Masonic meeting that night.

Miss Jean Lindsay leaves today for Davidson College, where she will attend the Junior speaking of that institution.

Dr. H. H. Hopkins, of Baltimore, Md., who has been spending some time in Florida for his health, is the guest of Dr. I. H. Alexander for a few days before returning home.

Mr. Chas. Hinson, of Kershaw, and Mrs. C. L. Watkins of Newberry, have been in Camden the past week attending the bedside of their uncle, Mr. E. M. Hendrix, who died Wednesday evening.

Mrs. Herman Baruch, of New York, is visiting her sons, Messrs. Mannes and Herman Baruch, of this city. Mrs. Baruch lived here for many years. She came to Camden as a bride and spent the early years of her married life, where she is still pleasantly remembered, and warmly welcomed back.

Among those who went to see Billie Burke, at the Columbia theatre Tuesday evening were Mr. and Mrs. F. M. Wooten, Mr. and Mrs. W. L. DePass, Misses Bessie and Kate Lenor, Mrs. Houser, Mr. and Mrs. J. B. Zemp, Misses Louise and Lal Blakney, Dr. and Mrs. Jno. W. Corbett, Miss Josie Sullivan, Mr. and Mrs. C. C. Whitaker, and Mr. Henry Beard.

Leaves For The North.

Mr. H. L. Schlosburg will leave Sunday night for points in the North and East where he will buy a spring supply for his store in Camden and that of Schlosburg and Karesh at Kershaw.

Afternoon Tea Tomorrow.

Afternoon Tea will be served Saturday, March 6 at 4 o'clock by the Young Woman's Auxiliary of the Presbyterian church at the home of Mrs. F. M. Wooten, corner Fair and Chestnut streets. The proceeds will be given to the new Sunday School building. Admission 25 cents.

Married in Chester.

Mr. C. Broadus Thompson, a prominent young planter of the Mt. Olive section of the county, was married at Chester, on the 27th day of January to Miss Sarah McGarrity, of that city.

With Mrs. Eben McLeod.

In rooms attractively decorated in gold and purple with great bowls of golden jonquils and purple violets lending their beauty and shedding their fragrance everywhere, Mrs. Eben McLeod entertained the Fair Street Embroidery club Monday afternoon. Mrs. F. M. Wooten and Miss Loree Arthur gave several selections on the piano that added much to the pleasure of the afternoon. After sewing was laid aside the hostess served a dainty sweet course, and in this too, the color scheme of gold, purple and white was cleverly carried out.

In addition to the club, which numbers twenty the following guests were present, Mrs. T. Lee Little, Mrs. J. H. Osborne, Mrs. Hunter Lang and Mrs. Houser.

March Meeting D. A. R. Postponed.

For various reasons there will be no meeting of the Hobkirk Hill Chapter D. A. R. in March. The next meeting will be April 1st at 5 p. m., with Mrs. Jas. Wallace as hostess. The program will be in charge of Miss Cornelia Nelson.

In Spring's Early Colors.

Spring has come and with it feminine fast turns to the new styles in hats. The beautiful display of Spring Millinery at the parlors of Miss Mattie Gerald's should be seen—hats of every description with flowers and ribbons that are indeed "in spring's early colors." Miss Haynes of Baltimore, is again in charge and her artistic touch is well remembered by well pleased and satisfied customers. Miss Ella Halle who is also very popular, will be delighted to see and serve her friends throughout the county. Call at Miss Gerald's and see the natural beauties of Spring time as produced by art.

No More Bird Hunting.

Bird hunters are reminded of the fact that the open season for partridges closed Saturday, and it will be a violation of the game law to kill any of these birds until Nov. 15. The open season formerly lasted until March 15, and the shortening of the period was made at the recent session of the general assembly with a view of protecting the birds, whose numbers have been very noticeably reduced in the last few years.—York News.

BOLERO JACKETS AND FULL SHORT SKIRTS

French 15th Century Styles Revived for Uptodate Women—Transparent Skirts.

New York, March 1.—With the first breath of Spring weather, costumes begin to take on Spring-like colorings. Hats in rayer colors or trimmed with bright flowers and feathers announce to the world that Spring has returned, even when the suit or dress remains of the somber colors of winter.

Covert cloth has been the novelty in winter suits and is very popular in the spring, for it is light in color and combines with many things. A new cloth called buck-skin covert is the newest of this type.

A few days ago I received announcement cards from a Fifth Avenue dress-making establishment, of a private view of their newest models. From the general salesrooms I was guided into a gray and gold elevator and from there to an artistic room also in gray and white and gold. The simplest of small stages occupied one side of the room. A few chairs were placed carelessly around the room, and we made ourselves comfortable for the review.

Boleros were the most striking features shown. Short little bobby, sleeveless jackets, some cut square and some straight around, others scalloped or slashed. These were worn over full blouses which bloused a trifle over the belt or girde instead of being pulled straight down. Most of these were long-sleeved, while others had the bell sleeves, three-quarter or half-length, wide and unbound at the lower edge.

The skirts were full and short, most of them being built on peasant lines, with full apron-like overskirts front and back, divided on the sides and showing a plain or ruffled underskirt beneath.

The New Basque Effect the Feature of This Costume.

Another noticeable feature in these dresses was the fact that they were all made with a normal waistline, an interesting fact when one thinks of all the long-waisted and Empire lines which are shown as forerunners of the Spring and Summer fashions. It is a fact that the frocks made on Empire lines are decidedly for the girlish figure while the round-waisted frocks suit all styles of figure more or less.

Another type of costume shown here was taken from the 15th Century French costumes. The waist line was in doublet effect, slashed several times front and back through which the creamery white chiffon blouse peeped. A short pleated peplum finished the lower edge of the waist. This was worn over a full skirt with a pleated ruffle on the bottom. An interesting thing to remember is that these pleated ruffles which are used on the bottom of so many skirts are pressed flat and put on the lower edge without a lending of any kind.

In these frocks the long tunic was shown in many different styles. Sometimes with a pleated lower skirt showing just below, and again with an underskirt of filmy lace.

One of these frocks I will describe in detail. The skirt had a long blue tunic striped with a thread of yellow and crossed with a satin stripe. This was slashed up about eight inches and faced upon the upper side with plain blue. The pleated underskirt of plain blue just peeped out from beneath the tunic.

A short bolero jacket also slashed and bound with plain blue is worn over a white chiffon blouse with a narrow pleat down the center having a narrow fall on either side. The long sleeves had deep flaring cuffs of the striped silk with a frill of the chiffon around its edge. The collar of the blouse was very high with a frill of chiffon above and below.

Another little dress which sported a short bolero jacket and chiffon blouse having deep bell sleeves of the chiffon, had a skirt which showed a new evolution of the tunic skirt. The skirt was the blue chiffon taffeta with two box-pleatings around the bottom. The skirt was of blue chiffon taffeta with two box-pleatings around the bottom. The skirt was the full length in the back, but the front was the depth of the two box-pleated ruffles shorter, and beneath were two box-pleated frills of white chiffon. The effect was stunning.

In plain and more taffeta is the dress illustrated made in the latest basque effect. The bodice is given the long-waisted appearance by a panel front which is cut in one with a wide crushed girde. This fits around the waist and hips rather closely combining very well with the full flaring skirt.

An aged white man, arrested in Spartanburg Friday, on the charge of begging on Main street, was found to have more than $100 in his possession when searched at the police station. He was required to put up a bond of $1, which he forfeited.

COMPANY COMPLIMENTED.

Army Officer and Adjutant General Praises Kershaw Guards.

The words of praise and encouragement addressed to the members of our local company, after its inspection by 1st Lieutenant Hunt, U. S. Infantry and Adjutant General W. W. Moore, were a reward for a years work and an incentive to future improvement.

Lieutenant Hunt, who by the way, is a West Point man, in addressing the company stated he desired especially to stress three things he observed and these were, the neat and soldierly appearance of the men, the efficiency shown by the non-commissioned officers in drilling the men, which efficiency was proof of the efficiency of the commissioned officers of the organization, for only efficiency of the commissioned officers could produce the results he had observed, and lastly the general drilling put up by the company, the fine condition of the rifles and side arms and of the public property. In closing Lieutenant Hunt assured the men they had every reason to be proud of their company. General Moore also added words of commendations and urged striving for further improvements and efficiency.

Lieutenant Hunt, who was accompanied by Mrs. Hunt, and General Moore, were much interested in the polo game and delighted with our quaint old town and environments.

THE PLAY PLEASSED.

"Elopement of Ellen" Witnessed Here Thursday of last week.

"The Elopement of Ellen" put on by amateurs from Kershaw at the opera house Thursday evening of last week pleased a good sized audience. The proceeds were divided between the players for the Kershaw Methodist church and the Civic League, of this city.

The characters were: Mrs. Ford, the bride of two months, Miss Willie Driffin; Mr. Ford, the groom, J. H. Hamel; Robert Shepherd, Mollie Ford's brother, H. B. Worseley; Max Eyck, a chum of Robert, A. S. Karesh; Dorothy March, engaged to Max, Marie Sasser; June Haverhill, taking course in economics in Wellesley college, Theresa McDonald; John Hume, rector of St. Agnes, Dr. W. C. McDowell.

Each of the players performed their parts well and the entire show was immensely enjoyed. Special music by Mr. and Mrs. Ernest Zemp, Miss Esther Schlosburg and Prof. A. L. Humphries added to the evening's entertainment. The company rung in a surprise in the person of Mr. Pearce, a traveling salesman, who put on humorous songs in a toper's dialect, and caused much merriment.

Her Sister Dead.

Mrs. J. S. Rhame has been in Charlotte for the past week, attending the bedside of her sister, Mrs. Mozelle Keesler Renfrow, who died Thursday afternoon at the Mercy General Hospital in that city. Mrs. Renfrow was born in Rock Hill thirty-five years ago. She often visited her sister in Camden and is pleasantly remembered here. The Charlotte Observer of Saturday gives the following account of the funeral services:

"The funeral of Mrs. George V. Renfrow, whose death occurred at the Mercy General Hospital Thursday afternoon at 1 o'clock, was held yesterday morning at 11 o'clock at the home, 9 East First street. Rev. Robert Tuft, rector of St. Peter's Episcopal Church, conducted the services. A quartet from the choir of St. Peter's Episcopal Church sang, "There is rest for the Weary" and "Peace, Perfect Peace."

"A large company of friends attended the services. Mrs. Renfrow was greatly beloved by scores of friends who are deeply grieved over her untimely death. There were many beautiful floral designs.

"The interment took place at Matthews. In addition to the members of the immediate families the remains were accompanied to Matthews by the pallbearers and numerous friends.

"Little Misses Carrie Vernon and Alice Renfrow will remain in Matthews with their grandparents and the infant daughter, Mary Kirkman, is with Mr. and Mrs. W. B. Renfrow, at their home on North Poplar street."

An Indian Marriage.

Herbert Blue and Lavenia Harris of the Catawba Indian tribe, were married at the Indian reservation near Leslie, last Sunday by Rev. Ben P. Jarris, also an Indian. The bride and groom are said to be of the purest Indian blood and their parents are regarded as among the leaders of the remnant of the Catawbas.—Yorkville Enquirer.

David Perkins, a young white man of Chesterfield, shot himself through the lung with suicidal intent Thursday night. He had been drinking heavily for several days and had declared to several friends his intention to kill himself.

COBURN'S MINSTRELS

To Appear at Camden Opera House on Thursday, March 18.

Manager DeLoach announces Coburn's minstrels as the next attraction at the Camden Opera House. The company appears here on Thursday evening, March 18th. Speaking of the performance in Tampa, the Morning Tribune of that city, says:

"J. A. Coburn had a great show in 1911-12; if memory serves correctly, but after this season he will be known for his 1914-15 show. Two capacity New Year's audiences were carried away bodily by the band of merry-makers yesterday and the invaders promise to add two more scalps from Tampa today.

"Always noted for novel stage settings Mr. Coburn apparently reached the summit of ingenuity and beauty when he contrived the "Palace of Neptune."

"Charlie Gano was there and his was a come-back that will never be forgotten. If Gano has been funny in the past, it seems as though he spent last season collecting all of his "spec" humor and is spending it wautonly in one season now.

"Other old favorites who are back again with Coburn are Nick Glynn, Justin McCarthy and Lester Lucas, with his big bass voice.

"Glynn's full name should be curtailed, for if it isn't somebody will want to invent a musical instrument that Nickodemus can't play and seize upon that name for it. The instrument hasn't been seen yet. If Glynn would apparently try to be funny there'd be fewer aching sides for Nick is never as full of fun as when he is trying to be serious.

"Willie Church and Joseph McGuire round out, with McCarthy and Lucas, a quartet that will never detract from Coburn's fame as a builder of quartets. Coburn's without a quartet would be like an aeroplane without a pilot. McCarthy made a hit with his rendition of "Let Us Have Peace." His wonderful tenor lent an added note of pleading to well-chosen words of the song never so timely as now.

"The "minstrel vaudeville," as Mr. Coburn has a habit of calling a certain portion of his performance, produced the classiest juggler that has ever tossed a rubber ball on a Tampa stage. Archie Milton is great and he's novel. Cliff Williamson put across some good music in company with Glynn and two others."

In Bankruptcy.

An involuntary petition in bankruptcy was filed in the United States District Court at Charleston against J. L. Gillis of Rembert. Claims of $400, $477.01 and $488, respectively, were filed against the defendant.

Fire early Monday morning destroyed the home of Mr. and Mrs. Shapiro at Rock Hill. The homes of Mr. J. B. Shiver and Mr. S. W. Plyler, on each side of the Shapiro home, were damaged to some extent. All of the houses belonged to Capt. W. A. Graham and were insured with the First Trust and Savings Bank and W. A. Douglas and Co.

Mad Dog Killed.

Mr. A. M. McCaskill, who lives a few miles east of Camden, killed a mad dog on his place one day last week. It proved to be a bird dog belonging to Dr. S. F. Brasington, of Camden, that had been missing for several days. Before it was killed, a dog, supposed to be the same, bit a cow belonging to Mr. B. F. Halle, and the cow later died of rabies. Dr. Brasington has since had another dog to go mad supposed to have been bitten by the one that left home. While on his plantation near Camden Mr. G. T. Little encountered the same dog, and had it to jump into his buggy. He caught the dog by the neck and succeeded in throwing it from the buggy before it had done him any injury.

At Greenwood Tuesday Will Stevens was found guilty of the murder of Ernest Carter. There was no recommendation and the verdict carries the death sentence.
