AT THE RAINBOW'S END.
At the rainbow's end is a bag of gold,
Off have I heard the story old.
And once I sought for the rainbow's end,
I found not gold but a friend.
And once the curve of the shining bow
Dipped down from the sky to a home below.
In the home I found a loving heart,
But of the gold not a gleaming part.
With the rainbow ends of life
Not gold but richer prize we find.

Mrs. F. M. Wooten as Hostess.

A popular hostess of the week was Mrs. F. M. Wooten, who entertained most delightfully at bridge on Saturday morning. The handsome residence on Fair street was fragrant with roses and stately field daisies effectively arranged. There were five tables, assembling twenty players. The score prize, a box of candy was won by Mrs. Arthur Griffin, of Greenville, while the consolation, a bottle of toilet water, was cut by Miss Sullivan. A dainty salad course with ice tea was served by the hostess, after cards were laid aside.

Reception Tendered the High School Graduates.

A delightful prelude to the commencement season in the city schools was the reception given Friday evening in honor of the graduating class by Misses Agnes Corbett and Kate Lenoir, teachers in the High School.

The attractive interior of the Lenoir home was bright with a profusion of flowers, the parlors and hall were adorned with quantities of roses and sweet peas, and the broad piazzas were radiant with the soft glow of Japanese lanterns. In the dining room a profusion of daisies were used—that being the class flower. The white and gold color-note was further emphasized in the swinging yellow that shaded the chandeliers, and in the cake, cream and salads that were served at the long table, beautiful in all its appointments, and at which the thirty-two graduates were seated. Class exercises were held and fate-emblems were drawn from an artistic basket. In addition to the class those present were: Misses Corbett and Messrs. Simpson and Boykin, Miss Etta Zemp, a former high school teacher, and Mrs. G. E. Taylor, Miss Margaret Burnet, teachers in the Grammar school.

For The Sweet Girl Graduates.

In compliment to a number of the girls graduating from the High School this year Mrs. Belton O. Boykin gave a lovely bridge party on Tuesday afternoon. The class colors, yellow and white, were carried out in the decorations and the score cards were tied with yellow ribbons, and bore hand-painted daisies—the chosen class flower. These colors were also used in the dainty leas and sweets that were served after the games. Miss Ellen Douglas Boykin was the fortunate winner of the score prize, a pair of silk hose, while Miss Kate Lenoir cut the consolation, a box of bon-bons.

MILADY OF THE MOTOR CAR.

Style as Well as Comfort in Her New Three-Quarter Coat.

In days of old, when motoring held meant freakish clothes and goggles big as window-lights. Women looked perfect frights; But now that sense reigns over fashion Milady fair of the limousine Wears clothes in the car that are fit to be seen.

Thanks to the friendly jingle, we have the whole repertoire of motoring, so far as clothes are concerned, before us. It does not mean, however, that garments for this particular purpose have lost one whit of distinction. Today, when every man and his neighbor owns a car, motoring apparel falls into a natural place, being fashioned, like other sports clothes, first for comfort and then for style, but never to advertise the fact that father, husband, or brother owns a roadster, a seven-passenger, or an electric.

Checked Velour a Smart Fabric For The Motor Coat.

The car demands only warmth and comfort. Aside from these two factors, the clothing may meet any requirement of the daily life. The devotee of the country club may have one of the new loose three-quarter coats with sailor collar and broad sash. An English blazer, flannel of this type looks stunning on the golf-links, with a varnished raffia hat, or one of the new felt shapes, embroidered with wool to match the stripe. Waterfall silk is another material belonging strictly to this season, which is finding favor in coats for sports and motoring. The silky, ribbed velour fiber will not combine with any rough-and-ready hat; therefore, simultaneously with the vogue of the fabric, we have soft hats made of half-inch bias folds of silk. These folds start at the center of the crown and wind around and around to the outside of the brim, which is faced with hemp. Such hats are trimmed only with a pearl buckle, a bead ornament, or a silk tassel; they come in white, peach blossom plink, or pale blue, to match the shade of the waterfall silk. Then, for the motorist on sports bent, who fancies sweaters, there is a new silk Jersey fabric, a compromise between a pure woven silk and a knitted material. Here, too, light shades are featured. There is a coat of delicate plink, like frozen ice-cream, with collar and lower edge trimmed with white fur, that looks good enough to eat.

There were some stunning models worn at the races last week.

One woman, who motored out from town, had a black-and-white checked velour coat that attracted considerable attention. This was belted high in the new Empire style, had the latest three-quarter length sleeve and the collar and cuffs were faced with Hague blue velour. There was also an inner collar of organdy flaring over the revers. The hat was soft leather, with a black-and-white checked, knitted band that showed through the changeable veil of blue and brown chiffon, hemstitched together.

Among the other weather-proof top-coats, mottled English, worsted in heather mixtures predominated, and there were a few two-toned whipcords and olive covert with suede belts. The medium-sized sailor hat was a favorite with these coats.

The number of pongee, shantung and

All parents who are interested are cordially invited to attend.

Musical and Garden Party.

An enjoyable affair of Monday evening was the musical and garden party at the Methodist parsonage. Spacious grounds, illuminated by lanterns, a lovely evening, delicious refreshments and a bevy of pretty girls to serve them made it a success outside, while the attraction in the parlor was an excellent program in which the following took part: Mrs. Ernest Zemp, Mrs. John Smith, Miss Anna Kate Alford, Mrs. S. C. Zemp, Mrs. Hardy, Messrs. A. J. Beattie, E. W. Bond, Victor Myers, LeGrand Dixon and others. It was given by the Relief Committee of the Lytleton Street Methodist Church, and the proceeds devoted to charity.

Mrs. Singleton as Hostess.

A gracious hostess of the week was Mrs. Matthew R. Singleton who entertained on Wednesday evening in honor of Mrs. C. C. Moore, of New York, and Mrs. Henry Boykin, of Yorkin. The rooms were abloom with flowers and tables attractively arranged for twenty bridge players. The score prize, a lovely pair of silk hose, was won by Miss Harriet Shannon. Delicious punch was served all during the morning and after cards a course luncheon was much enjoyed.

Miss Shannon's Wedding.

The leading society event of the coming week will be the wedding of Miss Harriet Burnet Shannon, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. Wm. M. Shannon, and Mr. George W. Brunson, Jr., of Greenville, which will be solemnized on Wednesday evening, June 2nd, at Grace Church. Miss Shannon is a social favorite and much interest centers around her marriage. A succession of beautiful parties have been given in her honor.

Great Revival Closes.

A good many Camden people went to Sumter Sunday to hear Bob Jones, the great evangelist who had been conducting a revival meeting in that city for the past several weeks. The meeting closed there Sunday and it is said to have been one of the greatest revivals in the history of that community. A men's meeting was held Sunday afternoon and the attendance is said to have been very large. Hundreds of converts have resulted and prayer meetings have been established, even to the merchants are having prayer meeting in their stores and numerous cottage prayer meetings have been started all over the city. The offering taken Sunday is said to have been something over $1,500.

C. J. Shannon, P. M.

By a vote of 125 to 80 the citizens of Yorkville, the county seat of York, have voted to change the name to "York" leaving off the "Ville."

Tussah silk coats was really surprising for the early season. There is no doubt these will be even more popular as the summer advances. Unlike the woollens, they are made full length. Some have such touches as carved ivory buttons, but there is no color to mar the shade of the natural pongee. Even the hats are the same material, in small soft shapes, trimmed with silk scarfs and tassels.

KERSHAW GRADED SCHOOL.

Closed a Very Successful Season Last Week.

The Kershaw Graded school last week closed the most successful year in its history; in the matter of enrollment, attendance, class work, decorum and general satisfaction. The able superintendent and his efficient corps of teachers are to be commended for their faithful efforts, which have been attended by such good results; and the pupils are also entitled to their share of the credit for their praiseworthy response to the efforts made in their behalf by their teachers. The first night of the closing exercises consisted of a most interesting and varied program, which was carried out with a most commendable degree of success by the pupils of the primary grades, up to and including the fourth. A large audience was present and appreciated every moment of the time. On Thursday night every available seat was again filled with an expectant audience. This was the night for the presentation of the loving cup won at the Lancaster Field Day exercises, and also the night for the debate. The first on the program was the exercises of the fifth and sixth grades, under the auspices of the Calhoun Literary Society. Then followed the presentation of the loving cup by Hon. R. E. Wylie, who, in the absence of Secretary Luther Ellison, made the presentation in behalf of the Lancaster Chamber of Commerce. It was a happy moment for the school pupils, their teachers and the patrons of the school. Mr. Wylie paid high tribute to the school and all connected therewith, to the town and its progressive citizens; and to this entire section of the county; alluding to the fact that his father was born in a log cabin in Flat-Creek township, the memory of which endeared the section to him in the fullest measure. He was happy in the selection of his words and his presentation speech was well received.

The next on the program was a continuation of the exercises under the auspices of the literary society, consisting of music, a "Mock Salutatory," school jokes, dialogues, a solo and a recitation in which each of the participants acquitted themselves with much credit. These were followed by the debate on the query, "Resolved that Vivisection Should be Prohibited." The debaters were: For the affirmative, Hazel Horton and Ralph Eppley, and for the negative, Thomas scarcely enough to say that they did well. Their arguments evidenced much research, close study and able presentation of their fact. Their speeches delivered with spirit and force, would have reflected credit upon adults of much wider experience and maturer mind. While all arguments were good, the judges, E. D. Blakeney, Leroy Hahngelicht and J. W. Hamel, awarded the debate to the negative side. The exercises closed with singing of National anthems, in which exercises the National colors were used.

Friday night found the auditorium packed to overflowing. It was the last night, when the exercises of the graduating class were to be heard, including the masterly address of Dr. H. N. Snyder, president of Wofford college. The invitational prayer was offered by Rev. J. C. Rowan, of Camden. Prof. Humphries then introduced Dr. Snyder, who charmed his audience with his knowledge of the needs of humanity and his happy choice of illustration to reveal that need. His earnestness of manner and eloquence of speech carried conviction with his words.

The gold medal offered at the beginning of the session for the pupil of the eighth grade making the best record in general scholarship, was then presented by Rev. J. C. Rowan to Miss Evelyn Gregory, to whom it had been awarded.

The class exercises were then entered upon; the salutatory, history, poem, prophecy, last will and testament and valedictory, following in the order named, and each winning hearty applause from the large audience.

Dr. J. T. Gregory, of the board of trustees, presented the diplomas to the members of the graduating class and the prayer of dismissal was made by Rev. Jabez Ferris, which ended the closing exercises of the school year 1914-15, which has now passed into history.—Kershaw Era.

London, Eng.—The king's example on the liquor question was not followed by the clergy in the meeting of the lower house of the convocation at York when the following resolution, presented by the Dean of Manchester, was passed: "That this house, while wishing to support all such measures as may in the opinion of the government be necessary for the strength and safety of the nation in time of war would look with anxiety upon total prohibition of the sale of alcoholic drinks."

Albert C. Druelle, of Charleston, committed suicide Tuesday. No cases were tried at the court of common pleas for Calhoun county.
