

LUNCH BOXES FOR TRAVELERS.

Southern Railway Directs Circular to Agents and Others Interested.

Passenger Traffic Manager W. H. Taylor, of the Southern Railway has directed a circular letter to the superintendents, passenger agents and others interested the following circular letter. This last move on the part of the Southern is in keeping with their earnest efforts to faithfully serve the patrons of their line:

"In order to afford better facilities for meals to travelers using trains on which there are no dining cars, we are furnishing free to inn-keepers, hotel proprietors, and restaurant managers at points where trains stop at meal hours, nice lunch boxes. These boxes to be used in serving lunches on the trains.

"Superintendents, passenger agents and other representatives of the Company will please co-operate with the parties who will undertake to serve the meals, so that the lunches served will be made as satisfactory as possible to the traveling public.

"Travelers are willing to pay a reasonable charge for clean, freshly cooked, palatable food.

"Representatives of the transportation department and of the passenger department, in dealing with the people who undertake to serve these lunches on trains, should impress upon them the importance of serving lunches of a variety best adapted to the locality in which they live. Good bread and butter, buttered biscuit, fried chicken, hard boiled eggs, sandwich, a good pie, an apple or a peach in season, and other simple edibles are suggested.

"Food freshly cooked and neatly prepared on the day furnished, is imperative.

Conductors will notify passengers of the opportunity to secure these box lunches and will send telegraphic reports in advance of the number of the number of lunches required. Conductors will also please report to the superintendents if unsatisfactory lunches are served.

"The amount to be charged for the lunches is at the discretion of the inn-keeper, restaurant manager or hotel proprietor."

Ernest Lee Ackiss, of the University of Chicago, is assisting the pastor, Rev. John A. Davison in the meeting. The services will continue through Sunday. Rev. Davison will be absent from Camden during the months of July and August in a special course of study at the University of Chicago, and during his absence the Baptist pulpit will be filled by Rev. Ackiss.

Wanted on Serious Charge.

George Murray, an ex-convict who had been serving a sentence for rape sent up from Charleston county about twelve years ago, and who was recently pardoned is again in trouble—wanted for a similar offense committed on the person of an eight year old negro girl near Boykins on the 30th day of May. Officers at the State Farm from where he was released give his description as being 50 years of age, dark brown eyes, dark brown complexion, slightly gray, partially bald, heavy black mustache when last seen, five feet, seven and one-quarter height, weight 150 to 160 pounds, scar near right eye, two small scars on left side, slightly bow-legged and walks with head slightly bowed, high cheek bones with prominent eyes, has appearance of being half-witted. Originally of Charleston and has Charleston brogue. Any information regarding this negro should be communicated to the officials of Kershaw county.

Patronize The Home Man

We wish to announce to the people of Camden and surrounding territory that we now have a first class white baker in charge of our plant and will be in a position from now on to serve our customers with the very best that there is to be had in our line.

Why buy from the out-of-town man when you can get just as good or a little better bread made at home—baked fresh every morning for a little less money?

Then why not patronize home industry, as we are one of three bakeries in the state that did not raise the price of bread when the price of flour went so very high; and the only bakery in South Carolina that did not cut the size of the loaf.

Our plant is open for inspection at any and all times. We can say without fear of contradiction that the sanitary conditions around our plant will compare with any in the state.

The way to get bread that you know is handled right by the best of workmen and from a sanitary plant is to buy from

Bouquets to The Chronicle.

A good friend of The Chronicle sends us the following communication this week and of course it is needless for us to say we appreciate the kind words our friends have to say about us:

Nothing helps a town more than a live newspaper and when you have a good thing you ought to let the world know it and show your appreciation.

Miss L. Eldredge, White Plains, N. Y., writes: "I look forward to The Chronicle each week with delight and read every word from cover to cover."

Mr. Alfred D. Kennedy, of Greenville, said: "The Chronicle is one of the best little papers in the state, I wouldn't miss it for anything, and read everything in it."

"The State" also remarked on the improvement in "The Chronicle."

Let us all help.

Wade Thomas, a prosperous farmer living near Kline, in Barnwell county, was shot to death by his brother-in-law, Eddie Sanders, at the former's home Thursday last. Sanders surrendered. There is said to have been bad feeling existing between the men for some time.

VAUGHAN LOSES APPEAL.

Decision of Federal Court Will Cause Prisoner to be Re-Sentenced.

Columbia, June 21.—Attorney General Peoples received a telegram today announcing that the United States Supreme Court had affirmed the sentence of death upon T. U. Vaughan and had dismissed Vaughan's appeal with cost. The telegram also stated that the Supreme Court had dismissed the appeal of Joe Grant, a negro, wanted in this state on the charge of murder, and who has been fighting extradition. Grant will be brought to South Carolina at once for trial.

The negro, Joe Grant, alias Brown, is wanted for the alleged shooting of a white man in Edgefield county in 1906. He fled to Pennsylvania and has been fighting efforts of the South Carolina officials to get him back here for trial. After an extended hearing the governor of Pennsylvania issued extradition papers for the return of Grant to South Carolina, and it was an appeal from this decision which Grant took to the United States Supreme Court, and which that body dismissed today.

T. U. Vaughan, who also lost his case before the Supreme Court today, is under sentence of death on a conviction of criminal assault. He was former superintendent of the Odd Fellows' Home in Greenville, and his trial attracted wide attention. He based his appeal on the ground that the mode of legal execution had been changed, after the time his alleged crime was committed, from hanging to electrocution, and he contended that this was in the nature of an ex-post facto law. But the Supreme Court overruled him on this point. Vaughan will be re-sentenced at the next term of the General Sessions Court of Greenville county.

Vaughan is at present confined in the state penitentiary, and it is stated that he has not spoken a word in nearly two years, and that he constantly acts as if he is insane. It has been thought for some time that Vaughan was either insane or is a splendid actor, for he has been acting as one demented. During the early part of this year Dr. A. P. Herring, of Baltimore, while in Columbia, made a close study of Vaughan and gave it as his opinion that the man was only acting. During Governor Manning's visit to the penitentiary last week one of the newspaper men who was along observed Vaughan. At that time he was seated on the floor, head bowed and fingers constantly interlacing. Although addressed in a loud tone of voice he did not seem to notice that he was spoken to, nor would he utter a word or pay attention to any one near him. It is likely that a committee of medical experts will be asked to pass on the question of whether Vaughan is insane or not.

Vaughan was convicted in October of 1912, and has been confined in the penitentiary ever since for safe-keeping. Two other capital cases from this state, Joe Malloy, of Bennettsville, under sentence of death for the murder of Prentice Moore, and Will Bethune, of Clarendon county, also under sentence of death, have been affirmed by the United States Supreme Court on the same point involved in the Vaughan case.

Rembert Views.

Rembert, S. C., June 21.—Summer is here and the longest day too. For the last few weeks the farmers have been busy in trying to get rid of grass, house small grain, plant peas, put guano to corn and cotton and other things too numerous to mention.

Owing to the heavy rains in May the fine wheat crop is cut off a good deal. Oats are light too. Peaches are few, but we have other things and we should be thankful. The crops as a whole are not good. Worms are eating the corn up and the crop will be short. Cotton is promising the somewhat late. If it don't bring more than last year we will be in it again. Some people are eating this year's wheat. We heard of one man cutting, grinding, baking and eating in 20 minutes. That is like the Titanic—beating the record for no purpose. Extra efforts are put forth this year for a grain crop but in spite of all that is done, partial success will be had only.

We have some sickness. Typhoid fever is scattered through the country. Miss Nell Gillis is down with it in hospital in Sumter. Pellagra is also through here. The doctors don't seem to know what it is.

There are five stores open here to the convenience of this section. The ladies of Pisgah Baptist church will serve light refreshments at their church on Saturday, 26th Inst., for the benefit of their church. They would like to see their friends out.

Rev. J. Walter Kenney, Messrs. J. L. Gillis and Jas. E. DuPre went to Sumter Saturday to testify in a land case.

Since Italy has joined the popular crowd, the fighting goes on without any change, except Germany is putting a little more pepper to them, and we hope she will burn them until they behave themselves. This country has lost millions in trade with neutral countries on account of England's fool, and Uncle Sam won't right the matter. Bryan did right to resign rather than help push this country in a useless war. Arbitration when well conducted can settle many difficulties and differences and that is what Bryan wanted. He is a man of peace and long may he live to inculcate his doctrines in the great mass of the people.

Puts in a Motor.

Mr. Geo. W. Crosby, proprietor of Crosby's Ice Cream Parlor, has recently had a motor installed in his place of business. He uses electricity for freezing his cream. The use of the power in this city increases, many people having electric fans placed in their homes. The day current has been found entirely satisfactory and it is a great convenience.

Luan T. Tompkins, 47 years of age, died Monday morning at his home in Columbia. He was a brother of former secretary of state D. H. Tompkins, and a native of Edgefield. Mr. Tompkins was a plumber by trade and assisted in putting the fixtures in the Camden Cotton Mill. He leaves a widow and two children.
