

"HELL IN CHURCH"

Editor Shells the Woods' and Listens For a Yelp.

Not more than a thousand miles from Fountain Inn there is a church on which the devil has an overdue mortgage. The majority of the members are headed straight for hell, if there is any truth in Scripture, and God hasn't been inside the building for so long that He wouldn't recognize the faces now if He went back.

Regular services are held. Half the women members attend in order to show off new hats and new clothes, and the other half attend in the hope of hearing some new scandal.

Nearly all the men members hate one another, and few if any of them are above retelling the nasty scandals brewed by the women.

When the preacher criticises certain evils, each member thinks the criticism is directed at some other member. No word spoken from the pulpit lodges in a human heart, for no one listens to the sermons.

The hearts of the members are turned to evil, and their minds are sewers for the reception of filth. The men have no thought of care except the making of money and the hope of doing something to spite some brother member; and many of the women have lost the power to think of anything that is not lascivious and filthy.

Not many of the men can tell the truth, and the women lie by preference.

The aim, the hope, the desire and longing of their lives is to do something to hurt somebody else, and they neither know nor care anything about God.

There hasn't been a conversion in the church for a month of Sundays, and there won't be another any time soon—not while the devil owns the premises.

If a young man or young woman should come to me and ask how to find God, I would say: "Go to that church. Then turn your back to it, start away, and keep going in a straight line. The further away you get, the better your chances are."

I speak forth the words of truth and soberness when I say that God will never again enter that church until the women stop slandering one another and the men stop hating one another.

It isn't a church anyway. It's a cess pool, owned by the devil and filled with his garbage.

ANNETTE KELLERMANN

In "Neptune's Daughter" to be Seen at Majestic on September 8th.

Announcement is made that the opening performance of the moving picture feature, Annette Kellermann in "Neptune's Daughter" will take place at the Majestic Theatre on Wednesday, September 8th. This photoplay met with an enthusiastic reception in New York, and was indorsed by every critic, as an exceptional picture. The story deals with the Land of Make Believe. For two hours and one half we wander from one beautiful scene to another, while the creatures of this mystic land unfold a tale that might well have come from the pages of Hans Christian Anderson.

Annette Kellermann as "Neptune's Daughter" dives, swims, dances and fences, and does remarkable acting. As the principal figure in this romantic drama of land and sea, of the realms of the immortal King Neptune and the mortal King William, Miss Kellermann is ever on the screen.—adv

Italy at War With Turkey.

London, Aug. 21.—Marquis Di Garoni, Italian Ambassador to Turkey, today handed to the Porte a note declaring Italy considered herself in a state of war with Turkey and demanded his passports, according to an official telegram from Constantinople received at Amsterdam and transmitted to the Central News.

The reasons given in the note for Italy's declaration of war were the support given by Turkey to the revolt in Libya and the prevention of the departure of Italian residents from Syria.

Although Italy declared war on Austria on May 24 and hostilities between the two Powers began immediately, there has never been any declaration of war between Italy and Germany, while until now Italy and Turkey nominally have been at peace.

Friction between Turkey and Italy however, has been in evidence since shortly after the latter's entry into the war. Early in June there were reports that Italian Consuls were gradually leaving Turkey and that American officials were taking over the task of looking out for Italian interests. Later charges were made that the Ottoman Government was preventing these Consuls from leaving and that similar coercion was being exerted over Italian civilians who wished to quit Turkish soil.

Announcement.

To my friends and the public generally: I take this method to announce to you that I am again associated with the Buckeye Cotton Oil Co., as their agent for the coming season and to thank those who have seen fit to do any business with us in the past and to ask those who haven't as yet found it convenient, to give us an opportunity and we assure you that we will do our best to make it both pleasant and profitable for you. Mr. H. A. Campbell will again be with me as weigher and solicitor. This fact will assure you courteous and fair treatment.

My office will be at the same place that it was last season and when you are in town I will be glad to have you call even if you have no cotton seed to offer for sale.

I also own the Camden Milling Co. plant and those that have more corn than they need to run their farm can find sale for this with us. We will buy your corn in the shuck, without shuck or shelled. Hoping to have the pleasure of doing business with you the coming season, I am,
Very respectfully,
R. L. MOSELEY.

FLYING SQUADRON COMING.

Speakers of National Reputation to Make Addresses Here Sept. 7th.

Arrangements have been completed for the coming of the Flying Squadron September 7th at 8:30 p. m., at the Camden Baptist church and 7:30 at the Mill school house. The speakers at the church will be Hon. J. Frank Hanly, former governor of Indiana, and Hon. Oliver W. Stewart, of Chicago, Ill., former member of the Illinois legislature.

Mr. Stewart will speak at the school house, Miss Mullin, of Winchester, and a leading soprano soloist will sing at the church, and Miss Robinson will be pianist. The speakers are men of national reputation and are speaking in more than 40 towns in the state in behalf of state-wide prohibition. Admission free to all meetings.

Meetings will be held at Lugoff school house 10 a. m., Sept. 8th, and Rabon's Cross roads at 12 noon, Sept. 8th.

Pleasing His Patrons.

Manager Little is giving the public some good pictures these days at the Majestic. The matinees are good and are put on especially for the ladies and children, many of whom cannot attend the night show. Last Friday the feature picture, the Goose Girl, was excellent, and was enjoyed by a large house. Again on Wednesday night the Littlest Rebel was sold by many to be the prettiest picture ever brought to this city. Twice during the picture the audience applauded the actors. To depict life in other countries and different walks of life, to amuse and create laughter, is the mission of the motion pictures and in every respect Manager Little is filling the bill.

"NEAL OF THE NAVY"

Serial Picture and Story to Appear at Majestic and in The Chronicle.

The Chronicle is pleased to announce to its readers that beginning some time in September we will publish the great story "Neal of the Navy" and that the Majestic Theatre will at the same time on Wednesday of every week show the story in pictures made by the celebrated Pathe Company.

Neal is a clean cut young chap—thoroughly American, full of pep and ginger. Through the crookedness of another, Neal is barred from Annapolis. Determined to win a commission, Neal enlists as a common seaman and puts in many a hard lick before he wears the epaulet. You will be intensely interested in his many stirring adventures. William Hamilton Osborne will tell the story through The Chronicle and the Majestic Theatre will show the story in pictures. Do not miss the first installments either in The Chronicle or at the Theatre.

Ford Agency Here.

The Kershaw Motor Co., recently commissioned by the secretary of state will open in this city within the next few days. Their place will be in the N. R. Goodale garage on North Broad street, and Mr. Legrand Dickson will have charge of the Camden agency. Mr. D. C. Shaw, of Sumter, was over from Sumter Tuesday to make arrangements for the company's place of business here. He already has fourteen counties in North and South Carolina in which he has the exclusive agency for the sale of Ford cars, and says that another year will see a great many more Fords in use in this county. Besides selling the cars, this company proposes to make this a regular Ford station, where all kinds of Ford parts and accessories will be kept on hand, and a repair shop for Fords exclusively will be run in connection with the garage. They will have an advertisement in The Chronicle for the next twelve months, always to appear in the right corner of our back page, where every week Ford news will be published.

Mr. Goodale will continue to use the building to the rear of this garage as a plumbing and repair shop.

Five Negro Boys Arrested.

Henry Perry, giving his home as Columbia, Carl Johnson, Bert Stradford, John Bishop and George Murray, all Camden negroes, were arrested last week and sentenced by the Recorder to pay a fine of five dollars each or serve fifteen days on the streets. After the city gets through with the youngsters they will be turned over to the county authorities on the charge of burglary. All of the gang were charged with stealing chickens and it was also thought that they were responsible for the burglaries in the northern section of the city in the past few weeks when many of the winter tourist homes have been broken into. Not much goods were obtained but the police have been able to obtain several articles that were stolen, and all of the boys have confessed. At some of the homes brass was stolen and was sold by the negroes to a local "junk" dealer.

BUDGET OF NEWS FROM IN AND NEAR BETHUNE (Continued from First page.)

ternoon at the Merchant mill, between here and Bishopville.

Mrs. Nannie Elliott, of the Cassatt section, is very low with tuberculosis at the home of her father, Mr. B. E. Watkins, near Lucknow. She can last only a short while longer as she has been quite ill for several months.

There are quite a number of persons in this vicinity who now have, or have had pellagra. For the information of these persons we take the following extract from an interview with Dr. Joseph Goldberger, head of the bureau of public health at Washington, published in the Savannah News in regard to this disease: "We are positive, after thorough tests, that pellagra is brought on solely by improper dieting and are absolutely convinced that with a well balanced diet the disease can be entirely done away with. I cannot emphasize too strongly the fact that pellagra is not communicable. The best plan to get rid of pellagra is to eat plenty of meat and eggs and to drink milk. Do not eat too much of one kind of food and you will never have pellagra."

The reunion of Confederate veterans which has been held here every year for a long time will not be held this year, as Mr. D. M. Bethune, the prime mover in these affairs is in a hospital at Richmond. These reunions are greatly enjoyed by the veterans and it is to be regretted that the gathering had to be called off this year. There will probably not be any more of these meetings, as the ranks of the old soldiers are rapidly thinning out and soon they will all have crossed to the Great Beyond.

As prohibition advances, crime decreases. Ninety per cent. of the crimes committed in this country are directly traceable to liquor. The following from the Pageland Journal is a case in point:

"Coroner Atkinson, who has been in office more than a score of years, says he has observed that every time the liquor interests are given a blow in Chesterfield county the number of murders decreases. His term of office dates back to the time when liquor was more plentiful and he has been in position to observe the change for the better. He says that at most of the killings to which he has been called a bottle of liquor was in evidence. He thinks liquor has been the cause of most of the inquests which have been held since he came into office. More evidence why every good citizen in South Carolina should vote for state-wide prohibition in the election to be held on the second Tuesday in September."

Mrs. Abbott, Mrs. L. M. Yarbrough and baby and Mr. John McDonald, of Hartsville, Miss Green, of Spartanburg, Mrs. A. E. Guy, of Chesterfield, and Mrs. F. W. Vetoe and little Frank, of McBee, were visitors in Bethune last week.

A gentleman who went to Columbia from here recently in his car, informs us that the auto highway between Cassatt and Camden is as fine piece of road as any in the state. This road will soon be completed from Cassatt to Bethune and then it will be a pleasure to travel from here to Camden and Columbia.

Miss Daisy McDonald, who attended the summer school at the University of South Carolina this summer and who since the close of the school has been visiting friends at York and other points, returned home last Saturday afternoon.

day afternoon. Miss Ethel Brannon returned Saturday from Florence, where she spent several days very pleasantly with friends.

Yesterday morning Miss Julia Barnes accompanied by little Ruth, and Blanche Gardner, were driving to Bethune from the home of Mr. D. M. Barnes, and as they drove on to Mr. Gougau's bridge across Lynches creek the mule they were driving became frightened at some bright colored sign which had been tacked on the railing of the bridge by a representative of the Coca-Cola Co., and although the bridge is quite narrow, the mule turned entirely around with the harness, breaking up the harness and injuring the mule's shoulder, and in addition, badly frightened the children. It will be readily seen that this could have been a most serious accident.

The railing of the bridge had gone away the three children and mule would have undoubtedly been killed. Yesterday afternoon the mule of Mr. D. M. Barnes also became frightened at the same signs and endeavored to turn around on the bridge and almost broke the railing off. A number of people here were quite indignant on account of these near accidents and there was some talk of entering suit against the Coca-Cola people. The signs have been removed from the bridge, however, and they are warned not to tack any more at the same place.

Made Annual Settlement.

Colonel D. H. Wyse, from the Comptroller General's office, was in Camden on Wednesday to effect the annual settlement with the County Auditor and Treasurer. The settlement was entirely satisfactory, and he expressed himself as being highly pleased with the condition of the County's affairs.

G. M. Phifer, aged 59, a well known resident of Gaffney, died in that city Thursday evening suddenly of heart failure.
