AN APPEAL TO THE CITIZENS OF SOUTH CAROLINA.

We are engaged in a supreme effort to rid the state once and for all of the evil effects of the sale of liquor. The approaching election is the most important which this state has held in a quarter of a century. It is of the utmost importance that every citizen should go to the polls prepared to cast his own ballot, and prepared also to give his time and his energies and his best judgment to obtaining a full attendance of his neighbors at the polls on election day.

In behalf of the moral welfare; in behalf of the physical welfare of the present and of the future generations of the state, and in behalf of the financial prosperity of our state, we appeal to every citizen to register his own conviction and to make the majority against liquor so great that there may be no doubt as to the real sentiment of this state, and as to the power and influence back of the enforcement of the law after it is voted.

State-Wide Prohibition.

Wants an Equal Showing.

Editor Chronicle: We notice a report in the last issue of your paper showing the number of children enrolled in each white rural school in Kershaw county, the amount spent during the last school session for the education of each child, inviting trustees and parents to compare the figures and "see if each child is being given a fair chance to get an education." On line seven, Pine Tree school, 24 pupils enrolled, amount spent per pupil $8.33. This is a mistake, because there was no school at Pine Tree last session. The school house was sold last August was a year ago—I have not the exact date at hand—leaving the northwestern portion of District No. 4 with quite a number of children who has not been able to attend school in over a year, the distance being too far for most of them to travel. Notwithstanding the demand has been made from time to time upon the school officials with nothing except a lot of empty promises as a reward for our efforts.

On line nine Cassatt school, number pupils enrolled 57, amount spent for pupil $12.89. We are all very proud of the Cassatt school with the wonderful progress she has made but we believe in the old maxim that "charity should begin at home," as we do not feel that our money should be spent to educate the children in another district and let ours be cut out, and all we ask is an opportunity that our children be allowed to enjoy what is justly theirs. With an equal chance they will, we are sure, compare favorably with any set of children to be found elsewhere.

Justice to our children and ourselves prompts us to this reply, with no ill feelings to anyone.

Citizen.

"THRICE IS HE ARMED WHO HATH HIS QUARREL JUST."

Mr. Editor:—The liquor advertisement of two columns as published by you last week under the caption "Lost we forget" will deceive no one as to its intent and purpose. This advertisement has been going the rounds of the press in this state for sometime to influence the votes for liquor and against prohibition in the election to be held Sept. 14.

With such a fine cause it advocates, it's a pity the writers of it did not have the manhood and courage to sign their names to it. It then would receive more consideration from the people of the state. A man that can't father his own production is ashamed of the cause he expresses. After telling the people they need no instruction how to vote goes on and tells them how to vote and warning them if the state goes for prohibition what evils it will bring and what the liquor men will do next year. I wonder where the prohibitionists will be about that time?

The liquor league certainly has a poor opinion of the intelligence of the patriotic people of the state as to think they will be influenced by such stuff as contained in their advertisement. So far as barrooms are concerned, they can't be established again until you change the state constitution. As to liberties of the people no man has the right to follow that to the injury of his fellow man, and in the contest at the polls, if the liquor men get the worst of it, they will have to take it as their share, just as the prohibitionist will have to do if defeated. What has whiskey done for the state? Has it built any large benevolent institutions for the benefit of the people, or advocated any measures for their lasting good? I think not. It is true, it has put in some instances more money in the treasury from people who don't pay taxes, but has not more been paid out for crimes against the peace and dignity of the state? Consult the court house records and see. Has it not debauched the young manhood of the state? Has it not lowered the vitality of manhood so as to make one more subject to disease and less power to resist it? Has it not caused men to lose their self respect, thereby lowering their standard for good? Has it not caused more heart aches to the good women of the land by having to contend with a brutal husband caused by liquor? Has not many mothers, sisters, wives and friends gone to their graves carrying burdens of sorrow and grief and some of them marks of brutality from drunken men? Has not numerous murders been caused by it and yet we are told to vote for the accursed stuff to ruin the young boys of the state. We are told to not put temptation in each others way.

In its path of destruction we find murders, heartaches, lowered vitality, immorality, loss of self respect and a lowered citizenship. Truly a fine record. Revenue, or no revenue, let the liquor traffic go. If continued, we will see a loss of manhood to our state that will be to the injury of a people that have always stood for high ideals of citizenship and whose patriotism is unquestioned. In the name of mothers, wives, sisters, friends, little boys, the future good of our state, and lastly the God's name let it go.

I believe the good people of our state will vote it out.
J. E. DuPre.
