Coming Marriage.
 Mrs. George Edgar Taylor and her daughter, Missie Craig, to Mr. B. Jones, Jr., the marriage of which was solemnized on Wednesday afternoon, December 15th, at 5 o'clock in the First Presbyterian church, Camden. Lovely in person and charming manner, the bride is a great favorite in her own town, and she is also an acknowledged belle and beauty in the larger circles of South Carolina so that where this announcement will be received with interest. The groom is a younger son of former Judge Ira Jones, of Lancaster, and is a popular business man of that town, which the young couple will make their home.

MEETING OF THE LEAGUE.
 The December meeting of the civic league will be held at the graded school building at 4 o'clock sharp on Friday, Dec. 6th. All members are expected to be present as the last meeting was poorly attended. Reports on clean up week will be brought up. Owing to the inspection with health officials has asked for a longer time given him, as he has been so busy it was impossible to get over the territory. The awarding of prizes will have to be delayed until the meeting has been completed.

JONES HONOR AT SUPPER.
 Katherine Zemp entertained at an informal supper, given in honor of her guest, Miss Reaux Jones, of Columbia. The guests were Misses Williams, Elizabeth Carrison, Gertrude Zemp, Reaux Jones, and Mrs. Yates, and Rev. Davison, John McLeod, Massenburg, Kirkland Trotter, Prof. Syfan, Anerson and Jack Whitaker.

ROYAL AMBASSADORS RETAINED FRIDAY.
 The Royal Ambassadors of the Baptist church had a social meeting on Friday night at the home of Mrs. W. Wilson. The boys invited the girls of the Young Woman's Auxiliary and had a jolly time together. Refreshments were served after numbers games had been played.

Boydin-Exum.
 The marriage of Miss Lula Cooke Boydin to Clifford Poinsette Exum, of Sumter was solemnized Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock at the home of the bride's mother, Mrs. W. D. Boydin, 1525 Bull street. No cards had been issued and only the near relatives and a few intimate friends were present. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. W. B. Gordon, of Camden, the venerable rector emeritus of Grace Episcopal church, who has been a lifelong friend of the bride's family. The drawing room was beautifully decorated with white roses and smilax, a bank of ferns and white tapers in a silver candelabra forming a background for the wedding group during the ceremony. White maline and smilax adorned the chandelier and vases of bride roses were arranged on the mantel and elsewhere about the room. The bride entered with the bridegroom and was joined by her mother who gave her in marriage. She was lovely in a coat suit of dark green broadcloth banded with fur and a charming little French hat of green velvet trimmed with fur and roses and she carried an armful of bride roses. The bridegroom's best man was Hampton Forrester, of Sumter.

After the ceremony wedding cake and wine were served in the dining room by the bride's two pretty young sisters, Misses Henrietta and Ida Boydin. The bride's table, exquisite in appointment and decoration, had in the centre on a lace spread a long handled basket tied with a great bow of white maline and filled with bride roses. The table candles were pale green and were held in three branching silver candelabra and the chandelier overhead was decorated in smilax and white maline, delicate streamers of which were brought down and caught to the table with airy bows. Cut glass dishes held white and green mints.

The wedding presents proved, both by the quantity and the variety of places from which they came, the widespread popularity of the young couple.

The bride, who has for several years made her home in Sumter, has already many friends there to give a cordial welcome back as a permanent resident. Mr. Exum is in the cotton business in Sumter, to which city they will go immediately after their honeymoon which they are spending in Augusta. The out-of-town guests at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. Charles P. Exum, of Bennettsville; Mrs. Lawrence Kirkland, of Camden; Miss Edith Evans, of Sumter; Hampton Forrester

White-Hogue.
 Smithville, S. C., Nov. 29.—A marriage beautiful in its simplicity and of interest to this section took place Wednesday evening at 8:30 o'clock at the home of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. White, when their only daughter, Sarah Hogue, became the bride of Samuel Wiley Hogue. Only a few near relatives and friends witnessed the ceremony which was performed by the Rev. J. P. Attaway, pastor of the bride.

The parlor was tastefully decorated with ferns, white and bronze chrysanthemums. The bride was gowned in a traveling suit of blue cloth, black velvet hat with fur trimmings and accessories to match. The bride and groom left immediately for Camden, their future home.

Just before the ceremony the guests were invited into the dining hall where they enjoyed one of "ye old time" wedding suppers.

Mrs. Hogue is the only daughter of Mr. and Mrs. L. A. White and a very attractive young woman who numbers her friends by the score. Mr. Hogue is connected with the W. Robln Zemp's pharmacy and is a young man of sterling worth.

Popular Couple Weds.
 The marriage of Miss Jennie Dixon and Mr. Avery A. Reasonover on Sunday afternoon came as a surprise to their friends, who knew of the engagement but did not know it was so soon to be brought to a happy consummation. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. Charles B. Smith, pastor of Lytleton Street Methodist church, and was witnessed by only a few friends. The bride is the daughter of Mr. and Mrs. David E. Dixon of this city. Amiable in disposition, pleasing in manner and attractive in person, she numbers her friends by those who know her. The groom is the son the Mr. W. R. Reasonover and has made his home in Camden for the past several years and won a number of friends by his straightforward, manly conduct. He holds a responsible position with the Camden Water and Light company. Mr. and Mrs. Reasonover are at home to their friends at the home of Mr. and Mrs. E. D. McCutcheon on Fair street. Later they will move into Mr. Reasonover's house on Latrains street, recently purchased from Mr. John E. Rhame.

HAD PLEASANT EVENING WITH MRS. BIRCHMORE.

The Ladies' Aid Society of the Lytleton Street Methodist Church entertained the lady members of the church at a most delightful reception given at the home of Mrs. C. W. Birchmore on last Tuesday afternoon. This affair was pleasant in every detail. The rooms were beautifully decorated, the lamps being shaded in red and red autumn leaves wound among them. Those receiving at the door were Mrs. R. W. DeLoache, Mrs. C. W. Birchmore and Mrs. R. W. Mitcham. Music was furnished by Misses Nan DeLoache, Loree Arthur and Mrs. A. J. Beattie. A delicious salad course with coffee and chocolate was served by Mesdames W. O. Smith, Willis Sheorn, E. W. Bond and W. F. Nettles.

IMPORTANT NOTICE TO LIBRARY MEMBERS.

All subscribers are requested to bring in books belonging to the Camden Library within the next two weeks. The circulation will be stopped until January 1st, when the new library is to be opened. Books will be taken in but not given out, as the catalogue is to be made in the near future. The librarian will be at the old library every morning from 10 to 1 o'clock to receive the books. If it is not convenient to call during these hours, Miss Loree Arthur has kindly consented to take charge of them at Mr. W. Bratton deLoach's law office. Please do not disregard this notice but search your own libraries for books that may have been left there by mistake or neglect. You may not know it yourself and yet there may be a book in your home that belongs to the Camden Library. If so, send it in. Louise Nettles, Librarian.

Will Be of Interest Here.

Camden people will be interested in the announcement below. Mr. and Mrs. McDowall have many relatives and friends in Camden and the young lady will be remembered in Camden, the city of her birth, and where she spent her girlhood:

"Mr. and Mrs. James Douglas McDowall announce the marriage of their daughter, Annie Kennedy to Mr. Harold Charles Nease, November twenty-seventh, nineteen fifteen, Charleston, West Virginia."

Services at Beulah.

We have been requested to announce that there will be the usual services held at Beulah church, below Camden next Sunday. In the absence of the pastor, who is attending Conference at Charleston, there will be addresses delivered by Mr. C. W. Birchmore and Hon. W. Bratton deLoach. The exercises will begin at 3:30 and the public is cordially invited to be present. Mr. J. C. Humphries is the superintendent of the Sunday School and has charge of the services.

The Big Theatrical Event.

The management of the Camden opera house have decided to present Eugene Walter's play, "The Trail of the Lonesome Pine" with Miss Elly O'Connor in the leading role at the opera house for one night only, Saturday, Dec. 4th. The play, which is founded on the novel of the same name by John Fox, Jr., is in four acts. The first and fourth acts are laid under the pine at sunset, and sunrise; the second act at the Gap and the third act in the heroine's mountain home. Eugene Walter has condensed the time of the unfolding of the romance of June Tolliver and Jack Hale, but increased the rapidity of action. The first act closes with June, the little barefoot mountain girl on her way to school. In the second act she learns that Jack is not thinking seriously of a marriage she believed to be inevitable and returns to the mountains. The third act thrills with the love story of June and Jack Hale and the suppression of the feud aided by the awakening of June to the difference between the duty of love and the duty of the law resulting in the reunion and marriage of the most delightful book characters ever conceived in the last act. The Will E. Culhane Amusement company have given the play a magnificent production the mountain scenery being especially beautiful. Miss O'Connor, the leading lady, will be remembered in Camden, having played here two seasons ago.—adv.

Miss DuBose Hostess.
 Miss Elizabeth DuBose was hostess to the Fair Street Embroidery club last week. The regular members were present with their fancy work. A salad course was served.

Banking Rules.

If you have any business at the bank, put it off till two o'clock or a little later, as it looks more businesslike to rush in just as the bank is closing.

In depositing money, try to get it upside down and wrong end foremost so that the teller may have a little exercise straightening it out before counting it.

If you make a deposit of one hundred dollars and give a check for fifty dollars, it is a good thing to call frequently at the bank and ask how your account stands. This will impress the bank officers favorably with your business qualifications.

If a check is made payable to your order, be careful not to endorse it before handing it to the teller, but let him return it to you and wait until you endorse it. This helps to pass the time, and it is a pleasure and a relief to the teller.

You can generally save time when making a deposit by counting down your money to the teller, as you can nearly always count more speedily and correctly than he can.

When you make a deposit do not use a deposit ticket, but mix indiscriminately together checks and bills. This will facilitate matters exceedingly.

Always date your checks ahead. It is a never failing sign that you keep a good balance in the bank; or, if you do not wish it generally known that you are doing a good business, do not deposit your money until the very last moment before your check will be in. When you ask the teller for change for ten, be sure and wait until he has counted you out ten notes and then hand it back to him and tell him you wanted it in quarters and halves. It is customary to do this because bank tellers are supposed to be mined readers.—By L. L. Latour of Outcault Adv. Co.

LADIES WILL HOLD BAZAR ON DEKALB STREET TODAY.

For the benefit of the Presbyterian Sunday School, the ladies have arranged to give a bazaar today and tomorrow, next door to The Majestic Theatre. Santa Claus will be there and receive letters from children between 3:30 and 5:00 p. m., today and Saturday. Bazaar opens at 12 o'clock today, and continues through until late Saturday evening. Refreshments will be served and Christmas novelties will be on sale.

Blakeney-Williams.

The following wedding invitation has been issued: "Mr. and Mrs. Eugene Kennedy Blakeney request the honor of your presence at the marriage of their daughter, Louise DuBose, to Mr. Edward Locke Williams, Saturday evening, December the 11th at quarter after five o'clock, Presbyterian church, Kershaw, South Carolina."
