

A TALE OF THE TIMES.

He Loves The Cows and The Chickens and Longs For The Old Home.

The majority of the youth in all generations would like to be a clerk in a confectionary store or a railroad conductor on a passenger train or a clown around the monkey ring in a circus, rather than stay at home and work on the farm.

Unlike the progressive progressive farmer whose mind is never weary with business cares but is always happy and at peace with all the world, the ambitious youth whose seeming prophecy of fortunes ahead and big things to come, get rich easy without work at most any other place but home.

SUMMARY OF THE WAR.

Washington Seems to Think Lusitania Dispute Will be Settled.

Optimism prevails in Washington that the situation between the United States and Germany which arose over the sinking of the steamer Lusitania by a German submarine will be settled amicably. In official circles it has been stated that the use of the words "illegal" or "disavowal" will not be insisted upon by the United States, and that no choice of words used by Germany in meeting the American Government's contentions in the premises will be permitted to block the success of the negotiations.

While Secretary Lansing, who is to have a final conference with President Wilson on the subject, stated that he considered the situation unchanged, Chairman Stone of the Senate Foreign Relations Committee said his impression was that the case was "practically settled."

Except on the front in France and Belgium little fighting has been reported. Paris tells of the bombardment of German positions near Het Sas and Steenstraete in Belgium, the destruction of a German blockhouse between the Oise and the Aisne and of effective work by French batteries in the Artois and Champagne regions. French shells on the former sector caused powerful explosions north-east of Arras and a great fire in the Champagne near Chalturnage.

The Germans have been busy with their artillery against the British around Loos, while the British in return have bombarded German trenches near the Ypres-Roulers Railway.

The Vienna War Office reports the situation unchanged on all fronts where Austro-Hungarian troops are fighting.

Nothing new has come through concerning the reported concentration of troops of the Teutonic Allies in the region of the Greek border.

A Copenhagen dispatch indicates that authorities at Kiel are fearful of an Allied air raid there. The populace has been notified that a steam siren will give advance notice of a raid, and that in case raiders come the people should not unduly expose themselves.

The semi-official Overseas News Agency of Berlin says there are now 1,429,171 prisoners of war in Germany. This number, it is believed, does not include prisoners the Germans left in Austria-Hungary.

A London newspaper is authority for the statement that Earl Kitchener, British Secretary for War, probably will leave the War Office to undertake work of a more important character elsewhere. If Earl Kitchener should leave, the newspaper adds, Sir William Robertson, chief of staff, will actively direct the war and a civilian become Secretary for War.

For the second time during the war Prince Oscar of Prussia, fifth son of Emperor William, has been wounded.
