GRAPE ON THE DOOR.
SOMEbody's dead; there's a crape on the door.
The blinds are half closed on the neighboring store.
Some one in sorrow of a loved one bereft,
Somebody taken and somebody left.
Gone from this world, its care and its strife;
Gone from the dear ones beloved during life;
Gone to a home with the ransomed above;
Gone to a Saviour whose fullness is love.
Closed be the eyes of the sleep today;
Silent the room where the loved one they lay.
There is a reason of weeping for one
Whose troubles are ended, whose labors are done.
Heavy the footfalls as each on his way
Treads the brick pavement, light hearted today.
Little they heed the half blinded store,
Little they care for the crape on the door.
Little care they in the battle of life,
Arduous fighting 'mid turmoil and strife;
Little care they who never look back
With eyes firmly fixed on life's beaten track.
Onward they rush till in reaching life's bound,
They slacken the footsteps and quiet the sound.
Ceasing their efforts their labors give o'er,
Pass them by gently, there's a crape on the door.

DESIGNS TO BE SIMPLE.

A Touch of Oddity in Cut and Trimming For Summer.

New York, April 17.—Daytime dresses, this season, seem to have reached the height of perfection. There are the simplest of the simple, in designs for morning or street wear, and the daintiest, most airy possible of creations for afternoon and evening purposes. The typical summer dress is more charming than it has been for many a year. It is fashioned of the fascinating voiles, crepes, flouncings, and organdies favored this season, and trimmed with ribbon, lace, embroidery and beads.

Beads as Trimming, White and Colored

China beads are particularly effective for this purpose; these are used for yokes, collars, cuffs, and for girdles. For the taffeta afternoon dress the beads are in colors or white, according to their application. One of the smartest of the imported frocks shown in New York this season, was a dark blue taffeta, trimmed with these white opaque beads arranged in conventional designs on skirt yoke, cuffs and collar. An extremely simple, long-lined dress of Lanvin's in a gabardine, was effectively finished by a narrow, woven girde of beads in the vivid Indian colorings; this girde was weighted with two heavy tassels, and was caught loosely about the normal waistline, knotted and allowed to fall nearly to the skirt hem on left side. The girde composed the only bit of contrast on the dress and the effect was charming.

A Becoming House Dress

A white bead girde on an afternoon or a dance frock of net is most effective too; the China beads may be used, or the glittering crystal beads. These woven girdles give us an excellent opportunity to put into use the knowledge of bead weaving which the majority of us gained when bead embroidery was so popular a form of fancy work, some years ago. One may use her own ideas as to color combinations, this being another chance for developing personality in dress. The use of color is undoubtedly the greatest factor in obtaining the desired note of the season, therefore, one should not hesitate to use color in effective combinations, in ribbon, braids and embroidery of all kinds; the touch of handwork is introduced on frock, blouse and suit, anywhere and everywhere possible.

The daytime dress of serge, natural linen or taffeta, is rendered doubly becoming by a bit of vivid wool or bead embroidery, and the evening frock, no matter how simple, is a thing of glitter and sparkle. One should not be afraid of oddity, as long as it is harmonious.

The Return of Belts

As girdles and belts of all descriptions are smart again this year, it will not be a difficult matter to introduce the required bit of color. Wide and narrow girdles of ribbon are smart; narrow strap belts of colored suede, soft or vivid, according to the tone of the material, encircle skirt or coat of the sport costume, and the simple serge or linen frock may be girdled as soberly or as gorgeously as Fancy dictates, and Fashion advises. Fancy to be gorgeously included. Birds, bees, butterflies, and colored motifs are being embroidered on frock and blouse, the bluebird being especially favored for light-toned linens and cottons.

IN MEMORIAM.

Our community was saddened on last Friday evening to hear that Mrs. W. M. Lollis had passed from earth to her Heavenly home, after a very short illness. Mrs. Lollis was born in Camden, February 26, 1873. In early life she gave her life to Christ and joined the Camden Baptist Church, and through the years until her death she was identified with all departments of work—Sunday School, Woman's Mission Society and the Sunbeam Band of which she was leader. And the Christian impression made on the young girls and boys through these channels by her sweet and loving personality will stand as a lasting memorial of her love and faithfulness to Christ. She was loved by all, and especially the little children, over whom she had such a wonderful influence.

She is survived by her husband, Mr. W. M. Lollis, and two sons, Mr. Bernice Lollis, of Rocky Mount, N. C., and Will, a lad of ten years. One sister and brother, Mrs. Howard Singleton, and Mr. M. G. Huckabee, of Camden. To these loved ones we tender the deepest sympathy of our community in their sorrow.

Funeral services were conducted at the Baptist Church by her pastor, Dr. John A. Davison, Saturday afternoon, and she was laid to rest in the Quaker cemetery by the side of five little ones that had preceded her to the Heavenly home. Her grave was covered with beautiful flowers sent by loving friends. Emblems from the Sunday School, Woman's Mission Society and Sunbeam Band, testified to the esteem in which she was held. How blest the righteous when they die. Rest in peace.
One Who Loved Her.

School Association to Meet Today.

Friday afternoon at 4:30 o'clock there will be a meeting of the School Improvement Association of the Camden City Schools. The matter of the erection of a new high school building comes up for discussion. All patrons and friends of the school are invited to be present.

To Meet in Charleston.

The thirty-ninth state convention of South Carolina Sunday School Association will convene at Charleston May 3rd, 4th and 5th. Charleston is doing more for the state convention than any other city in the state has done. They want at least 1,000 delegates and will be prepared to take care of them.

Every white Sunday School in the state is asked to send five delegates including pastor and superintendent. Free entertainment will be given all registered delegates and very low rates have been granted by the railroads.

Many prominent Sunday School workers will address the convention.

The Sunday Schools of Kershaw county are urged to elect delegates and insist on their attending.

SERMONS NOW IN PROGRESS AT BAPTIST CHURCH ON GENERAL THEME "THUNDERINGS FROM SINAI TO THE LIFE OF CAMDEN."

Series began Sunday, April 9th, to last through Sunday, May 7th. Time of service 8:30 p. m. Subjects in their order, including those which have been delivered:

April 9th.—"The Thundered Reminder that God Must be First in the Lives of Men."
April 16th.—"The Thundered Requirement that Men be Faithful in the Cultivation of Their Religious Lives."
April 23rd.—"The Thundered Condemnation of the Spirit of Irreverence."
April 30th.—"The Thundered Command that the Sacred Ties of the Home be Reverenced and Maintained."
May 7th.—"The Thundered Injunction Against the Violation of Our Neighbors' Rights."

This isn't the day of "Thou Shalt Not," and the unuttered feeling is prevalent that the laws of Sinai were not applicable to modern life. The sentiment in favor of personal rights threatens to lead men to confound liberty with license. The purpose of this series of sermons is to incite thought as to certain tendencies in the life of our community, and to seek to discover whether or not the thundered admonitions embraced in the ten commandments have any application for us. You are cordially invited to have a part in these services if some other service doesn't claim your attention at this hour.

"A Corner in Cotton."

Marguerite Snow, the delightful young screen star, will be seen here at The Majestic tomorrow, Saturday, April 22, in "A Corner in Cotton," a five part Metro wonderplay produced by the Quality Pictures Corporation. Miss Snow will be surrounded by an all star cast which includes Frank Bacon, the foremost character actor of the stage and screen; Lester Cuneo, Helen Dunbar, J. W. Goldsworthy, Zella Call, Howard Truesdell, William Clifford and Winfred Roger. This feature was produced under the personal direction of Fred J. Balshofer, who has long been one of the leading producers of motion pictures. The production abounds with a wealth of interesting scenes, contrasting life in New York society with conditions among the poor in the slums there and with those that exist among the cotton mill workers in the South. It is one of those distinctive Metro features which sends the spectator away thinking long after seeing the production.—adv.
