THE OLD FLAG.
Put your hat as the flag goes by.
And let the heart have its say!
You're man enough for a tear
In your eye
You will not wipe away.

Man enough for a thrill that goes
Far very finger tips,
The lump just then in your throat
That rose
Is more than your parted lips.

AT OPERA HOUSE TONIGHT

"A Southern Evening" To Be Presented For Benefit of Library.

Be sure and hear Dr. White's noted address on Sidney Lanier, at the opera house Friday at 8:45 p. m.

A "Southern Evening" for all. U. D. C.'s and veterans especially invited. The members of the Library association and all readers are expected to come. Every person in Camden is urged to come.

S. K. von Tresckow, Pres.

Henry Timrod—Our Southern war poet, born in Charleston, S. C., Dec. 8, 1827, and died in Columbia, S. C., Oct. 6, 1867.

Come and hear Timrod's "Carolina" put to music by Reed Miller, of Anderson, S. C., and dedicated to the people of South Carolina, at the opera house tonight (Friday) at 8:45.

For you and the Library.

Mr. Little has kindly offered to begin his picture show at 7:15, so all can get out by 8:45 and go to the opera house, or come to movies after the "Southern Evening."

Query Column.

Why is it that Camden lacks community spirit? Is it because we are innately selfish, or too full of petty jealousies, or so humble-minded that we do not feel that our little personal effort is necessary?

Card of Thanks.

I wish to thank all those who so kindly helped us during the recent convention of the Woman's Auxiliary to show that the people of Camden are truly given to hospitality. To all who offered their homes for our guests, their automobiles and carriages for the transportation and the convenience of our visitors, and who in other ways made their stay here a pleasant one we extend our thanks and assure them of our deep appreciation of their kindness.

F. H. Harding, Rector, Grace Church.

AN INTERESTING REFERENCE.

Fight On Over the Editorship Of The Lancaster News.

A reference is being held today at the court house in this city in the case of Col. Leroy Springs vs. Luther Ellison before W. W. Lewis, Esq., of York, as referee, and is being attended by a number from Lancaster.

The case involves the control of the newspaper published at Lancaster, and is being stubbornly fought. F. B. Grier, Esq., of Greenwood, and Messrs. Williams & Williams, of Lancaster, represent the Springs and Jones interests, while the Ellison-Wylye-Gregory faction have Messrs. B. L. Abney, of Columbia, and C. N. Sapp, of Lancaster, as their attorneys.

Mr. Luther Ellison, who was recently elected editor and business manager of the paper, is not satisfactory to Col. Springs and his faction, who are seeking his removal, which they claim to have the right to bring about by means of having voted an accumulative ballot at the election for directors two months ago centering their voting strength upon five, whom they elected, instead of dividing their vote among seven as might have been expected. Having the majority on the board of directors, Col. Springs and his associates are seeking Mr. Ellison's removal, and this effort is being bitterly fought by the other faction, who contend that the Springs-Jones capture of a majority of the directorate was illegal.

Several witnesses have been examined, and very probably the proceedings will consume the entire day and, perhaps tomorrow.

Mr. A. M. Deal, of Columbia, is taking down the testimony.—Mondays Chester Reporter.

The pepper planters of South Carolina have formed an association with a capital of $15,000.

G. A. Williamston, of Clarendon county, sold 305 bales of cotton Monday to a Wilmington firm for 12 1/2 cents, the total amount being $19,000.

Otto Tiedeman died Monday at his home in Charleston aged 96. He was a native of Germany and one of Charleston's most prominent business men.

SUGGESTIONS FOR GRADUATE.

Organdy, Voile and Other Cottons Favored for the Frock.

New York, May 30.—Quite as important as the June bride is the June graduate. She must be just as daintily dressed in misty white, and her future is equally as promising.

It is no longer considered the proper thing for the graduate to be elaborately dressed in silk or satin; many of the daintiest frocks are fashioned by the graduate herself, from the sheer voiles, organdies, gings, or from the dainty flouncings of lace or embroidery. The high schools favor the idea of the graduate fashioning her own dress; some go as far as to suggest the material and the cut for the entire class. Perhaps this does not appeal to the average girl, with her ideas of individuality, but the notion of making her own frock should appeal to her, for this very reason, that she may add little distinctive touches which bring out her own personality.

The very simplest, most youthful models are chosen for the June graduate. They are usually of organdy, or one of the sheer cottons, very sparingly and simply trimmed. Crepe de Chine or one of the very soft taffetas or satins may also be used, if preferred, but the cottons are more in vogue and daintier.

Commencement Frock of Voile.

Net, which is such a general favorite for the typical summer dress, is quite as well liked for the graduation dress and proves extremely practical.—White cotton net, combined with taffeta, voile, or organdy, fashions the daintiest of graduation frocks; one which may be worn later for summer afternoons, or the dance.

Skirts are short, sleeves range from the short puff, so charmingly in keeping with bouffant skirts of the moment, to the three-quarter or full length sleeve of organdy, net, Georgette or chiffon. Round necks are particularly modish, although the square neck and the V are also liked. If one wishes to be at the height of the mode, the graduation frock must boast a hooped petticoat. These are so softly boned and so unobtrusive that the frock loses none of its simplicity but gains in grace.

White kid pumps and white silk stockings are dainty and carry out the "all white" notion; black patent or kid pumps and black stockings, however, are in quite as good form. White silk gloves, if any gloves are worn, are better than kid, being cooler. A small white fan may be carried, both for use and ornament, for fans are extremely dainty this summer. Feathers are being used in the new fans. There are small ostrich feather fans and plain cock feather fans in white and colors. The small spangled silk fan is still favored. Any of these make most acceptable gifts for the graduate. Although the plainer the hair is dressed the better, a bit of tulle or a single comb may be worn, and Colonial silver or rhinestone buckles may adorn the pumps. Very little jewelry, if any, is permissible; a small brooch or a tiny Lavalliere is quite enough.

A Card of Thanks

Though words cannot express my appreciation and sincere thanks to everyone who has so generously assisted me in my recent misfortune, my loss is partly compensated for in knowing that I have so many friends with the Christian spirit of love that prompted them to this act of charity.

The Lord loveth a cheerful giver, and we are commended to bear one another's burdens. My burden has been considerably lightened, and I pray Heaven's choicest blessings upon those who have remembered me so kindly.
