CAMDEN BOYS AT HOME.

Arrived Wednesday Over Scaboard and Given Hearty Welcome.

Seventy-nine men, members of Company M. First South Carolina Infantry. (Kershaw Guards) arrived Wednesday over the Seaboard and were met at the station by a large number of town and county folk who had assembled to wel come them home. All of the boys were in the best of condition and happy at being home again. The train bearing the Camden company also had afford the members of the Hartsville and other companies, who spent a few minutes oleasantly mingling with the town peo-

The company marched to the armory where the ladies had planned a welcome. Hon. W. B. deLoach introduced the speakers - Rev. Dr. W. B. Gordon, Mayor C H. Yates and Hon. B. B. Clarke. Dr. Gordon offered a prayer in thanks for the safe return of the boys. Mayor Yates in a few happy remarks welcomed the young men home and also in behalf of the ladies thanked those of the citizens who helped to provide the excellent thanksgiving din-

The ladies had arranged no dinner for the soldier lads, but instead, had requested the ladies of the city to invite the young men from the county who had no homes in the city to take dinner with them.

Mr. Clarke in addressing the soldiers fresh from the Mexican border and from duty well done," said:

"When a call was made for men to guard our border it was to be experted that the sons of Kershaw County would respond. Paymaster Held Up.

An associated press dispatch of Dec. 2, from Atlanta, Ga., tells of the robbing of $1,500 from Mr. A. H. Boykin, formerly of Camden. The dispatch reads as follows:

reads as follows:

"A. H. Boykin, paymaster for the Marshall Manufacturing company, was attacked at Hapeville, a suburb, today by three men and robbed of the company's payroll of $1,500. Mr. Boykin had gone to Hapeville from Atlanta on a trolley car. After be alighted he was followed by a man and as he approached an automobile, in which two men were sitting, one of those in the machine quickly jumped out and struck him on the head, according to Boykin's report to the police. Another grabbed a satchel containing the money and the three sped away in the automobile."
