 That Camden has taken her among her sister cities in the line of improvements and construct-should have a building committee quite sick at the home of her son in Sumter, has been able to return to Camden.

Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Peers, of Orangeburg, are visiting relatives in Camden this week. They made the trip by automobile.

Among the Confederate veterans from Kershaw County who will very likely form a party to Washington on June 4th will be Judge W. F.
 Russell, Capt. A. M. Brailsford, T.
 P. Sanders, J. J. Bell, James DeLoach and A. H. Boykin.

Messrs. R. J. Syfan, H. Bissell Kennedy, Thomas Humphries and Ralph Shannon left last week to enter the training camp for officers at Fort Oglethorpe, Ga. There were a good many young men from this county to offer for this camp but the above named are the only ones called so far.

Mr. and Mrs. Fred Robinson, Mrs.
 Fuller, Miss Lydia Fuller, and Mr. T.
 K. Trotter formed an automobile party to Florence last Friday to see the Camden company on guard duty in that section. The boys of the company report excellent treatment at the hands of Floridians and hope the Camden people will extend every courtesy to the guards doing patrol work near Camden.

Messrs. Geo. T. Little, W. O. Hay, W. M. King and L. A. Kirkland left Camden last Thursday morning at 7:15 for Atlanta and arrived in Atlanta at 7:15 the same afternoon. The Buick car. The distance traversed was 297 miles, with a stop of one half hour at Augusta and one hour at Maddison, Ga. The party returned to Camden Sunday morning by way of Anderson.

An Excellent Apparatus For Hauling.
 Mr. Geo. T. Little has purchased a "Northway Trailer Car" to be used for hauling on his farm. The trailer is an attachment that can be fitted to any ordinary automobile and has a carrying capacity of 2,000 pounds. It has pneumatic tires and tracks perfectly with the auto. It is said to consume only one-third more gas than it takes to run the auto without the trailer. For his own demonstration Mr. Little had the trailer loaded with wheat and carried 22 bushels to Lenoir's mill below Uagood one afternoon last week. He also placed three bales of cotton and baled it over the city streets. Mr. Little has the agency for this trailer which will no doubt prove to be very valuable to many farmers in the near future.

Elliott Robinson, a negro, is held

PATRIOTISM AND CLOTHES

The Red, White and Blue in Evidence in Many Novel Accessories.

New York, May 15.—The patriotic spirit of flag-decked New York begins to make itself felt in many of the small accessories that make a woman's costume, and often in the costume itself. With flags to the right and flags to the left, it is not be wondered at that the spirit of the times is being reflected in our clothes.

The red, white and blue colors are in evidence everywhere. New vests and collars of white silk or satin are edged with narrow red, white and blue ribbon, or rows of red and blue ribbon are stitched around the edges of white collars. The vests are the very latest addition to coats, and are so popular that even blouses are being made in vest effect now.

A Bolero Dress in Dotted Foulard is Exceedingly Smart.

Hosiery and gloves embroidered with stars and stripes are among the latest novelties seen, showing the extent to which patriotism may be taken. There are also small silk handkerchiefs edged with little flags, and parasols edged with ribbon bearing the stars and stripes. Even a parasol of red, white and blue bunting has been devised, with the colors alternately in each section.

Costumes consisting of red or blue wool jersey middie blouses are worn with skirts of white wash satin or sports silk. The blouses are decorated with embroidered emblems on the sleeves, on the ends of collars or in front. With the blue blouses are worn red ties, and with the red blouses, blue ties.

Every smartly-dressed woman realizes that if she is to be up to date she must have a dress of foulard in her wardrobe this summer. Blue foulard with large white polka dots is the kind one sees most of, but sometimes the order is reversed and blue dots standing out on a white background appear. They are just as smart and even a little newer than the white dots on the blue.

Foulard is often combined with Georgette or organdy. In the sketch it is combined with white Georgette which is used for the soft, gathered vest and collar, of a very modish bolero dress of navy-blue dotted foulard.
 The pretty bolero style has come back to us, and this is one of the many attractive models in which it is seen.
 Some of the new summer suits have short bolero coats trimmed around the edge with some form of embroidery or stitching. A very smart model was made of blue twill and foulard.

Coats with capes, and dresses with capes, have been making their appearance lately. The capes are not the short variety that were used some seasons ago. They are very long, as long as the coat to which it is attached in most cases, and many of them are attached only at the back of a coat or dress. While being very smart, these capes have a practical value in that they give extra warmth. In a very smart dress which combined dark blue satin and serge, a cape of serge was attached to the shoulders. The lining of apricot-colored silk formed an effective background for the dark dress.

To Distribute Garden Seed.
 The local National League for Women's service hereby gives notice that it will as long as its supply lasts distribute free garden seed and plants to those who need the same upon application to Mrs. E. C. DuBose, Camden, S. C.
 The League also calls upon all—whether members or not, firms, corporations, and farmers, who have seed or plants to spare or who wish to make a donation of money to assist this work to notify Mrs. DuBose immediately. Prompt support of this effort now will mean food for many families later in the summer.

 Secretary.

Why Oil Calms Seas.

Waves in mid-ocean are caused entirely by the action of the wind. The adhesion between the rapidly moving particles of air which compose the wind and the surface particles of the water causes the water's surface to be dragged along with the air. Small ripples are immediately formed. These ripples soon overtake others near them.
 They unite and due to the friction between the water particles each succeeding ripple piles up on the top of previous ones.

Just as soon as oil is spread upon the water, however, the size of the waves is reduced like magic. The reason for this is interesting. Oil, unlike water, has very little internal friction between its particles. The ripples of oil formed by the wind, therefore, cannot pile upon each other to any considerable height.

Hence, water waves cannot grow in an area of oil placed about a steamer. They begin to fall down instead.
 By the time these waves reach the boat they will have lost their formative ripples and the result is a perfectly calm surface over the portion of the sea through which the boat is making its way.—Exchange.
