Liberty.
Sing every bird today!
Sing for the sky so clear
and the gracious breath of the atmosphere
Sing for the sunshine free;
Sing for the land from sea to sea;
Sing through the highest key for each voice in the highest key
Sing for the arms that fling
their fetters in the dust
Sing for the patriot heart and hand;
Sing for the country they have planned;
Sing for the world may understand that Freedom's land!
Sing in the tones of prayer,
Sing in the soaring soul
Sing all about the world's control
Sing Freedom everywhere!
Sing for the good that is to be,
Sing for the eyes that are to see
Sing for the lands where man at last is free,
Sing for Liberty!"
—James Whitcomb Riley.

ADIES MET TO SEW OR HOSPITAL.
The sewing room at the Camden hospital presented a busy scene on Thursday morning when friends of the hospital met to sew for that institution. Amid bright chat and the whirr of three sewing machines the morning slipped away. At twelve o'clock Miss Mayers served a dainty lunch and when the hour of parting came a goodly pile of garments showed how profitably the time had been spent and each one decided that she would surely not forget when Thursday came again that there was sewing waiting for her at the hospital.

IMPORTANT
LIBRARY NOTICE
The Camden Library will close on Tuesday July 8th and not open again until Tuesday July 22nd. Each card holder will be allowed three books to be returned July 22nd. We would advise getting the books yourself, as the desks at the desk have no way of telling that you have read. There is a notice on the door and one on the desk, read it, and have your books stamped correctly. The management does not believe that the two weeks closing in mid-summer will inconvenience the public, nor would we have the stay at homes which we are unkindly of them. Go to the library and you will be provided for.

MEETING OF YOUNG
WOMEN'S CHURCH SOCIETY
The above society which numbers about thirty members had an enjoyable meeting on Friday afternoon with Mrs. John Nettles and Mrs. Robin Zemp as assistant hostesses. This society is not only a pleasant social organization, but has done wonderful work in the Lyttleton Street Methodist Church. Mrs. C. M. Coleman is the efficient and popular president and has held that office since the organization.

MITCHELL-CLARKSON

Kershaw County Man Married To Charleston Young Lady.

(From Sunday's State)
A Charleston wedding of the week past, in which Columbia holds an intimate interest was that of Miss Ann Rebecca Mitchell, daughter of the Rev. A. R. Mitchell, who was for many years the rector of the Church of the Good Shepherd, this city, to James Smith Heyward Clarkson, formerly of East-over, now of Kershaw County. The ceremony was performed Wednesday evening at St. Luke's Episcopal Church, Charleston, and was attended by a number of Columbians, among them the bridegroom's brother, Anderson Clarkson, who acted as best man; his brother-in-law and sister, Mr. and Mrs. James H. Fowles, his brother and sister-in-law, Mr. and Mrs. Heyward Clarkson; and the bride's uncle, aunt and cousin, John P. Thomas, Jr., Miss Nellie Thomas and Miss Caroline Thomas and John Darby, who was in the wedding party. Charles Dwight, Jr., a former Columbian, was also among the attendants.

The following account of the wedding from the Charleston Evening Post will be read with interest:
"St. Luke's church was beautifully decorated with palms, smilax, and hydrangeas, and the ceremony was performed by the bride's father, assisted by her uncle, the Rev. Harold Thomas, who is rector of the church. She was given in marriage by her brother, Austin Mitchell, and attended by her two sisters and a group of college friends whose dainty gowns carried on the color scheme of pink and green.

"Miss Anna Roddey Miller of Rock Hill, a school friend of the bride, presided at the organ. Misses May Rose and Virginia Allen of Greenville, attired in green carrying pink roses, Miss Dorothy Hart of Bamberg and Miss Hannah Salley of Orangeburg in pink with pink roses, and Miss Margaret Mitchell in pink with pink roses were the bridesmaids, Miss Eleanor Mitchell, in white with white roses, acting as maid of honor. The bride was lovely in a white georgette gown made with a train, her filmy veil caught with pearls which were the gift of the bridegroom, as was the handsome pin of pearls and sapphires she also wore. Her flowers were bride roses.

Barnwell Clarkson, Alexander Clarkson and Charles S. Dwight, Jr., acted as ushers and Anderson Clarkson of Columbia was his brother's best man, Gerald Ryan of Bamberg and John Darby of Columbia, Kirkland Trotter of Camden and Alexander Mitchell of Mount Pleasant acting as groomsmen. Immediately after the ceremony there was an informal reception at the home of the bride's parents, 201 Ashley Avenue, invitations to this having been limited to the two families. The rooms were decorated in hydrangeas as was the church, with exquisite pink roses adorning the table in the dining room where the bride's cake was cut and served with fruit punch.

Mr. and Mrs. Clarkson left for a trip to New York and upon their return to South Carolina will make their home on the plantation near Camden where Mr. Clarkson and his brother, Barnwell Clarkson, are farming. Mrs. Barnwell Clarkson being a sister of the bride."

BRIDGE PARTY AT COUNTRY CLUB

One of the largest and prettiest affairs of the summer in Camden's society realm was the bridge party on Friday afternoon at the Country Club with Misses Nan and Rhetta DeLoache as joint hostesses. The dance hall was fragrant with pine and cedar, while a color scheme of yellow and white, matching the club furnishing, was carried out with charming effect. Tables were attractively arranged for bridge upon which dainty refreshments were served after the usual games were played. The color scheme blended beautifully in the block ice cream and cake. Baptist W. M. U. Meeting.

A most interesting quarterly meeting of the Women's Missionary Union of first division, Kershaw Association was held at Pisgah church Saturday June 28th. A number of delegates were present and gave encouraging reports of their work. Mrs. John Dixon, president of 1st division with her corps of faithful helpers deserve much credit for the instructive and well planned program they presented. Not only was much stress laid upon the woman's work but special emphasis was given to the young peoples work; and the way the young people helped with the program was indeed encouraging, showing that they are efficient workers. A young woman's auxiliary was organized at Pisgah, with Mrs. Willie Smith as leader, and a Sunbeam Band with Mrs. G. W. Elmore as leader. Mrs. Liles, the Y. W. A. associate superintendent had charge of the Y. W. A. hour, and spoke in the strongest terms of this work. One enjoyable feature of the program was a dialogue by five ladies "Aunt Polly Joins the Missionary Society", it was not only entertaining but very instructive. Mrs. Robert Goodale, Superintendent of Kershaw Association, gave several helpful messages on different phases of the work. Mrs. M. E. Shrock, chairman of Mission Study urged all the societies to be more systematic and careful of their Bible and mission study. A bounteous dinner was served on the grounds and greatly enjoyed by all. The interest in these meetings is growing, and the workers are looking forward to them.

Death of Mrs. J. A. Young.

Mrs. Mary Young, wife of J. A. Young, of Savannah, Ga., died at Asheville, N. C., last Saturday night and her remains were brought to Westville for interment in the cemetery at Damascus church on Monday. The home of Mr. and Mrs. Young was in Savannah, but since her health declined several months ago, she spent some time in Westville, and later went to Asheville, where she hoped to be improved. Mrs. Young was about twenty-five years of age and left her husband and a little daughter surviving. The funeral service was conducted from Damascus church by Rev. R. M. DuBose. There were a number of beautiful floral tributes. Several friends of the family attended the funeral from Kershaw.—Kershaw Era.

Store To Open Tomorrow.

The opera house store recently leased by H. L. Schlosburg to be used as a five, ten and twenty-five cent store will open to the public tomorrow. The building has recently been put in excellent shape and is filled with small wares usually found in a first class ten cents store. It has been nicely arranged for salesladies as well as for the convenience of the customers and will be quite a revelation to many when the doors open tomorrow. The store has a big advertisement on the last page of this paper today. Read the number of attractive bargains they will open with.

T. J. Cornwell, deputy clerk of court, shot himself at Chester Thursday morning and died instantly. Nobody saw the occurrence but friends think that he was loading or oiling his pistol when the weapon was accidentally discharged. The bullet entered the heart.
