TIED.
When the day with all its splendor,
All its beauty, all its light,
Fades away and leaves us standing
In the shadow of the night,
And we gaze with wistful longing,
At the purple fields that lie
In the sunlight in departing
Leaves its glory in the sky;
Along the clouds like bastions
Rising up the early star of evening
And the early star of evening
Shines upon their fading crest—
When we feel that something brighter,
More still lies out of sight,
Where the beauty and the glory
Will not fade away in the distance,
And that somewhere in the distance,
In the beautiful beyond,
The beloved and departed
Hold us still by some sweet bond;
And across the gold and crimson
Of the evening's changeful track
We can almost hear the music
Of their voices floating back,
And we dreamers, say, what is it,
That we feel but cannot know?
By these cravings, half rapture,
By these pictures half immortal,
That these pictures half immortal,
Described by brush or word,
Which all the human spirit
Of a mortal soul is stirred?
Oh, me prophet, do they lead us,
To the looked-for-by-and-by,
There no mortal eye has parted
The shades of prophecy?
Oh, ye dreamers! oh, ye prophets!
What your dreams prophesies,
That to me the light and fading
Of the ever-changing skies,
That to me the glorious beauty
Of the cloud-land of the west,
With every heart-beat moaning
For the priceless boon of Rest!

NOVEMBER BRIDES COMPLIMENTED.

One of the largest and prettiest of the early Autumn parties was given at the Country Club on Friday afternoon with Mrs. J. Blakeney Zemp and Miss Lal Blakeney as joint hostesses, and Misses Ellen Douglas Boykin and Katherine Zemp, two popular brides-to-be, as honor guests. A pleasing color scheme of yellow, white and green, was effectively carried out, and blended beautifully with the furnishing of the attractive Club. Goldenrod mingled with forest greens in the decorations and the hand-painted score cards were lilies of the valley with green foliage. These were passed by a veritable little fairy, Mary Rutledge Burnet, who was lovely in a white dress and green tulle sash. The score prize, a deck of cards, was won by Mrs. David Perkins, and each bride-to-be was presented with a hand-painted tea-caddy, filled with orange tokens.

The color scheme of white, green and yellow was carried out in the dainty ices and cakes, passed by Misses Elizabeth and Virginia DeLoache and Caroline Burnet, charming little waitresses in white frocks and yellow ribbons. There were more than half a hundred guests present and the occasion was most delightful.

THE HARVEST HOME SHOWER

Tomorrow, Saturday October 18th is the day selected by the Auxiliary of the Hospital Association for the Harvest Home Shower. An informal reception will be held at the Hospital from 10 a. m. to 5:30 p. m., and we hope for a stream of visitors during the entire time. Every section of the county should be represented, for the institution is theirs and they should take a personal pride in its welfare and progress. All ladies of the town and county are invited to call at the hospital tomorrow whether they bring a contribution for the pantry or not, for we want them to see this possession of which the entire county should be proud. Individual interest and united effort is what we are asking for. This invitation is not to the ladies alone. "The lords of creation" will also be welcomed as will their contributions from the bounteous yield of the soil they till so successfully.

Miscellaneous Shower.

The Ladies Aid Society of the Lytleton Street Methodist Church will give a miscellaneous "shower" at the parsonage on Tuesday afternoon, October 21, at 4:30 o'clock. All the ladies of the church are invited to have a part in this shower. Come and bring with you or send if you can not possibly come something useful in the line of household linens, vases, pictures—anything that may add to the comfort and attractiveness of our church home.

Called Meeting of Civic League.

All members and all interested in the Civic League are urged to attend a called meeting next Monday afternoon, October 20th, at 4:30 o'clock. The committee on memorial trees is also asked to meet at Mrs. Shannon's the same afternoon immediately after the adjournment of the League.

Marriage.

Married at the home of Probate Judge W. L. McDowell on Sunday last Mr. Leroy Jordan and Miss Hildreth Poe Cooper, both of Kershaw, S. C. The groom is one of Kershaw's popular young business men and the bride is a young lady of very attractive personality and is possessed of many rare graces of heart and mind.

Preaching Services on Westville Field.

Rev. E. L. Owens will preach at DeKalb Baptist church Saturday night, October 18th, at 8 o'clock, and the following Sunday will preach at Bethany at 11 o'clock a. m.; at Providence at 3 o'clock p. m., and at Refuge church at night. It is desired that all members attend these services and the public is cordially invited.

Marriage.

Married at the home of Probate Judge W. L. McDowell, on Tuesday evening last, the 14th inst., at 7:30 o'clock, Mr. Robert Henry Bell, of Westville, and Miss Mary Jeanette Jones, of Kershaw. The groom is a son of Mr. and Mrs. R. L. Bell and the bride is a daughter of the late Mr. Lewis D. Jones, and have a large circle of relatives and friends who wish for them a long and happy life. The young couple were accompanied to Camden by two friends who witnessed the ceremony.

Crossed Continent in 24 Hours.

San Francisco, Oct. 11.—Crossing the continent, 2,701 miles, in 24 hours, 58 minutes and 55 1-2 seconds actual flying time, Lieut. Belvin W. Maynard of Wake Forest, N. C., today took first honors by a few hours in the first lap of the double transcontinental airplane reliability race by landing at San Francisco at 1:27 p. m., Pacific time, today while Lieut. E. C. Kiel completed the east-bound trip at 6:35:10 p. m., Eastern time, followed 20 seconds later by Major Carl Spatz, who reached New York first, but made an erroneous landing.

Colored Woman Died Suddenly.

Aunt Minerva Summerville, an old time colored woman, died very suddenly at the Baum residence Tuesday evening. She was about eighty years of age and had been in the employ of the Baum family for about forty years. She was formerly the servant of Dr. Simon Baruch, now of New York city, and was the faithful nurse of Mr. Bernard Baruch when a lad. Mr. Baruch never forgot his old colored friend and every month favored her with a substantial remittance for spending money in her old age. The funeral of the old woman was held Thursday afternoon.

Foot Ball This Afternoon.

Columbia High School will meet the Camden High in a football contest at Camden Friday afternoon. The local "Hi's" are hoping to return to their homes with the long end of the score but the Camden boys, while having that hospitality which has made Camden famous, will not give anything on the football field. A hard fought game is anticipated.

The Columbia team looks pretty good and with "Pat" Harmon, captain of the Columbia Hi, running his team in fine shape the Columbia lads have a great deal of confidence in their prospects. It lost its first game to Sumter last Friday by a lone touchdown. The team has some good material and it is likely to give a good account of itself before the end of the season.—Columbia Record.

Charged With Forging Check.

R. H. Bell, a young man of near Kershaw, was taken into custody in this city Wednesday, being charged with forging the name of R. L. Bell to a check for $128 and securing the money. Of the amount $123 was recovered. He gave bond in the sum of $1,000, for his appearance at the next term of court.—Lancaster News.

makes you an "ironclad," as it were, as safely armored against criticism as a battleship is against a shower of hail. And please pin this fact in your mind:—like battleships, are built for business—formed and firmed from keel to superstructure to stand the bombardment of every-day wear. There's more pleasing style, more satisfying service, designed and tailored into every square inch of them than is gettable in any other brand of clothes made. From conception to last stitch they are made for men who are satisfied only with the best obtainable and who are true economists in spending money. The more you know of clothes making and clothes value, the more anxious we are to have you come in here and carefully, critically, examine Society Brand.
