H. D. Niles and E. N. McDowell Publishers. Published every Friday at 1100 No. Broad Street, and entered at the Camden postoffice as second class mail matter. Price per annum $1.50. Camden, S. C. March 5th, 1920.

President Wilson has selected Bainbridge Colby, a New York attorney, for secretary of state, vice Secretary Lansing resigned, and Mr. Colby has accepted the position. Bainbridge Colby was a life-long Republican until 1912, when he left the party with Theodore Roosevelt in connection with the Progressive movement. He is a native of St. Louis and is 51 years of age. In connection with the Goethals-Dennan row on the shipping board, he was appointed a member of the board, and his appointment was confirmed over considerable Republican opposition. He split with Roosevelt in 1916, declining to support Hughes and actively supported Wilson. It is not believed that there will be a great deal of opposition in the senate to his confirmation.

John H. Bankhead of Alabama, the oldest member of the United States senate and the last veteran of the Confederate armies to serve in it, died Monday at his home in Washington of myelodermatitis.

William Westin Ray, prominent Richland county physician and planter, died at the Columbia hospital early Monday morning after an illness of several months.

ADMIRAL PEARY DEAD

Discovered The North Pole After Many Arctic Expeditions.

Washington, Feb. 20.—Rear Admiral Robert Edwin Peary, retired Arctic explorer and discoverer of the north pole, died at his home here today from pernicious anemia, from which he had suffered for several years.

Admiral Peary was sixty-four years old and entered the navy as a civil engineer on October 26, 1881. He was assistant engineer of the Nicaragua ship canal under government orders in 1884 and 1885. Returning to the United States, he became interested in arctic explorations and thirty-four years ago he made a reconnaissance of the Greenland inland ice cap east of Bisco Bay.

Two years thereafter he was engineer in charge of the Nicaragua canal surveys and invented rolling lock gates for the canal. But the lure of the Arctic was on him and he again turned northward. In June, 1891 he led his first big polar expedition, being head of the Academy of National Sciences, Philadelphia.

Admiral Peary made seven other expeditions into the Arctic before he finally was successful in reaching the pole, returning in 1909 to find that Dr. Frederick A. Cook was being praised as the discoverer. In 1912 he was promoted to the rank of rear admiral in the navy and given the thanks of congress by a special act. Turning his attention to aviation, Admiral Peary became a strong advocate of aircraft development by the government and time and again urged adequate coast patrols in this country, especially during the war period.

R. W. Wells, a young man of Columbia, slept in a graveyard on his way out of Columbia, Tuesday night. An iron bed was placed in the cemetery and Wells was obliged to the bed in order that he might not run away if he began to imagine he saw snakes and goblins and other things that are not. He received a check for $25 for the stunt, the whole affair being arranged as an advertising stunt for a Columbia moving picture house.

GEORGE HAD ANOTHER GUESS

Old Gentleman Had Also Been Doing Some Thinking About the High Cost of Living.

A congressman who is investigating the high cost of living said to a Washington correspondent:

"The h. c. l. is responsible for many vagaries and queer complications.

"A young chap who had got engaged to a girl was talking over the future with her.

"With prices what they are," said the girl, "we must be content, George, dear, with a small flat and one or, at the most, two servants."

"George coughed.

"It's my idea," he said, "to live with your old man the first couple of years."

"But, George—"

"That's my idea," he interrupted. "Think of the money we can save. No rent, no light, no grub bills, no coal."

"But—"

"I insist on this thing," George interrupted again. "I tell you, I—"

"Then the door opened softly and the girl's father entered the room."

"Children," he said tenderly, "I have decided that when you get married I'll come and live with you for the rest of my life."

Salmon Saved Queen.

The salmon with a ring in its mouth, that figures in the arms of the city of Glasgow, Scotland, which are also those of the ancient see, is said to record a miracle of St. Kentigern, the founder of the see, and the fourth bishop of Glasgow. A certain queen gave a soldier, with whom she had fallen in love, a ring that had been presented to her by her consort; but the king discovered the intrigue, and, having obtained the ring, threw it into the Clyde, and then demanded it of his disloyal lady.

In her alarm she sought help from St. Kentigern, and he, proceeding to the river, forthwith caught a salmon, which, on being opened, was found to have swallowed the all-important jewel. The queen regained the good graces of the king, and lived a better life afterward.

Believed Victims of Indians.

Three skeletons, believed to be those of early American settlers were unearthed at Kennebunkport, Me., by workmen leveling some land near an old fort erected during the war of 1812. Two apparently were victims of Indian massacres or wars. Embedded in the skull of one of the skeletons was an Indian arrow. The tip of the skull of the second was chipped off cleanly, as if done by a tomahawk held in a well-trained hand. The third skeleton was that of a man seven feet tall. It is believed that the bodies were buried in an old cemetery on this spot, and that the graves were covered over by earth thrown up when the fort excavations were being made.

About the Dead Sea.

Swimming in the Dead sea is refreshing sport, but swimmers have to be careful not to get water into their eyes. In a ton of water from the Caspian sea there are 11 pounds of salt, in a ton from the Atlantic ocean there are 31 pounds, from the Mediterranean, 85 pounds; but in a ton of the Dead sea there are 187 pounds. Contrary to a prevailing belief, there are plains on the shores of the Dead sea that are so fertile and well watered that as soon as one crop is harvested another can be planted; but as a whole, the basin is a dreary region.—Youth's Companion.

Girl Studies to Be Blacksmith.

A girl junior at the University of Washington is learning the blacksmith's trade. Jazz is no lure to her, for the anvil chorus fills her ear and she looks forward to owning and operating a forge and a farm of her own. The desire to master blacksmithing arose from her resolve to be a farmer, and as such to know something of machinery. So she studies the fashioning of bolts and bars and the pointing of plowshares.

Death of Mrs. Melts.

A telegram was received here last week announcing the death of Mrs. Mellicu Motts, which occurred on Sunday night after a brief illness at her home at St. Matthews. Mrs. Motts was before her marriage Miss Mary Billings, daughter of the late W. M. Billings of Camden. She leaves three sons and three daughters and several sisters and brothers. The funeral took place Monday afternoon at four o'clock at the Baptist Church at Cameron, S. C.

At the Majestic Monday, Bryant Washburn in "Too Much Johnson". It's a comedy-drama filled with funny and complicated situations.

The home formerly owned by Mrs. E. E. Hill but recently bought and remodelled by the Waterec Mills is now completed and Mr. Payne and his family are moving in this week. Camden extends a cordial welcome to Mr. Payne and his accomplished wife. As citizens they will be quite an addition to the community. Creighton Hale and June Caprice will amuse you in "A Damsel in Distress" at the Majestic tomorrow. Fatty Arbuckle is on the esame program.—adv.

MILLIONS NEED PEPTO-MANGAN

In Many Homes Better Health Is Simply a Matter of Better Blood

Pepto-Mangan Improves Blood Composed of Approved Blood-Making Elements—Put Up in Liquid and Tablet Form

Are you tired and weak and "blue"? Do you say to yourself, "What's the use of living? What do I get out of life, dragging through this drab existence in this unhappy way?"

You don't feel well and you don't know why you have so little energy to do anything, and you get all tired out before it is done. There are millions in busy America that have such feelings now and then and they are to be pitied. But there is help. Unless some serious malady is at the bottom of their trouble, a few weeks of Pepto-Mangan will work a wonderful change. Pepto-Mangan puts new vigor in the blood, and the blood is the life fluid. With plenty of rich, red blood coursing through one's body one is pretty likely to feel good and vigorous and be strong and look hearty.

Go to your druggist and ask for "Gude's Pepto-Mangan." Be sure to say "Gude's." If "Gude's" is not on the package it is not Pepto-Mangan. It is put up in both liquid and tablet form. Tell the druggist which you prefer. There is no difference in medicinal value.—adv.
