

TROUSERS FOR PARIS WOMEN

Modistes Show Daring Oriental Suits of Lustrous Gold and Silver Tissues.

Paris, France.—Daring oriental suits of lustrous gold and silver tissues ending in trouser legs, which are held close to the shootups by straps, sometimes embroidered in precious stones, passing under the wearer's instep, are featured in displays of summer models in Parisian modistes' parlors. Some models coyly veil the trousers with filmy materials. Recent rumors that tight lacing was to be restored to favor have proved to be erroneous. In fact, little if any corseting will be needed next summer except by stout women. The length of street dresses being shown is about the same as that most in vogue last fall, but the hem is narrower. Bright textures will appear in many of the most popular creations, and patterned materials will be featured by some of the more famous houses. One of the most popular models will show a flounce effect and a tight underskirt of jade green. A smart little jacket with gorgeously embroidered lining has been given the stamp of approval in some of the more exclusive shops.

HER RUSE SAVES FATHER

Italian Girl Takes Blame for Murder in Pennsylvania as Parent Flees.

Bradford, Pa.—Margaret Dicello, 17, can marry any one of a score or more of men. She has turned down proposals galore.

The little Italian girl won the hearts of the youths of her own people by the cute way in which she protected her father from the clutches of the law.

Margaret's father was accused of killing a man, but was at once freed when his daughter confessed that she fired the bullet. When her dad was safe in Italy Margaret admitted that her confession was a lie and was given only to allow her father time to get away. There was nothing for the authorities to do but free the girl and forget the father.

"I'm too young to marry," she tells all bidders for her hand.

MEXICO TO MAKE OWN GUNS

Will Turn Out Cannon on Formula Perfected by Two Native Army Engineers.

Mexico City.—Mexico, which has found it necessary to import its artillery for years, expects soon to manufacture its own field pieces. Two Mexican army engineers have perfected a formula for tempering steel for cannon, and when the installation of three electric furnaces in the national arsenal is completed the first guns will be turned out.

LAST FRAGMENTS OF EMPIRE

Romance in Disappearance of Red Dots From the Map of Western Canada.

A map of western Canada kept in the offices of the Hudson Bay company in Winnipeg is sprinkled with tiny red dots. Two centuries and a half of romance and history focus in these little red dots.

When the Hudson Bay company in 1870 surrendered to Canada the vast territory granted to it by Charles II of England, it retained one-twentieth of all the land in the "fertile belt" of Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta between the North Saskatchewan river and the international boundary.

This one-twentieth was distributed throughout every township and each of these red dots on the map represents an area of from 160 to 640 acres.

These lands are today just as they were when the company's first forts were erected on Hudson bay. They are just as they were when the buffalo pastured upon them and Indians and trappers snared or shot fur-bearing animals in this domain half a century ago.

Though now surrounded by farms, they have never been touched by a plow. They are still islands of primeval soil in the midst of rich farming districts.

The little red dots are disappearing one by one from the map. Each one that disappears means that the land it represents has become a settler's farm. All the dots represent 3,000,000 acres.

The company is rapidly disposing of all its remaining land to settlers. When the last dot disappears from the map, the last fragment of Hudson Bay company's old empire will have disappeared from the North American continent.

Chautauqua the Champion of Neighborhood Life at Its Best

(Editorial from Norwalk, O. Reflector.)

The Chautauqua is the champion of neighborhood life at its best.

The Chautauqua appeals to and for the whole family. It pulls with father and mother for the best interests of the children. It glorifies home life and is always safe, sane and conservative.

The Chautauqua pays a hundred fold in community betterment. In boosting it we proclaim our faith in all good things, and we join the forces of progress. It is the ally of the home, the public school, the church, the community club, the Chamber of Commerce, the fraternal order—and every real business factor in the town and country.

The Chautauqua is a community college. If education is profitable, if culture is desirable, if morals pay, if clean entertainment is preferred, if progress beats stagnation, if our community really cares for the choicest things the times afford—we must boost the Chautauqua.

Business is not altogether a question of dollars. It is equally a question of enlarged community life and co-operation—whatever keeps your town on the map.

The Chautauqua is a matter of city and county concern. The vacation periods of many people are being determined so as to not interfere with Chautauqua week enjoyments.

Playground Workers on Redpath Chautauquas

The children's hour work is an important part of the Redpath Chautauqua community service. The work is in charge of one of the capable young women shown in the picture above. She meets the children daily in the Chautauqua tent and entertains them delightfully by story telling and the teaching of songs and folk dances.

This year the feature of the children's hour work will be the presentation by the children of the community under the direction of the children's worker, of a pageant entitled "The Good Fairy Thrift." Special costumes will be provided by the Redpath management.
