OVER THE ALPS IN TANKS

French People Employing Weapons of Warfare in a Rather Novel Manner.

France's task of beating swords into plowshares included the conversion of tanks into something having peace-time value. Some have been employed for towing canal barges, others have become agricultural tractors; others have made their way into the factory, where they carry loads from place to place. But the most novel conversion is no doubt that of the mountain-climbing tanks, now available to tourists of the French Alps of Savoy. Shorn of its coat of armor and its fighting equipment, the tank-boils down to a very powerful caterpillar tractor. Provided with seats so arranged as to get the most seating capacity of a given floor space, it becomes an excellent passenger-carrying vehicle for traversing rough terrain. Indeed, in the mountain-climbing the service tanks are called upon to cross brooks, uneven grounds, logs, brush, tall grass, and so on, not to speak of the steepest rises.

SPINNER'S GOOD YEAR.

The year 1918 was an extremely profitable one for the spinning industry in Japan and, owing to favorable business conditions, it became more firmly entrenched as the leading manufacturing industry of the country. At the end of 1918 there were 177 mills in this district operated by 43 companies, with a combined subscribed capital of $96,438,000, of which $69,247,000 was paid up and reserve funds amounting to $16,213,050. The 177 mills contained 3,175,768 ring spindles, 51,910 mule spindles and 40,391 looms. They consumed 853,288,000 pounds of raw cotton and turned out 740,883,000 pounds of yarn, 84,883,000 pounds of lint, and 5,204,000 pounds of waste. They employed 27,043 male operatives, earning average daily wages of 33.2 cents, and 99,664 female operatives, earning 21.6 cents.

PIANO'S GOOD POINTS

Bacon—I understand you have a piano?
Egbert—Yes; can you hear it up in your apartment?
"No, we cannot. I suppose there are other good points about it, too?"
—Yonker's Statesman.

RATHER APPROPRIATE.

"Pa, what's a dud?"
"Dud," my son, was a term used during the recent war to signify a shell that failed to explode."
"Yes, pa."
"And I dare say it will be applied quite often this year to statesmen whose presidential hopes fail to materialize."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

SUDDEN PROSPERITY.

"They tell me," said the foreign visitor, "that your country is overrun with the newly rich."
"So it is," replied the American host. "I've seen pearl necklaces on necks that a few years ago were none too well acquainted with soap and water."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

THE LURE.

"A week ago the proprietor of that soda fountain was on the verge of bankruptcy, and now he is getting rich."
"How come?"
"He put latticed swinging half-doors in front."—Judge.

INVOLVED.

"His sentences are terribly involved, aren't they?"
"Very. They read almost as though they had been written by the man who got up the income tax forms."

To Have Richland Roads

The state highway commission, at its second meeting in Columbia Tuesday afternoon, approved request for federal aid to the extent of $90,532 to apply on the paving of the highway between Columbia and Camden, approved federal aid for four miles of road across a corner of Lexington county and put into final shape the plan for four division engineers in the state, each to have charge of the highway work in from ten to fourteen counties.

The Richland county project approved Tuesday marks the beginning of the paved system in the county. The county commission and Capt. Pennel, who has been selected as engineer for the Richland highway system, have begun this week the survey of this first road between Columbia and Camden, and part of the recent two million dollar issue and the $90,532 request approved Tuesday will go to the paving of this road. The paving will be done between Columbia and the county line.—Columbia Record, May 12.

Just a Reminder.

"The Grabcoins are spending the winter in Florida," remarked Mrs. Dubwaite, who was glancing over the society pages.

"Well, what is that to us?" asked Mr. Dubwaite, fretfully. "We can't afford to spend the winter in Florida."

"Probably not," answered Mrs. Dubwaite, with an air of resignation. "I just thought I'd call your attention to the fact that it is still being done."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Strange Character.

"How about Glibwitz?"
"In what respect?"
"His mentality?"

"Oh, I wouldn't go so far as to say Glibwitz' mind is a perfect blank, but I've never heard him express an opinion on the League of Nations, and he has no plan for unscrambling the railroads."—Birmingham Age-Herald.

Special Steels add Life to the MAXWELL

These steels are the product of the highly developed Maxwell laboratories, where steels have been studied, analyzed and tested for years.

They are made to Maxwell's own formulae and enable the Maxwell to stand punishment that few cars can meet successfully.

They lessen the task of the engine and make it more responsive, quicker in action and a delight to handle.

These are some of the virtues which have won friends for the Maxwell in ever increasing numbers and give it a longer life than many cars of higher price.

Today there are approximately 400,000 Maxwell's on the world's highways. The year 1920 will add 100,000 more.
