FUEL FAMINE FOR SOUTH.

Former Fuel Administrator Alarmed Over Present Situation.

Columbia, S. C., July 12.—A winter of misery to the people of South Carolina will be experienced because of the fuel shortage, unless something can be done to alleviate the condition, is the substance of a letter from B. B. Gossett, of Anderson, former fuel administrator for this state, to Governor Cooper.

The letter was dated June 30, and suggested the governor calling a tri-state conference, to be participated in by the governors of South Carolina, North Carolina and Georgia, and other representatives to consider the situation.

"Whereas coal is in the greatest abundance during this period of the year, it is with the utmost difficulty that the industrial establishments are now securing a sufficient amount of this fuel," according to the letter of Mr. Gossett. Aside from this, he contends, the coal prices are absolutely prohibitive, ordinary coal selling around from $9 to $10 a ton at the mines, which he says means from $13 to $14 delivered.

He is doubtful if any dealer in the state has as much as a two weeks' supply ahead, including coal which has not been shipped and will not be shipped under contract. This condition, according to Mr. Gossett's diagnosis of the economic situation, is almost wholly due to the shortage of coal cars in this section. He asserts that a large part of the fuel needs of this state supplied by the shipments over the Carolina, Clinchfield and Ohio railway, and the supply of the mines supplying this line, has become diminished at least one-half because of the lack of coal cars.

To cope with the situation, Mr. Gossett suggests that a conference of the governors of South Carolina, North Carolina and Georgia be called to meet together with a committee from this state to be selected by Governor Cooper.
