

Social and Personal News

By Miss Louise Nettles

The Sergeant's Wall.
Where are the girls that used to smile,
And the rides I used to get
And where is the crowd that was so proud,
To pass me a cigarette?
Time was when I danced with maiden
And captured hearts by storm,
But I've lost my pull with the beautiful,
Since quitting the uniform.

I've sunk my shoes into the Turkish rugs
That only the rich can own,
At tables fine I have been asked to dine,
In the heart of the social zone,
In the cushions deep of a limousine,
I have rested my manly form;
But I've lost my graft with the tony
craft,
Since quitting the uniform.

I've been a king on the ballroom
floor,
An ace in the social whirl,
I could show my face in any old place
And never a lip would curl,
I could walk right up to a rich
man's door,
And be sure of a welcome warm,
But I've changed a lot and they know me not,
Since quitting the uniform.

Now, I walk down, and the autos
pass by,
And nobody says "get in."
And the girls are shy, when I'm standing by,
And give me the tilted chin,
And nobody knows and nobody cares,
Whether I eat, or how,
I must buy my own chuck, for I'm
out of luck,
I'm wearing the "civvies" now. — Ex.

Miss Watkins Complimented.
A lovely party of the week was given at the home of Mrs. D. D. Parish, with Misses Phoebe Oswald, and Nancy Carroll as hostesses and Miss Willie Watkins, a popular bride-to-be as guest of honor. The rooms were bright and sunny with goldenrod mingling in profusion with forest greens. The two hostesses with Mrs. Parish and the guest of honor received, and the entire afternoon was marked by delightful informality. Miss Catherine Wallace was the fairy who showered favors upon the fortunate guest of honor, by bringing in a basket that was a typical daisy. The bride-to-be was asked to "try her fortune," by counting the white petals, and to each petal a lovely reminder of the occasion was tied with a yellow ribbon—gifts of love and good wishes from the friends present. Dainty refreshments were served in which the wedding colors of yellow and white were artistically carried out.

Married.
Mrs. Daisy Griggs and Mr. James Vanford, both of Camden, were married on Monday, the Rev. M. M. Benson performing the ceremony.

Mr. and Mrs. Stackhouse Complimented
Mr. and Mrs. Stanly Llewelyn entertained at three tables of bridge Wednesday evening in compliment to Mr. and Mrs. Stackhouse of Boston who have come to make their home in Camden. A pretty color scheme of blue and pink was successfully carried out in the decorations, refreshments etc. The severe prize, a growing plant tied with dainty blue ribbons was won by Mrs. H. K. Hallett. After cards, the hostess served ice cream and cake.

In Memoriam
Once more we are brought face to face with the inevitable, in the death of another member of our Society. Therefore be it resolved:
1st. That in the passing of Mrs. Ella Zemp Rankin, we have lost a long and faithful member of the Woman's Foreign Missionary Society.
2nd. While we mourn with profound sorrow the loss of our friend we will in humility bow to the will of Him, who can not err.
3rd. We extend our deepest sympathy to her bereaved family, may these resolutions be transmitted to the family of the deceased, and a page in our minute book be dedicated to her memory.

Meeting of D. A. R.'s

Mrs. Mary A. Shannon was a gracious hostess to the above chapter for the October meeting and an invitation to that charming home is always an assurance of a pleasant afternoon. The regent, Miss Minnie Clyburna presided, and the secretary, Mrs. Muller read minutes of last meeting. The expense budget for the incoming year was made and the chapter decided to become a Founder for Thomasse School. Each chapter in the State has been asked to secure five founders and at present Hobkirk Hill has only two. It cost $100 to be a founder payable in 4 years. Mrs. John S. Lindsay and Miss Lella Shannon were appointed on a committee to solicit funds from Hobkirk Hill. Delegates to the D. A. R. State conference which meets in Anderson in November, and were as follows: Miss Minnie Clyburna, regent; Mrs. E. C. vonTresckow, regent's alternate; Mrs. H. O. Carrison, delegate; Mrs. Edwin Muller, alternate. The social hour was very pleasant and delicious refreshments served by Misses Lella and Charlotte Shannon. Mrs. Edwin Muller will be hostess for the November meeting.

Meeting of the Civic League.

The League met Monday afternoon at the Library, and the attendance was unusually large, interested, and apparently enthused. The president, Mrs. Edwin Muller presided, and the secretary, Miss Louise Nettles read minutes of last meeting.

Mrs. Muller gave a short, but interesting report from the recent district conference of Federated Clubs, which met in Wainsboro, and Miss Minnie Clyburna who represented the Library Association, told that she was very proud of the fact that Camden had led in its contribution to the fund in the campaign for, "Books for Everybody." The committee reported that while considerable work had been done there is still much to do and it is hoped that the citizens will co-operate with the League in this matter and save the beautiful trees of which Camden is so justly proud. This committee consists of the following ladies: Mrs. E. C. vonTresckow, chairman; Mesdames, James Bufus, J. W. Corbett, J. T. Mackey, C. M. Coleman, and Miss Minnie Clyburna. The visiting and Hospital committee is composed of the following ladies: Mrs. J. S. Rhame, chairman; Mesdames William Shannon, G. G. Alexander, J. T. Villepique.

The feature of the afternoon was the splendid talk given by Mr. Ewing, of Boston, who is here in the interest of the Chamber of Commerce. He spoke of the modern chamber and woman's responsibility from the standpoint of health, morality, beauty, and made a wonderful plea for membership. The applicant for membership should have an unselfish motive, for the benefit to be derived from the organization is indirect. A prosperous community brings prosperity to all, collectively and individually, and for that reason we should have co-operation, so that "The Horn of Plenty" may be full in our town and county, and our people happy and prosperous. The Chamber of Commerce, if successfully organized and launched, will be a mighty factor in bringing about this state of affairs.

An invitation to a woman's meeting at the High School Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock was extended by Mrs. N. R. Goodale, chairman of the meeting called.

Mr. Ewing extended an invitation to the ladies of the League to a dinner, Monday evening, the 25th. We know that the women of Kershaw county cannot be excelled in patriotism and loyalty and we trust that many of them may respond to the plea for membership even if they must make a sacrifice to do so.

As there was no further business the League adjourned to meet on the second Monday afternoon in November at the Library.

Acknowledged With Thanks.

In behalf of the Hampton Portrait Committee I desire to acknowledge with thanks the hearty co-operation given us by Mr. J. Gardner Richards and the teachers of the Camden High and Grammar Schools. These teachers are 100 per cent loyal in patriotism and make a hearty and generous response to every worthy call for aid. They are instilling into the young hearts and minds entrusted to their care, high ideals and a love for the noble, true and brave.

It was Disraeli who said, "Nurture your minds with great thoughts, to believe in the heroic makes heroes." That they were told about this great South Carolina hero, is quite evident, for nearly five hundred children contributed to the fund. We thank each child and know that they will be proud to have part in this work so soon to be brought to completion by the South Carolina Division U. D. C. The Camden School gave $20.75. We have not heard from the county schools yet, but hope to have a fine report from them next week.

Cordially,
Miss Louise Nettles.

A fight in the court room between two Columbia lawyers, John T. Duncan, off-time candidate for governor and John Hughes Cooper, young and successful member of the Columbia bar, was the sensation in law circles Tuesday afternoon in the capital city.

Mr. Cooper as attorney for the plaintiff in the case of Wessinger against Duncan, in which John T. Duncan was being sued for recovery of certain trust funds alleged to have been retained by him as attorney's fees when they should have been returned to the plaintiff.

Mr. Duncan had finished arguments in his own behalf in which he dealt in personal remarks aimed at Mr. Cooper. Mr. Cooper followed him, and in his speech he referred in unmistakable terms to Mr. Duncan alleging irregularity in Mr. Duncan's handling of the trust funds.

Mr. Duncan asked the court to stop Mr. Cooper's remarks. Judge Whaley replied that Mr. Duncan had said similar things about Mr. Cooper and he felt that he should be allowed to reply in like manner. Mr. Cooper proceeded, and Mr. Duncan reached for a desk file and with this he struck Mr. Cooper in the head.

Mr. Cooper jumped on Mr. Duncan and the two had it out for several minutes. Mr. Duncan had Mr. Cooper around the neck and was striking him on the head with the file, when other attorneys present separated them. Mr. Duncan was fined $25, with the option of spending 24 hours in jail. He paid the dollars. The fight took place in the Richland county county court.
