Have You Heard The South A-Calling

Have you plucked the sunny daisies in the spring?
Then the memory of their sweetness yet must cling
To the past with all its treasure—
To the Past's untainted pleasure
That in your soul forevermore will sing.

Have you watched the snowy daisy-fields at night?
Every stem with white of gold and pearls white,
With the moon-light on them streaming
And half the stars a-dreaming,
And love beside you walking in the light.

Have you heard the mock-bird singing soft and low?
In the stillness of the night-time singing slow
With a harvest-moon a-clinging
To the sky where stars are flinging
Worlds of light because they love the daisies so.

Then you've heard the South a-calling in the Spring
When crowns comes a blooming dainty thing;
No matter where you wander
Of these memories you'll ponder
When you hear the South a-calling in the Spring.

Pittsburg, Jan. 21.—The Allegheny county court in an opinion made public today dismissed a suit in which the court was called upon to decide if the population of China exceeded 400,000,000. The suit was brought by Gragich Czajins against Alderman William Kroger to recover $90. Czajins charged that Kroger, stakeholder, permitted Mike Babich to collect the money before official figures on China's population had been secured. The suit was dismissed when the court ascertained that no official census of China had ever been taken.

Services at Mt. Moriah.

It was our privilege and pleasure to attend the fifty-fifth anniversary services at the colored Baptist church last Sunday afternoon, and to hear a very good and helpful address by the Rev. Richard Carroll which contained sound and practical advice to his people, of which he is an able leader. But the most interesting and touching part to us was the song service, the old plantation melodies sung by the negroes, as only their race can sing them. Listening to the weird and mournful tunes memory carried us back to old plantation days and to the uncles and aunts of our childhood. With what romantic interest their lives were invested and how it deepens with the lapse of years; God bless the old-time slave! He was a true and faithful friend; true to his master; true to his children and his children's children unto the third and fourth generation! Their tongues have immortalized the nursery rhymes that are dear to every Southern heart. They knew the language of the birds and flowers; they conversed with all the dwellers of the forest and knew their speech by heart and we remember the irresistible charm of their bed-time stories. Perhaps there was not a native but could have joined in those un-forgotten songs and lived again in fancy days of childhood.

There were only four of the original church members living. And their weary feet are brushing the dew on Jordan's bank and their ears catch the faint murmurs of the breakers on the shore. May they find a shallow ford: And in the language of another, "May their golden dreams of golden slippers of golden streets, of golden harps, and of golden crowns, of which they have sung, become a golden reality."

D. A. R.'s To Meet

The above chapter will meet at the home of Mrs. G. E. Taylor, Thursday, February 3rd at 4:30 p. m. The hostess joins the chapter Regent in extending a cordial invitation to all members of this organization in the county and also to all the D. A. R. members among our tourist friends to be present at this meeting. Visiting members of this historic organization will no doubt be pleased to attend a meeting in old Camden, a battle-field of the Revolution, and they are cordially invited to do so. Mrs. Taylor's home is 1701 north Broad street.

Mr. John J. Workman Dead.

After a short illness in a Charleston hospital, Mr. John James Workman, of this city, died Saturday afternoon. He was taken suddenly ill only a few days previous to his death and his death came as a surprise. He had recently recovered from pneumonia.

Mr. Workman had been prominently identified with the business life of Camden since a young man. For a number of years he was book-keeper for the late P. T. Villepligue. Later he was manager of the Camden Press Brick company and still later he was manager of the Wateree Cotton Mill of this city. For several years he conducted the Workman Wholesale Grocery, and at the time of his death was engaged in buying cotton.

Mr. Workman was twice married and is survived by his last wife and several children by his first marriage. He also has a large family connection. The body was brought to Camden and the funeral services were conducted from the Presbyterian Church on Monday by Dr. Edwin Muller, assisted by Rev. F. H. Harding, and the interment was at the Camden cemetery.

Kirkwood Book Club Met.

Mrs. J. Gardner Richards was a gracious hostess to the Kirkwood Book Club last week. The club decided to read Barrie's plays, and the readers appointed for this meeting were Mrs. Edwin Muller, Mrs. J. B. Zemp and Mrs. J. G. Richards. The list of books for the year has been ordered. The hostess served dainty refreshments at the close of the meeting.

He is a Good Sleeper.

George Wells, who has been employed in Efrid's Department Store as deliverman, was found taking shoes from the store Monday and hiding them behind the store, where they could be removed at will. The manager of the store had him arrested and confined in the guard house. He went to sleep Monday afternoon about six o'clock and Tuesday morning the officers found it impossible to awake him. Two physicians were summoned and they, too, failed to arouse him. He was shaken, tickled and put through a number of tests but all to no avail. One of his colored friends stood his head and he was removed to his home on Railroad avenue. He awoke Wednesday afternoon apparently none the worse for his long sleep.—Sumter Herald.

Saturday morning, January 29th at 10 o'clock the Majestic Theatre will run a Special Show, presenting Mary Pickford in "Hilda From Holland," the entire receipts which will go to the Relief Fund for Starving Babies in Europe. Everybody should attend this performance. This will in no way conflict with the regular Saturday show which starts as usual at 2 p. m.

Officers Elected.

At a recent joint meeting of the Kershaw Guards Corporation and the Kershaw Guards military Company the following Officers for the Corporation were elected: E. C. von Tresckow, President; J. E. Campbell, Vice President; L. T. Mills Secretary and Treasurer. The officers with Captain A. M. McLeod and John T. Mackey Jr., form the board of directors. The Constitution was also changed so that besides the members of the Military Company and those former members of the Company who had served with it for more than ten years, also any former member of the Kershaw Guards can, if elected, become a member of the Corporation.

The Corporation was formed in 1910 to secure and maintain an armory for the Military organization, and it is hoped that the extended membership will create an increased and helpful interest in military organization in town and County. Already a number of men have requested to be recruited. The Kershaw Guards Company recently re-organized thus starts out with bright prospects. Captain McLeod states that the attendance at drills has been fine and that the men show great enthusiasm.

A committee of the Kershaw Guards Corporation, consisting of L. T. Mills, E. C. von Tresckow and A. M. McLeod, is looking for a suitable lot or building for an armory.

Next Thursday, February 3rd for special presentation at the Majestic Theatre will be Cecil B. DeMille's wonderful picture "Something To Think About." Never was a picture more truly titled. One of the finest vital documents of real life the screen has ever known. A drama that is tense a story teeming with events drawn from human life, told clearly, swiftly and impressive in an absorbing manner.

Entire Family Perish

Washington Court House, Ohio, Jan. 23.—Six members of the family of James Adkins, living 14 miles north of here, were burned to death early this morning when fire destroyed their home. Adkins was fatally burned.

The fire followed the explosion of a coal stove into which adkins poured kerosene onto the hot coals in an effort to start it quickly.

The dead are: Mrs. James Adkins, 30; Grace Adkins, 14; Leona Adkins, 11; Naomi Adkins, 1; Freeda Adkins, 3 weeks; Walter Bennett, 70; uncle of Mrs. Adkins.

Something To Think About, is a play that you will think about. See it at the Majestic next Thursday.

Heavy Sleet Storm

Much to the delight of young folks and much to the disgust of the older folks citizens awoke Wednesday morning to find the ground covered with a mantle of sleet. The fall kept up during the day and by night it had covered the ground to a depth of more than two inches. Trees and limbs were broken down and in several instances telephone and electric light poles were broken down, causing a slight amount of damage, but aside from a few tele-phones out of commission there has been no serious interruption.

The Columbia State of yesterday says:

Wrapped in a blanket of snow, sleet and frozen rain the northern and central portions of South Carolina are in the grip of the first general storm of the winter. Snow and sleet began falling early yesterday morning and continuing intermittently throughout the day, soon covered houses, buildings, trees and wires to depths ranging from three and one-half to four inches in the Piedmont to two inches in Florence, in the heart of the Pee Dee, from where it gradually dwindles off toward Lake City, where freezing weather, but no snow or sleet, were reported.

The rain and sleet which cling to the trees and telephone, telegraph and power lines has crippled service throughout the state. Columbia appears to be the focal point of the wire trouble, the rain, which accompanied the sleet, freezing almost immediately to weigh down the trees and wires beyond the breaking point. In the northern section of the state the snow and sleet caused few breaks and telephone and telegraph service is being maintained. South of Columbia the flurry of sleet and snow was not enough to cause trouble.

Football Team Banqueted.

The football fans of Camden gave a banquet Friday night January 21st at the Commercial Hotel to the Camden High School Foot-Ball Team of 1920 which had finished its season with a most enviable record. Practically the entire squad was present, and also a number of business men who thoroughly enjoyed being with the boys to say nothing of the splendid turkey dinner.

Just before going to the dining room the members of the squad cast their votes for a Captain and a Manager for the 1921 team. The results were announced by Mr. Richards as soon as

Garage Changes Hands.

Mr. W. O. Hay, who has owned and operated Hay's Garage on Lower Main street for a number of years, has leased his property to Mr. W. C. Scarborough, of this city, who will conduct the business, but will remain in Camden. He wishes through these columns to thank his many friends and patrons in Camden and the county who have given him a generous portion of their business in the future. For the present Mr. Hay will not enter the automobile business and wishes to ask that they continue their patronage with Mr. Scarborough, who he feels certain will give them the same good service that this shop has always afforded.
