By Miss Louise Nettles

Virginia
Shall I compare her with the rose
In my delightful garden grows,
Or lilies, that in brave array
Lift up their darling buds today?
Alas, they fade in fragrant air,
These gems the sunrise found so fair!
The myrtle blossoms kiss her feet,
She is so sweet, she is so sweet,
And lilies of the valley rest
Against the heaven of her breast.
O, Love Supreme! in thy dear arms
Forgotten are the flower's charms,
My rose-embroidered pathway lies
Through the enchantments of thine eyes.

Tea At Holly Hedge
The ladies of the Hospital Auxiliary are again to be congratulated upon the complete success of another delightful entertainment. Beautiful Holly Hedge was opened to the public Saturday afternoon by the courtesy of Mr. and Mrs. Bull, and for the benefit of the Camden Hospital.

It would indeed be hard, with a limited flow of language to describe these lovely gardens. Like flowery Japan, which we imagine ever wreathed in wisteria blossoms, as we see them twining about the screens and drawings that come to us from that far away land. We see it at Holly Hedge beautifully trained, with its myriads of close bunches of purple flowers, a charming thing, whose day among the petted darlings of the garden has indeed come. The rosy, pink azaleas are just beginning to bloom, and the judas tree, or red-bud, with its close-set blossoms heighten the effect of the snowy bridal wreath. And these early flowers are only the prelude in the floral drama that reaches its climax a little later when the azaleas bloom in profusion, and the pink and white dogwood is in blossom; when each bush has its own color. One clad in crimson bloom and another a blaze of scarlet; one in orange yellow, and another blossoming with the gold of the lemons. One catches through the verdant hedges, and over hanging boughs, shades of pink, and elusive pale-rose tints. The house is like a picture, retaining the beauty and quaintness of ante-bellum days.

Tea was served in the dining room; with Mrs. William Shannon, Mrs. Henry Savage, and Mrs. Robert Marrye presiding. A number of Camden ladies passed the dainty refreshments. Many enjoyed the terraced walk to the lake, that has romantic interest to some, and historic interest to all. Over its clear waters the white swan gracefully glided, and the tall pines that fringe its borders shed their fragrance everywhere.

Yes, the tea was a social success and a financial gratification.

Clothed in Beauty.
The great and glorious thought of the resurrection will be emphasized in all the services at the Baptist Church on Sunday.

To begin with the Sunday School is planning to have one hundred per cent present in all departments and classes. The lessons are in keeping with the outstanding message of the day.

The pastor will preach on the theme as set forth above: "Clothed in Beauty."

The evening service will re-enforce and set forth in song the message of the morning.

All persons who rejoice in the hope of the resurrection are welcome to worship with us on Sunday at either, or all the services.

Meeting of Library Association.

The above Association met at the Library Monday afternoon Mrs. E. C. von Tresckow presiding. The librarian's report showed that the following gifts had been received; one complete set of Dickens, with the exception of one volume, from a gentleman in Philadelphia through Mrs. Merrick; twenty-five books from Miss Perkins of Massachusetts; one juvenile book from Fay Kirkland; three juvenile books from Jack Nettles, 2 new fiction for rent shelf from Mrs. Tunis; one new fiction from Mr. Stewardson, a guest at Court Inn; "Women of the South in War Times," from the John D. Kennedy Chapter, U. D. C. The report also showed that inability to make the Library comfortable in extremely cold weather, and holding meetings during Library hours had interfered seriously with tourists patronage this season. Mr. Wittkowsky moved that steps be taken during the summer to drain cellar, so that water could not reach the furnace; motion carried and beginning next fall, arrangements will be made for meetings so that they will not interfere with Library hours.

The painting is to be done at once, the Library to be turned over to the painters, Friday noon, March 25th, closed Saturday, and Monday to complete the work. After this the room committee of which Mrs. Dunn is chairman will give the Library a thorough cleaning, and make it ready for the distinguished visitors expected here this Spring. Miss Nettles will represent the Library in the State Federation; as the president's appointee; Miss Minnie Clyburn is the delegate, and Mrs. William King the alternate. Miss Clyburn announced that she would have the book for the Industrial schools ready by next meeting. The following books have been purchased for the free shelves, by the president with funds given her by friends, "Voice in the Rice," by Morris; "Lady Baltimore," by Weister; "The Woman Rice Planter." Other southern books, or rather South Carolina books will be purchased from the same fund. The annual election of officers followed and resulted in the choice of Mrs. E. C. von Tresckow, president; Mr. L. T. Mills, vice president; Mr. L. A. Wittkowsky, treasurer; Miss Louise Nettles, corresponding and recording secretary; Mr. H. G. Carrison, Jr., auditor; Mrs. Margaret C. Miller was made a member of the book committee, which is composed of the following—Mrs. William King, chairman; Mrs. A. C. Ancrum, Mrs. William Shannon, Mrs. Bratton de Louche, Mr. L. T. Mills, Mrs. E. C. von Tresckow, Miss Louise Nettles, Mrs. M. C. Miller, Mr. William Shannon is still chairman of the executive committee. The treasurer made a very satisfactory report of the finances of the Library.

Play at Refuge Baptist Church.
The B. Y. P. U. of Refuge Baptist Church will give a play at the church, Friday night, April 1st, beginning at 8 o'clock. They will take a special collection for the benefit of the church which is not finished. The public is cordially invited.

HLA PITTS, President.

Easter Cake Sale
In the show window of the Camden Drug Company next Saturday afternoon, a number of beautiful cakes will be displayed and on sale. They are to be made by old cake-makers, and old cake-bakers, and as each one is contributed for a worthy cause, will be sold at a reasonable price. You could not do better than get one for your Easter Sunday dinner. If you wish a certain kind reserved for you, phone Mrs. W. J. Dunn, or Mrs. C. M. Coleman, committee on cake sale. The sale opens at 4 p. m. Saturday, March 26th.

There is well under way a movement for the transfer of Western Florida to Alabama by purchase.

PERSONAL MENTION.

Dr. Hemphill, of Louisville, Ky., was the guest last week of Dr. Muller.

Miss Mazie Herbert has gone to Greensboro, N. C., to visit relatives.

Mrs. John D. Miller, of St. Paul, Minn., is visiting her mother, Mrs. A. C. Ancrum.

Mr. G. T. Little, Jr., who has been attending school in Macon, Ga., is at home for a visit.

Miss Lucy Wray who is a student at Coker College is spending some time with Miss Loree Truesdale.

Mrs. E. N. McNelly, of Greensboro, N. C., spent several days last week with her mother, Mrs. Herbert.

Mrs. H. S. Zeigler and little Misses Mary McCants and Natalie McCants Zeigler are visiting in Florida.

"Passion," one of the pre-eminent motion pictures of the present cinematographic age. He sure to see it.

Mrs. George W. Brunson, and son George, Jr., are visiting the former's parents Mr. and Mrs. William Shannon.

Misses Corinne Lewis, Sadie Wilson, and Willie Belle Mackey, students at Coker College, are at home for the holidays.

Mr. G. C. Wood, of Virginia a veteran telegrapher, has taken charge of the Camden Postal Office, and promises good service to the wire-using public.

Mr. and Mrs. H. L. Schlosburg are visiting in Macon, Ga., this week. They went to attend a large reception and ball given in honor of Mr. and Mrs. Michael Kaplan.

Miss Blanche Tarrant is spending from March 25th to April 5th at Winthrop College. This is a meeting for all County Home Demonstration Agents of South Carolina to receive special instruction in Home Demonstration work.

Mr. Henry Everett, of Boston, was a visitor here last week. He is treasurer of a chain of mills controlled by Lockwood-Green Co., of which the Waterloo is one, and is well and pleasantly known in Camden, both in business and social circles. Mr. Everett was accompanied by his mother and brother, the party stopping at the Kirkwood.

Miss Ernestine Bateman is spending the Easter holidays at home. She has as her guest Miss Constance Pendleton who is also a student at Coker College.

"Passion"—Many cities are charging $2.50. It is being shown here for less. This is your last chance.

Mr. A. K. Blakeney has just returned from the Northern markets where he has purchased new spring goods for the Mens' Shop. Mr. Blakeney reports that merchandise is much cheaper now than has been in years in spite of the fact that all of wholesale houses are having a tremendous rush for Easter goods.

Easter Services at Grace Church.
Easter Day Services at Grace Church will be as follows. First Celebration and Easter Day Service at 11 a. m. There will be special music at this service. Easter Carol Service at 4:30 p. m. All are cordially invited.

Ticket Sellers Asked To Report.
Those who have taken charge of tickets to sell for "Passion" which is being shown at the Majestic Theatre for the benefit of our Chamber of Commerce, are asked to make a report of their sales not later than Saturday afternoon. Reports can either be made to Mrs. C. C. Ancrum, Miss Ethel Yates or C. P. McDaniel, secretary-treasurer of our organization. All those who are selling are requested to sell as many as they can before making a report. A crowded house witnessed the performances yesterday afternoon and last night and it is expected that the crowds will be much larger this afternoon and tonight. Performances today will be the same as yesterday, 3 p. m., 7 p. m., and 9 p. m., and if you have not seen this wonderful play, you should take advantage of this last opportunity. Our Chamber of Commerce is helping make Camden and Kershaw County a better place for us to live, so why shouldn't we help them. Come on, let's everybody go.

Makes Rapid Advance
Columbia friends of Robert E. Allen, a native of Greenville, who was a member of the music faculty of Chicora college for two years after that institution was moved to Columbia, will be interested to know that he has just been elected to the office of assistant treasurer of the Central Union Trust company of New York. This is the third largest trust company in the world and the fact that Mr. Allen will now be in charge of its Madison avenue branch indicates the importance of his new office.

Mr. Allen is a baritone singer of talent and fine training and he left Chicora to become a professional singer in New York. He soon, however, abandoned excellent prospects for a musical career to become a soldier in the world war. Upon his return from overseas, after having served for two years as a first lieutenant, he had the opportunity of procuring a position with the Central Union Trust company and, having had previous banking experience in Baltimore some years ago, he accepted it. His advance in just a year and a half is considered unusual.

Mr. Allen married Miss Ellen Douglas Boykin of Camden and the two visited Columbia a few weeks ago for a short stay.—Thursday's Columbia State.

An informal greeting or get-together meeting will be given the visitors at the Kirkwood the first night. On the second night a reception and garden party is to be tendered the visitors by the club women of Camden, the place to be announced later. We hope for one of Camden's beautiful show places. On this occasion the following ladies will form the receiving line: Mrs. William Shannon, Miss Louise Nettles, Mrs. Cora C. Ancrum, Mrs. W. J. Dunn, Miss Minnie Clyburn, Mrs. J. S. Rhame, Mrs. John S. Lindsay, Miss Ella Zemp, Mrs. Clifton McKahn, Mrs. Leroy Davidson, Mrs. T. J. Kirkland, Mrs. Manus Baruch, Mrs. L. A. Wittkowsky. The young girls of the city are asked to attend and assist in serving.

Ray—Shannon.
A marriage of state-wide interest was solemnized at St. James Episcopal church in Greenville at high noon Wednesday, when Miss Gertrude Eliza both Ray of this city became the bride of Mr. Dalton Kennedy Shannon of Atlanta, Ga. The marriage was a very quiet affair and only the two families and very intimate friends witnessed the ceremony, which was impressively said by Dr. Alexander Mitchell rector of St. James.

The bride was given in marriage by her brother Mr. B. B. Ray and the groom was attended by his best man, Mr. J. K. Shannon. The bride was becomingly dressed in a stylish tailleur of blue cloth with gray trimmings with this she wore a pretty hat in harmonizing color. Her corsage was roses and valley lilies.

Immediately after the ceremony the young couple left for a short wedding trip after which they will be at home at Marietta, Ga., where Mr. Shannon is engaged in business.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Shannon have numbers of friends in Greenville who are interested in their happiness. Mr. Shannon is originally from Camden, but made Greenville his home for several years before going to Georgia.

Some of the out of town visitors at the wedding were: Mr. and Mrs. J. K. Shannon, of Camden; J. K. Shannon, Jr., of New Orleans; Mr. Joseph B. Shannon, of Charleston; Mrs. Elizabeth E. Crawford, of Union; Mrs. Fannie Rosamond, of Miami, Fla.; Miss Maude Goforth of Union, Mr. James L. Ray of Laurens, and Miss Marie K. Shannon of Camden.

South Carolinians Were Victors
The annual triangular debate between the Universities of South Carolina, Florida and Tennessee, upon which Mr. G. H. Wittkowsky won a place, came off on Friday, the 18th resulting in a complete victory for the University of South Carolina. The affirmative team of the South Carolina University defeated the negative team of Florida at Knoxville, Tennessee, and the South Carolina negative, composed of Mr. G. H. Wittkowsky and W. F. Parker, defeated Tennessee affirmative team at Gainesville, Florida. The decision of the judges at Gainesville being unanimous, five to nothing.

This is the first time the University of South Carolina has won both sides of this annual triangular debate.

Mr. Wittkowsky received the following letter from the President of the South Carolina University in reference to the debate:

"March 19, 1921.
"Mr. George Wittkowsky,
"Camden.
"Dear Mr. Wittkowsky: I wish to congratulate you and Mr. Parker on your victory in Gainesville over Tennessee. I feel that you two gentlemen have conferred a distinction upon the University for which I thank you most cordially.
"Sincerely yours,
"W. S. CURRIEL,
"President."
Court Adjourned Yesterday.

The civil week of the Kershaw County court adjourned Thursday, at the noon hour. Only a very few cases came up for trial and the jurors were allowed to go home Thursday. The Butler Gay case, charged with murder, which was to have been taken up Monday was continued until a future term. One of the principal witnesses in this case was ill and could not appear.
